

Redondo City advocates welcome anti-city drive

by Loren Bliss

Some Redondo residents have formed the Anti-Incorporation Committee in an attempt to exclude themselves from the proposed city of Federal Way. But City Committee Co-chairman Harry Keinath said Thursday that incorporation advocates "tacitly welcome" the Redondo rebellion — primarily because the beachfront community has a history of demanding more governmental service than it can afford.

Redondoites, said Keinath, "exhibit a kind of egocentricity in their expectations. For example, when the city committee was meeting only a mile away at Sacajawea Junior High School, there were people in Redondo who claimed that the meetings were not convenient enough and were not adequately publicized. They suggested, in fact, that we should have posted notices at the Redondo Post Office."

There's no doubt, he said, that Redondo's sewage system, water supply, and roads need major improvements. "Relative to the rest of Federal Way the need is disproportionately high — which means that if Redondo becomes part of the city, it will probably receive more money per capita than any other part of the community. And this would be unfair to the rest of the citizens."

REDONDO HAS one of the county's most sophisticated community clubs, said Keinath, and their higher degree of community organization would probably give the neighborhood an edge in Federal Way City Council politics once Federal Way becomes incorporated. "So incorporation would mean a windfall of new revenues for Redondo," he said.

The problems in the community, Keinath said, result from King County's penchant to engage in "insensitive, illogical and possibly illegal planning — which has obliterated much of the community identity that existed even three years ago." Despite its community club, he said, "Redondo has suffered the same fate as all other King County residential areas. They have been ignored by a Seattle-dominated county council."

Keinath's remarks, which took many listeners by surprise, were spoken at a meeting of the Federal Way Community Council, as Keinath made a monthly report to the general membership on the progress of the cityhood campaign.

Shortly after Keinath spoke, another council member, a woman who has been soliciting signatures on pro-cityhood petitions in the Redondo area, said reports of the opposition were exaggerated. She said she had been canvassing the area for several days and, while encountering a number of persons who were undecided, had met no one who was adamantly opposed to cityhood.

Chamber Week

Tebeau sees political role for chamber

Tony Tebeau, president of the Greater Federal Way Chamber of Commerce, believes in a politically active chamber, one that works for local businesses and the community in general.

"The chamber has a committee that keeps in contact with the state legislature no less than once a week," he said, noting the organization's interest in business legislation.

He notes the Federal Way chamber is part of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce which has a business lobby in Washington, D.C.

Not a man to stand around, Tebeau actively campaigns for cityhood and the Festival in the Forest in addition to his regular job as branch manager for Pacific Bank.

He enthusiastically favors incorporation and says the chamber is actively working toward this goal.

"Local residents would have more self-control of community planning," said the nine year Federal Way resident.

Noting the increased growth of the area, Tebeau sees the community growing prosperous and with more residents moving in, "there will be more homes, shopping centers, cars and money."

At the present the chamber's second project is the Festival in the Forest. Tebeau said the festival would bring tourists from 47 states and 24 foreign countries.

Tony Tebeau

"Federal Way would need more tourist facilities and convention centers," he said. "But it would also give the area a non-polluting and profitable industry."

Presently he is actively seeking financial support and backing for the performing arts center.

"We are waiting for the state senate to pass the budget which includes some funding money."

He also visited the delegation of senators and congressmen in Washington, D.C. to get federal funding for the festival.

With 380 members, Tebeau cites, both large and small businesses can find a strong united voice in the community through chamber activities.

Aid sought for 'condo' victims

by Darlene Himmelpach

Tenants who were forced to move from the Maplewood Apartments in Federal Way because they were slated for conversion to condominiums may receive some compensation for the cost of relocation now that the owners of the complex have ruled out conversion.

Deputy King County Prosecutor Richard Elliott said Thursday the problem of "what to do about people who have left" is still unresolved. But he said he and the attorney for Bosa Brothers, the owners of the complex, are seeking a legal solution to the problem.

Bosa Brothers reversed the decision to convert following the adoption of a county ordinance giving legal protection to "victims" of condo conversion displacement. That law, adopted three weeks ago by the King County Council, orders owners of converting units to reimburse tenants who must move either $350 or two months rent, whichever is greater.

Maplewood residents were notified March 16 they had two weeks in which to decide whether to buy their units or be out by April 30. Many residents testified before the county they could not afford to buy their two or three bedroom apartments and, therefore, had to look for other

Power rate hike hurts

This family may not make it on their own

by Nathalie Weber

Sue Chapman may soon be forced to apply for food stamps to feed her family if she is required to continue to pay Puget Power's most recent rate increase.

Like thousands of low-income and elderly in South King County, Sue and her husband Bill cannot afford the additional $4 each month that Puget Power, the oligarchic supplier of electricity in the area, has tagged onto their bills. Realizing the burden the rate increase places on their already-strained income, Sue refuses to sit in the dark on the subject.

"They (Puget Power) are taking food out of my children's mouths," Sue, the mother of three, said last week. "It's going to cause some real problems—it's hard enough to buy clothes as it is."

So, deciding to put up a fight, Sue joined the area POWER—People's Organization for Washington's Energy Resources—in its crusade against the $32.6 million rate increase that has been in effect since March 20. She doorbells for the cause, distributes literature on the rate increase and Tuesday will go as far as masquerading as a light bulb at Puget Power's annual stockholders' meeting.

SUE WILL BE joined at that meeting by approximately 200 other objectors from inside Puget Power's service district. Although only a few chose to appear as light bulbs, their complaints are the same: the public should not be required to pay an electricity rate that includes costs usually covered by stockholders' resources.

Specifically the group is objecting to funding Construction Work in Progress (CWIP), an addition to the rate hike of $3.4 million that the public is being asked to pay. POWER, and its sister organization

FERN—Fair Electric Rates Now—contend that low-income households cannot absorb the cost of funding projects in the planning, projects that do not generate power now.

Julie Matuzak, a POWER organizer, said that requiring the public to pay for facilities that are only in embryonic stages is an unfair burden, especially to those in low-income brackets. What POWER is calling for Tuesday, Matuzak said, is a share in stockholder rights if the public is required to cover costs usually paid by stockholders.

WITH LITTLE MONEY to spare, Sue Chapman is concerned that the recent Puget Power rate increase will force her family to apply for food stamps. Her daughter, Patricia, pictured here, is only one of three mouths she and her husband must feed on their limited income and Sue sees feeding her children as more important than paying for power they are not receiving.

SUE CHAPMAN ALSO objects to seeing her husband's salary support Puget Power employees' memberships in athletic clubs when they can't afford to join such clubs—or even sit down to roast beef dinner once in a while.

"They (Puget Power employees) sit back and enjoy steaks every night but we can't even sit down to a halfway nice meal ever," she said. Her kindergarten-age daughter Patricia wandered into the small house's kitchen and returned displaying an empty TV dinner box. "This is what daddy had for dinner last night," Patricia said.

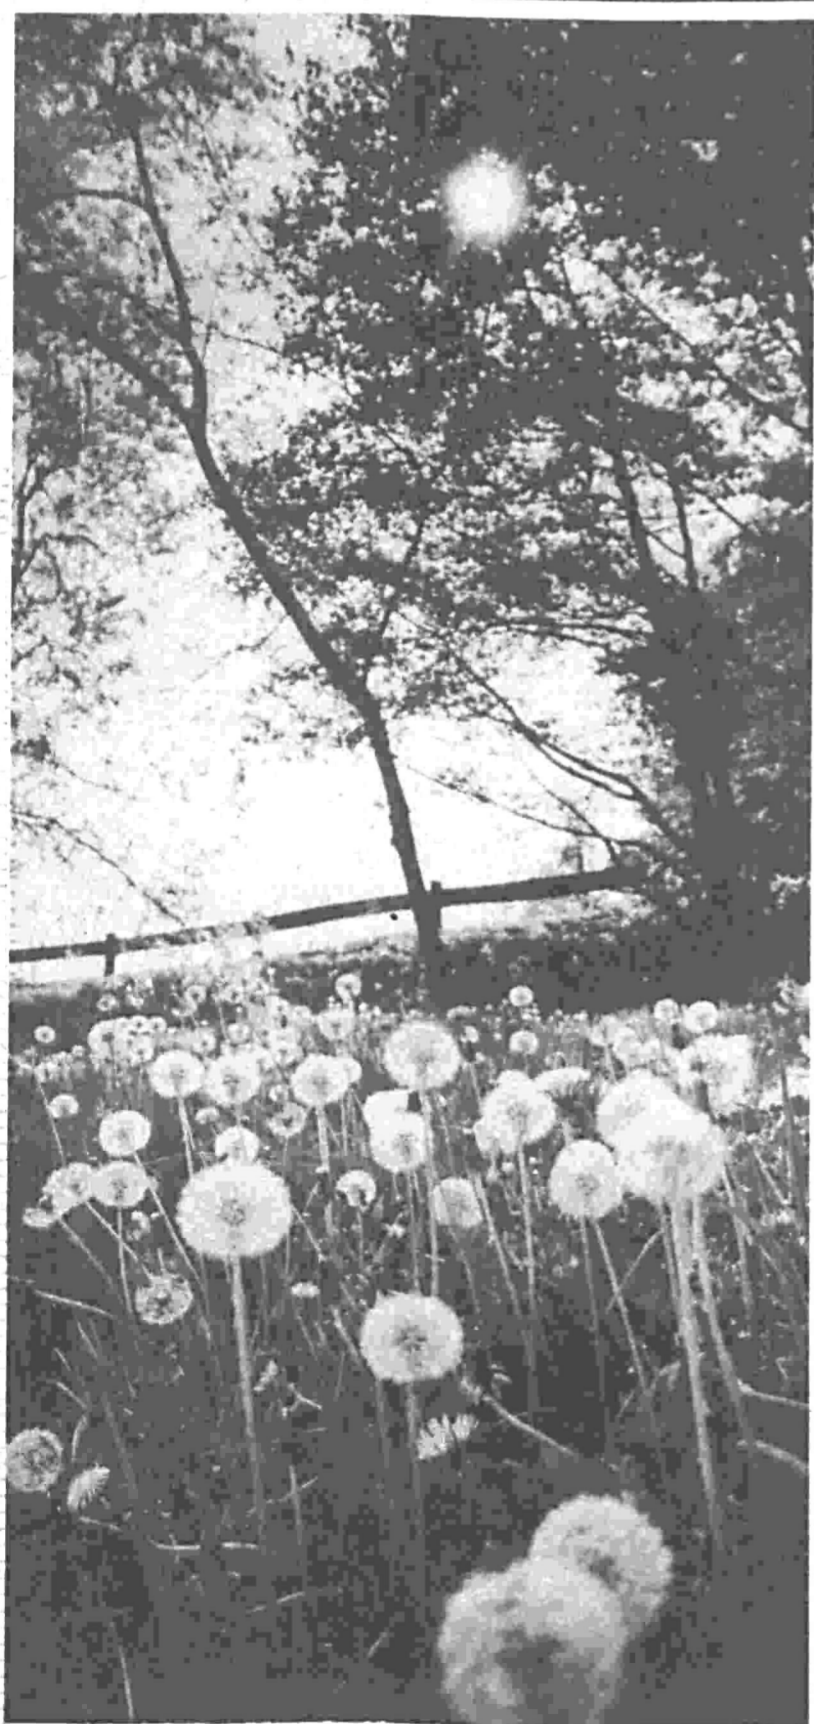

Coupled with other increasing costs, the Puget Power rate hike may likely force the Chapman's to seek public assistance merely to keep the cupboards stocked with TV dinner-style foods. The thought is not very attractive to Sue.

"We were on food stamps before for two years and now we've been off them for a year," she explained. "I feel strongly against welfare because it takes advantage of people. The system makes you beg like dogs."

The family already is trying to cut back on electricity so they at least have money to put gas in their one car in case of an emergency. Or to replace a worn-out pair of shoes. Or to repair a broken oven.

"We're asking Puget Power for equal rights," Sue said. "If we're paying stockholder costs, we should have a share in the profits. If not, we're paying for something we've never received and my family suffers because of it."

Smoke filled bathrooms are the pits

Corinne Beacham

I smoked in high school and I'm all for it. It's better than trying to smoke in the bathroom and having people getting burned. Besides, if you make it convenient, it can be supervised so they're not smoking other things besides cigarettes.

L.W. Karl

They have smoking rooms in the restrooms already. You see, the way they have it, they smoke in some of them and not in others so they already have smoking rooms. What else could they want?

Alisa Greathouse

I think it's a good idea. I give them a designated place to smoke and they don't have to do it on campus grounds. They're going to smoke one way or another and they can find someone to buy them.

Tan-Kuei Lou

You see my reaction? I don't think so. It's not good for you. It's bad for your health. Why should kids start at such an early age? Sounds strange for my ethnic background. People may not agree with me, they are getting modern, but that's the way I feel.

Edna Swieso and 'Petey' Pieterman

Caring is keyword for a volunteer

A lot of caring and a lot of patience are vital when you work with older people, some of whom are desperately ill. And those characteristics are just what Edna Swieso and Lorraine "Retey" Pieterman, long-time volunteers at Federal Way Convalescent Center have in abundance.

Edna started volunteering at the center in 1972; Petey has been each year and the money is turned into more materials to keep the activities going.

They were also quick to point out that "we can sure use anything that people can donate, including shells, beads, netting, scraps of material, felt, yarns, in fact just about anything that can be turned into something else."

Edna and Petey are particular-

Do you think students need a smoking room in highschools?

Ralph Wilcox

No way, because it's not good for you. I started smoking when I was 30 and that was soon enough. I stopped but started again when stress came along. It's like Eisenhower said, "I'd never do it again." "You mean start smoking?" "No, stop."

Kelly Carpenter

Definitely. I go to Federal Way High and I can't even get into the bathrooms. Kids are in there smoking. Bathrooms aren't even available anymore. They get mad if we want to get in there. A smoking room is really a good idea.

Cindy Hodgkin

I've been out of high school for 10 years but when I went in Maryland they had an area out by the city bus line. The kids liked it and you never saw anybody in the bathrooms. I'm impartial. If the parents are going to let them smoke, there's not much the school can do about it.

Terry Carlson

No, I don't think they should be allowed to smoke anywhere. I'm aware that they're smoking but I don't think it should be encouraged.

a volunteer since 1970, and both are still going strong. Both give their time to the activity department, a program that includes visits to the rooms of those confined to their beds, overseeing regular bingo games, arts and crafts and van trips outside the center.

Both agreed that the residents "get close to you. They get to be like family, and if one of them goes it's like losing a part of you. We even feel good when they complain or pay attention to their appearance because then we know they are still with us."

To keep the crafts program going, the women point out, the center's craftsmen have a sale ly proud of one of the residents who is taking part in the arts and crafts sessions - the woman is making shawls using her teeth and her one usable hand. "It sure makes you feel like you shouldn't complain. You really learn to appreciate a lot when you see these people accomplishing so much with what they've got."

If patience, love, a sense of humor and tact are a necessity, then Edna and Petey are generously gifted and every week they are sharing their gifts with those who need them. Their reward? "You don't need pay - you just know that you are needed."

The Modern Mom

by Betty Woolley

If there's such a thing as reincarnation I'd like to come back as a daffodil.

Everybody loves a daffodil. Its appearance announces spring and promises summer. From year to year the daffodil never changes. It arises from the same old bulb tucked into the earth, but the flower itself is always young, always fresh. The appearance of its blossom bears no relationship to the number of years its tuber has been underground.

A daffodil doesn't have to face the aging process. You never see a wrinkled daffodil. Its color doesn't fade, demanding synthetic assistance. It never needs a face lift and never has to watch its weight. It's slender, graceful and willowy; all the things I've always wanted to be. I'd truly like to be a daffodil.

In his book, "Slapstick," Kurt Vonnegut Jr. created a society where, at birth, everyone was assigned a middle name which attached him to a vast network of so-called relatives bearing the same name. That way, people would never be lonely, never be without family to share their joys and concerns. For his own middle name Vonnegut chose "Daffodil." To him it was the remedy for any possible loneliness, linking him to daffodils everywhere.

Back in the early 1800s William Wordsworth wrote a poem which began, "I wandered lonely as a cloud that floats on high or veils on hills, When all at once I saw a crowd, a host of golden daffodils. Beside the lake, beneath the trees, fluttering and dancing in the breeze..." It ends with: "But oft when on my couch I lie, in vacant or in pensive mood, They flash upon the inward eye which is the bliss of solitude, And then my heart with pleasure fills, And dances with the daffodils."

The four verses of that poem, which I memorized in school long years ago, are the words which I recite to myself at night when sleep evades me. A picture of yellow flowers, cupped in slim green leaves, haunts my mind and somehow soothes me into sleep. Perhaps it takes me back to a time when life was less complicated, less involved and infused with dreams of promising worlds to come.

The message of the daffodil is one of hope and persistence. I've seen the yellow flowers, looking strangely out of place, poking through the snow. The weather may attempt to defeat its progress, but the blossom, renewed and vibrant, flourishes anyway.

How great to be a daffodil, to be assured of a new life every spring.

Best words spell local 'Super Mom'

Those kids who still want to write a special "Why I Love Mother" letter to help their mom become "Super Mom" still have a chance before the May 4 deadline.

The best written letter for the May 13 contest will enable some child to heap mom with gifts including a dinner for the family at Black Angus on Mother's Day and a trip to see the Seattle Mariners baseball game on May 20.

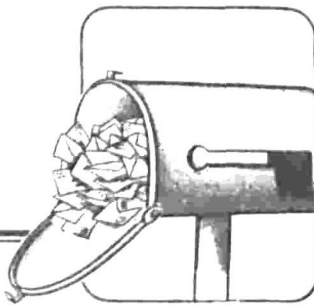

Kids, 6-12, should think of all the special things mom does for them during the year and put them in a note addressed to the Federal Boy's and girls Club at 30815 8th Ave. S. or drop it off at the club.

The contest is sponsored by the Federal Way and Des Moines Boy's and Girl's Clubs and the Federal Way News.

The winner will be announced on May 11 at 4 p.m.

School changes should be made simultaneously

Editor,
At this time, the Highline District School Board members are in the process of resolving the problem of timely and questionable closure of schools, namely Olympic Junior High and Manhattan and North Hill elementary schools. Also added is the burden of trying to cooperate with the Highline administrative staff and at the same time serve the citizens. These two groups appear to have opposing views.

In the past years, the pleas of keeping the schools open was from the parents and citizens near Glacier High School. (Incidentally this school is still open). Next year will the pleas be heard from still another group? Are the months from March through June of each school year for the next five years to become a time when energies of all concerned are used toward fighting unpleasant issues rather than toward attaining positive educational goals? Is it necessary to have only a month or two notice to prepare for the closure? I feel it is not.

The Highline School District has set the policies concerning open enrollment, special education and other matters which complicate the issue of closure. Now the district must live with these issues. The Highline budget is over $37 million. The closing in June of the three schools mentioned above would result in a "projected" savings of about $150,000. I feel that this mere amount is not worth the turmoil that the students, teachers and support personnel will be put through as a result of these closures.

The district is to go to a four-year high school in the 1980-81 school year. This is the time when all changes should be made "district-wide." The taxpayers have supported the schools by passing the levy. The taxpayers want the same consideration from the administrative staff and they want them to stop using our children as pawns.

(Editor's note: The school district has estimated it will save $240,000 a year if it closes the three schools next year.)

Pollution has solutions

Editor:
I feel pollution is a big problem. How can it be stopped? If people were more careful about where they throw their litter, the sidewalks would look a lot better.

Who causes pollution? Everyone. If people would stop driving cars when they could be walking, the air would be less polluted. If people work a long way from where they live, they could take the bus and save gas.

If everyone works together the problem would be solved.

Sincerely,
Colleen Moffat

Music in schools gone?

Editor:
Wake up Federal Way residents and realize what we are doing to our children. Music, what has happened to it? Slowly it has faded away in the schools with repeated levy failures.

Few are singing or playing musical instruments any longer. Basic education funding is not going to correct that.

Attendance at the Sunnycrest Talent Show Tuesday night really brought it home. Twelve out of 22 acts were dances to records of pop music, few of which involved any real dancing. The only instrumental music was piano and there wasn't a single vocal performance. This has to be a result of the lack of musical training in the schools.

How sad to see our school district, which had one of the finest programs in the state reduced to virtually no musical training in the elementary schools and very limited amounts in junior and senior high schools.

Not all parents can afford private lessons for their youngsters, which produced the fine acts of the trained performers in the Talent Show. How little it would cost each of us to return music to our schools and into the lives of our children for enjoyment in the future. Doesn't anybody out there care? Come on Federal Way residents. Let's do something about it.

DERBY, VINCE GIBSON nervously awaits his chance to race. A Federal Way resident until recently, he's been on the racing circuit for four years.

EXERCISING A THOROUGHBRED, Tom Dahlquist from Auburn keeps a tight head on the reins.

A barely suppressed excitement that promised to erupt within the day filled the air at the Longacres Race Track.

It was opening day and people and horses were obviously ready for action. Jockeys, dressed in brightly colored silks and quietly with one another discussing their chances.

Trainers, often riding one thoroughbred and leading another, galloped their horses around the track, trying to quiet their nervous and high strung mounts.

In the smoke-filled coffee shop, owners, trainers and gamblers sat huddled in small groups, talking in low tones among themselves.

Gesturing toward a multi-millionaire, trainer Tom McLaughlin, who stables 30 horses said "at the race track we all become equal." With a dry sense of humor he chuckled and added, "millionaires take the advice of people with holes in their head."

McLaughlin, who spends six months out of each year at his Redondo Beach home is obviously comfortable at the track. Laughing and joking he exchanges jokes and comments with friends, adding that "down here people don't agree and nobody cares."

Ready with three horses preparing to race opening day, McLaughlin's day gets an early start. Up at 4 a.m., he hits the track at 8 a.m. and supervises a crew of five who exercise, feed, and groom his stable of winners.

His horses, with imaginative names such as Windy Palm, Patient Princess, Angel Prophecy and Seafair Queen brought in a quarter of a million dollars last year. Valued at more than a half a million, they range between two and six-years-old.

HORSE RACING CAN be big business, especially if you own the fastest steed. Ginger Sauce, half-owned by his wife, earned a mighty $123,000 last year. He mentioned another horse, Power Pays, who brought in $33,000.

"We don't talk about the ones who didn't earn a dime," he said with a grin. The money is made, he said, when horses win. "I don't get too excited when they place," he said referring to the low purse size.

McLaughlin said he became interested in horses when he helped his horse-trading grandpa on his North Dakota ranch. After retiring from the army, he went to the track as a ticket seller. It wasn't long before he purchased and trained his own horse and wasn't doing too bad.

"Then a few personal friends asked me to train their horses so I opened a public stable and went into business," said McLaughlin who has been training and stabling horses in the business for the last 32 years.

He now shares his time between his horse ranch in Deer Park, Wash., 26 miles north of Spokane and the Longacres track where he is in his 11th year.

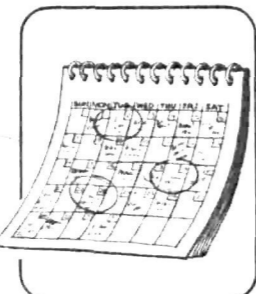

Down on the farm, where he quarters 40 horses it's like a recreation compared to the "hurry, hurry, hurry" atmosphere of the track. But that, he said, is what makes life interesting.

Does he bet? Maybe a few times a year, he said, and then it's on his own horses. At one time, he bet heavier but soon found that a trainer can't pick a winner any better than anybody else. "There are too many variables that can make the difference between a winning and losing horse," he said.

Crime report: Local dopers passing forged prescriptions

A number of forged prescriptions have been showing up at various drug stores in the South King County area, a county detective said Friday, and now police have a clue as to where they're originating.

Detective Carroll Dobransky, 3rd Precinct, said that a bunch of the blank forms were found in a copying machine at Highline Community College.

Dobransky said that the forged prescriptions, all of them for various drugs that can be used to get high, are on forms bearing the letterhead of a Tacoma dentist, a Federal Way dentist and a Kent physician.

He said that druggists filling prescriptions from any of the three, Dr. Joseph M. McNally, Dr. Henry D. Zegzula, and Dr. Charles A. Tedrick, should check with the respective physician if there is any question about the validity of the order.

COUNTY POLICE were prevented from investigating a curious incident involving a firearm Thursday afternoon because the complainant is afraid that the 16-year-old suspect in the case will retaliate against her or members of her family.

The incident, in which the complainant refused to press charges, began when a teenage terrorist pointed a rifle at her house and then aimed it at her son.

A few minutes later the youthful thug, now accompanied by two more terrorists, reappeared and repeated the act.

Because of the nature of the incident, addresses are being withheld. The police can do nothing unless the victim signs a formal complaint.

TWO BURGLARIES, both of them involving losses of about $500 apiece, were reported in Federal Way during the latter part of the week. In one incident, a fiberglass boat was stolen from a yard at an 8th Avenue South residence, while in the other, liquor and steaks were looted from a house on 52nd Avenue South.

Both incidents occurred on Wednesday. The steak and liquor theft occurred during daylight hours.

Highline conservatory searching for actors

Highline Summer Theatre and Conservatory running from June 13-28 and Shakespeare's p.m. at the Conservatory under the direction of Dr. Christina Taylor is looking for professional actors-in-residence.

Four people will be selected to play two lead roles in Noel Coward's "Hayfever," rehearsal week and closely with the conservatory students in a theatre workshop setting. Auditions are set for May 6 from 3-7 p.m.

For audition or further information, call 878-3710, ext. 341.

Department of Energy

Gas situation now serious

by Nathalie Weber

While the Federal Department of Energy appeared to waffle on the seriousness of the gas situation three months ago, it last week announced that conservation since that time has been notably inadequate and now classifies the problem as "serious."

Regional Representative of the Department of Energy Jack Robertson now is predicting that, if conservation of fuel is not increased, the nation could discover itself in the stronghold of a crisis similar to the Arab Embargo of 1973-74.

"Our assessment is that the demand for gasoline and diesel oil during May will outstrip the available supply by about 10 percent," Robertson told reporters Thursday. "During the Arab Embargo...the shortfall was about 15 percent."

The lack of a willingness to conserve, he said, is due largely to what he termed "public policy." The United States has been acclimated throughout the past few decades to gas prices that are lower than the world average. Now that the crude oil supply is more evenly distributed throughout the world, the United States must also pay world prices, which currently hover around $1 per gallon. "As soon as the prices here reach world prices, I think we'll see some conservation," Robertson said.

HE PREDICTS the situation will get worse throughout the summer, with the gas-availability flag system perhaps coming into wide use in the Northwest this month. Depending upon conservation efforts, this summer could also bring odd-even day gas sales and instigation of staggered work hours so that more mass transit could be used, Robertson said.

Rationing is not in the picture, however, and would be imminent only in the case of another political disaster, such as the loss of some 5.5 million barrels of daily Iranian gas production earlier this year.

Robertson stressed that the world market is continuing to tighten, citing last week's increase in crude oil cost by $1 per barrel. This usually designates that gas at the pump will jump about 2.5 cents, he said.

MOREOVER, THE SITUATION is festered by a need for increased production of home heating oil to keep the nation warm next winter. Such production of diesel oil cuts into refinement of gasoline, creating a more limited supply.

"So long as the OPEC (Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries) nations choose not to increase production to meet demand, the shortage will continue and prices will increase," Robertson warned. "There is only one response...that is for each and every one of us to conserve."

He reiterated President Carter's plea that Americans lower heating thermostats, obey speed limits, drive less, car pool and use mass transit systems.

"Some are conserving, but by far not enough," he chastised. "It is now serious."

Parents play key role as volunteers in Project Success

Parent volunteers at North Hill Elementary School are helping to make that school's Project Success a successful project.

Project Success addresses the needs of 18 fifth and sixth grade students at North Hill who have a degree of learning language disability.

For 55 minutes a day, these students leave their regular class and are taught by Jane Carter, a sixth grade teacher. Her regular class is temporarily taken by the other teachers.

The Project Success students were assigned to Mrs. Carter last fall on the basis of a standard test in the areas of spelling and reading.

"It wasn't that they couldn't read. It was just something there that wasn't clicking," said Mrs. Carter.

However, things are clicking much better now because of Project Success, said Mrs. Carter. She said five parent volunteers, Sally Messix, Carlotta Unser, Crystal Bullis, Marilyn Norin and Mavis LaBounty, deserve some of the credit.

They work from one to three days each per week and enable the class to have a student-teacher ratio of one to six or one to nine.

Mrs. Carter said that as early as the middle of October she saw a marked improvement among students in attitude and accomplishment within her class as well as in their other subjects. Two students advanced their grades from a D to a B average in basic subjects.

The 18-member class has made dramatic advances in reading level. According to Mrs. Carter, four students have advanced one level since last year, eight have moved up two levels, five have gone up three levels and one has advanced four levels.

The parent volunteers are not specially trained. They just follow Mrs. Carter's directions.

"We have definite things to do... we follow under her direction," said Mrs. Bullis. Noted Mrs. Messix, "It's been a lot of fun."

Both women admitted that because of their positive experience with Project Success, they wish they had teaching backgrounds.

The Project Success volunteers are just a small part of a much larger group of parents who help out at North Hill. There are 53 volunteers in all who spend a total of 250 hours a month in activities ranging from correcting papers to acting as playground helpers.

Mary Carlson is the chairman of the volunteer program and Dorothy Mondou is the PTSA president.

All the volunteers are women.

"We would like to get some men involved in the program if at all possible. We need 'em on a regular basis," said Mrs. Carlson.

UNDER THE watchful eye of parent volunteer Crystal Bullis, North Hill Elementary student Elva Nelson practices her spelling by writing a word in a tray of sand. This is one of several reading, spelling and writing improvement methods used in the Project Success classroom.

Two injured

SUSAN L. GENDRO, 18-year-old Seattle resident, was in fair condition Friday after she was injured in a motorcycle-car accident Wednesday on First Avenue South just below the Dash Point Road overpass. According to the King county Police, Mary Ann Schmidt, 33-year-old Federal Way resident, was heading north about 5:30 p.m. and stopped to make a left turn into a driveway when the motorcycle came over the hill leading to Redondo and collided with the stationary vehicle. Michael Alan Gendro, 23, husband of Susan, was driving the motorcycle at the time of impact. He was admitted to Group Health Hospital and released. Susan suffered a broken leg and other possible injuries. Mary Ann Schmidt and her children Keith, 6, and Chris, 2, were uninjured. The accident is under investigation.

Ray, Carter supported by Pat Jenkins While Washington state's gubernatorial politics wasn't of vital interest and no official opinion of Carter was expressed, both subjects were topics of discussion for the conventioners, Blalock said.

"As things stand now, we could support her," said Jane Blalock of White Center, head of the Evergreen Democratic Women's Club.

The women could also, she said, stand behind another campaign by President Carter, "at this point in time."

Blalock received those impressions while attending the recent convention of the National Federation of Democratic Women's Clubs in Seattle.

Besides their party's leaders, discussion at the convention included national social issues that concern women.

Obituary

Andrew P. Hudock

Andrew P. Hudock, age 56 of 30012 42nd Pl. S., died April 26 in Kent.

He was born in Cleveland, Ohio on May 27 in 1922 and moved to the Auburn area six months ago from Houston, Texas.

Hudock was a retired steel worker and worked 22 years for the Reublic Steel Co. in Cleveland, Ohio. He was a member of the American Legion Post in San Antonio, Texas.

Survivors include his son, Thomas J. Hudock of Auburn; three daughters, Mrs. Mark (Elizabeth Brandt) of Federal Way, Mrs. John (April) Vihildal of Federal Way and Mrs. Margaret Elliott of Washington D.C.; four brothers, Daniel Edward and Richard Hudock all of Maple Heights, Ohio and David Hudock of New Jersey; and his mother, Mrs. Anna Hudock of Cleveland, Ohio.

Funeral services were held on May 1 at 2 p.m. at the St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church in Federal Way. Arrangements were made through the Price-Helton Funeral Chapel. Interment was at Hillcrest Cemetery in Kent.

Perrine gets scholarship

Rebecca A. Perrine, a senior at Mt. Rainier High School, has been selected as one of 30 Washington high school seniors to receive the Seattle-First National Bank Merit Scholarship Award.

The scholarship will provide up to $1,500 a year for tuition, which may be used at any accredited school in the state.

"We are extremely gratified to be able to present a Des Moines-area student with this award," Douglas W. Fernandes, Des Moines branch manager, said.

Grace M. Watanabe of Federal Way also received the award from Seattle-First.

Normandy park students lead local readathon

Students from Normandy Park Elementary School had the highest number of students per enrollment participate in the National Multiple Sclerosis Readathon among King, Pierce and Snohomish County schools.

Susan Blake, coordinator of the readathon, said Normandy Park had been awarded a set of encyclopedias for its achievement. The award was presented last month at a school assembly.

The readathon was conducted in October and November. Some 1,593 students from 23 elementary and junior highs in the Highline School District participated. They raised $8,505 by reading 6,085 books.

Des Moines and North Hill elementaries also were cited for earning more than $1,000 each for multiple sclerosis through their readathon campaigns.

Five district elementary students were cited for raising more than $100 each for the Multiple Sclerosis Foundation.

They are: Meagan Cobb, Boulevard Park, $154.20; Troy Patterson, Bow Lake, $109; Laura Pypier, Cedarhurst, $132; Nicole Barton, Des Moines, $228.20; Joe Donsky, Marvista, $115.15.

In most schools the campaign was conducted under the supervision of the school librarian.

Christian Scientists to sponsor lecture

Christian Science Church of Christ Scientist, develops her theme by saying man's identity unusual in these times: "It isn't physical, it isn't the product of material evolution or family ancestry, it's spiritual, an inheritance from God."

Miss Tuttle, who will speak Monday, May 7, at 8 p.m. in the Christian Science Church, 610 Eighth St., Auburn.

Patricia Tuttle

and was active in the a graduate of San Diego State College, field of education before entering the public practice of Christian healing of the Church of Christ, Scientist.

For 12 years she served as a Christian Science Minister for the Armed Forces in Germany and regional assistant for Christian Science college organizations in Europe.

Miss Tuttle maintains that as a result of striving to understand yourself." man's spiritual inheritance for its own sake, there are practical tangible benefits. "Understanding yourself as the spiritual child of God can meet your every legitimate human need. It can give you a whole new dimension and purpose to your life. It brings peace and serenity and establishes your freedom to be

Miss Tuttle, a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, will be introduced by Emery Eckert. Her talk: "Claim Your Real Inheritance" is free and open to the community. Christian Science lecturers explain their denomination's teachings in talks given throughout the world each year.

At home in Thorp

A peach, yellow and white color theme was used in Des Moines Methodist Church for the recent wedding of Lynda Denise Cummings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Cummings Jr. of 29805 Eighth Ave. S.W., and Gregory G. Fischer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Fischer of Thorp, Wash.

Rev. Robert Weller performed the ceremony before an altar decorated with arrangements of white snowflake mums, peach gladioli and yellow chrysanthemums.

For her wedding the bride chose a lace-trimmed gown of white organza over taffeta with a chapel-length train edged in matching lace. Her fingertip veil was bordered with lace and attached to a lace cap trimmed with pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, white snowflake mums, miniature white and peach carnations and baby's breath tied with lace.

Bridal attendants were Mrs. Annie Kontos, matron of honor, and Cynthia Cummings, Kymberly Cumings and Hydie Cummings, bridesmaids. The matron of honor wore a long, pale yellow gown with a camisole bodice and matching sheer capelet. The bridesmaids wore identical gowns in peach. Their flowers were nosegays of white snowflake mums, yellow mums, white and peach carnations and baby's breath tied with white satin ribbons. Stephen Fischer served as his brother's best man, and Trey Cummings, Brad Elliot and Dan Kontos were the ushers.

The bride was graduated from Federal Way High School in 1973 and from Central Washington University in 1977.

The couple honeymooned in Seattle and will make their new home in Thorp.

Honored guests at the wedding were Mrs. Julia Cummings, the bride's grandmother, and Mrs. Emma Driskie, the bride's aunt from Silver Aurora, Ore. Mrs. Beverly Arndt of Portland, Ore., and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kallgren of Coos Bay, Ore.

Youthful lawmakers discuss session Monday

Thirteen Mt. Rainier High School students participated in the 32nd annual Y.M.C.A. Youth Legislature in Olympia April 19 to 22.

A six-month long youth and government program had prepared 340 high school students who came to Olympia to act as elected legislators, state officers and Supreme Court Justices.

The students introduced and created laws in the legislature, saw how executive action shapes laws and how laws are reviewed by the courts.

Of the 200 laws proposed by the students, 10 were proposed by the Mt. Rainier delegation. Members of the House of Representatives and Senate passed only 18 of the 200 laws, four of them being Mt. Rainier proposals. Eight of the bills proposed by the Des Moines-area students passed in at least one house of the legislature. Several students from Mt. Rainier also were elected as officers during the week-long session. Bernie Pratt was elected chairman of a district, Darryl Hall as alternate vice chairman. Debra Stineman was assistant sergeant of arms.

The youth who participated in the legislature will discuss their bills and what they learned at 8:15 p.m. tomorrow in the Highline Branch of the Y.M.C.A.

Life underwater holds no mysteries

There's a cynical saying that circulates among submarine sailors which has the chilling ring of truth. "There's only two types of navy ships, submarines and targets."

That boast was often borne out during World War II when submarines from several nations sunk millions of tons of merchant and military shipping vessels around the world.

Today, the U.S. has invested heavily in submarines of all kinds and Bradley J. Brown, the 23-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Brown of 3001 S. 288th St. is right in the midst of the action.

A Navy interior communications electrician, he's spent most of his adult life underwater as a petty officer second class aboard the USS Pollack. His watery home is a nuclear powered fast attack submarine based in San Diego.

Brown, who is a nuclear qualified electrician said that working underwater presents some unusual challenges.

"Electricians keep the nuclear propulsion plant going so that we're able to go out to sea anytime we have to," said Brown, a 1973 graduate of Thomas Jefferson High School. "We operate and maintain the electrical plant and all the electrical gear on the boat."

Brown admits he's adapted well to a world where sunlight is artificial, day has no night and pressure is a continual way of life.

"Every submariner I've ever run into was a more flexible person and had a greater sense of individualism than other people," Brown said.

While submerged, he glides silently through a dark and murky world of underwater mountains, hills and valleys, some charted, some uncharted.

It's a medium where life and death hang on a few established subaqueous road maps coupled with the skill of the men who man the ship's sophisticated sonar devices.

READY FOR IMMEDIATE ACTION, Bradley J. Brown is currently serving aboard a nuclear powered attack submarine now stationed in San Diego.

Nuclear powered attack submarines of the "Permit" class such as the Pollack, are propelled by a water cooled nuclear reactor which turns a single propeller for optimum speed and maneuverability. While submerged, the Pollack is controlled by two men.

Built with extensive sound isolation techniques, highly advanced sonar gear, and armed with the latest weapon systems, Pollack can quickly but quietly go about its mission of detecting, tracking and destroying enemy subs at depths of over 400 feet.

Anti-submarine warfare equipment is important today because of the growing Soviet submarine force, according to Michael Raggett, commander and Pollack's skipper. "The Soviets are outnumbering us on a solid two to one basis," he said.

"The only way to limit the threat is a combined effort which we're going toward now, submarines, destroyers utilizing both active and passive sonar and carriers with helicopters and antisubmarine aircraft on board," he added.

In Brown's opinion, subs like Pollack play an important role. "We maintain a state of readiness here for performing antisubmarine warfare if it's ever needed in an emergency."

Blalock: men, media snub women's issues

The president of the Evergreen Democratic Women's Club agrees with the head of a national organization of female Democrats that women's issues have been neglected by the media and a male-dominated society.

Jane Blalock of White Center feels "the same way" as C. DeLores Tucker, president of the National Federation of Democratic Women's Clubs. Tucker, during the recent national convention in Seattle of the NFDWC, labeled the press as "journalistically anemic" in its reporting of women's events and said women are deprived of active roles in the world by "the male establishment."

Blalock used the NFDWC convention, which drew 300 delegates from 26 states, as an example of "male domination."

"We had very little coverage in the press," she said.

BLALOCK ADMITTED the 7-year-old organization could be relatively "unknown" and thus inadvertently snubbed by the media, but added that the NFDWC is the only women's "arm" of the national Democratic Party.

Neglect of the women's group may go deeper than the media. The party's King County organization reportedly did not announce in a bulletin that the convention was on tap.

More students to get CPR training

Beginning next fall all eighth, 10th and 12th grade students will receive cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) training from their classroom teachers in health and driver education classes.

Nineteen Federal Way teachers will become certified to teach CPR when they complete 10 hours of training on May 16 by

Coast Guard Flotilla being formed

Boaters interested in forming a Coast Guard Auxiliary Flotilla in the Federal Way-Auburn-Kent area are invited to attend a meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Auburn School District Administration Building.

For more information contact George Sanders, 939-1073. The administration building is at 915-Fourth St. N.E.

Roofing contracts awarded

The Highline School Board has awarded a total of $32,308 for roofing materials.

Bid winners were: Fields Enterprises, $12,240 for 12,000 gallons of coating and 60 drums of primer; Palmer G. Lewis, $16,072 for 800 rolls of fiberglass roofing; and Western Roofing Supply, $3,996 for 400 rolls of base sheet.

personnel from the King County Emergency Medical Services Department. The training will be held at Fire District 39 headquarters in Federal Way.

CPR has been taught in Federal Way classrooms this year with some of the instruction given by teachers and some by local firefighters. The May 16 workshop will give the school district a full cadre of teachers who are certified to provide CPR instruction to their students. The district has approximately 1,200 eighth graders and 1,100 12th graders who have had instruction in CPR in their classrooms this year. Next year all 10th graders will be added in the program.

A grant from King County will provide for the teacher training next month and will provide a Resusci-Anne mannequin and a slide tape program for each junior and senior high school.

Federal Way teachers who will take part in the training are Joan Peterson and Steve McCulley from Illahee; Sally Johnson, Bob Murphy, and Laurie Posick from Kilo; Steve Shireman and Tom Brown from Lakota; Bill Moody, Gary Holmboe, Joe Anderson, Bill Garner, and Keith Koehn from Decatur; Dan Sloan and Jim Gard from Thomas Jefferson; and Bill Sandstrom, Mona Eckhart, Mabel Hansen, Bev McIrven, and Gil Juvinal from Federal Way High School. Teachers at Totem and Sacajawea Junior High Schools who give CPR training completed their training last fall.

Decatur baseballers nudge Franklin Pierce, 1-0

MIKE HAGEN, of Decatur, slides by Franklin Pierce catcher Steve Alford to score the game's only run in the bottom of the sixth inning Thursday. Bob Karlson's grounder to first base gave Hagen the scoring chance. Gator lefty Dennis Werth pitched a complete-game shutout over the Cards.

by Harry Brooks
Here comes the runner! Here comes the throw! He slides! He's safe!!!

The runner was Mike Hagen. The throw came from Franklin Pierce first baseman Mark Wolcott. Hagen beat the throw with a best-storming sprawl across the plate in the bottom of the sixth. That gave Decatur a 1-0 win over the Cardinals in Thursday South Puget Sound League baseball action.

"Super — Super," bubbled Decatur skipper Gary Holmboe moments after the final out. "The guys really came through." Decatur hurler Dennis Werth kept the Cards in check the entire game. He struck out 12, gave up only three hits and allowed just one FP runner to third base. The fireballing lefty had suffered control problems in earlier contests but issued just two free passes Thursday.

"My arm felt good today," he said through a victorious grin. "I stayed pretty loose until I got the 3-1 count on that guy in the last inning. I got a little nervous then."

The final inning was a stomach-tumbler for Werth and his Gator mates.

With one out, Cardinal Steve Alford singled to right and represented the tying run at first. Wolcott followed Alford to the plate, Werth ran the count to three balls, one strike. The Decatur southpaw came through with two straight strikes.

Alford paid more attention to the action in the batters' box than his own situation at first base. After Wolcott took strike three, Alford bowed his head and walked slowly back to first. Werth noticed the slow retreat and whisked the ball to first baseman Bob Karlson, who tagged Alford for the final out in a rundown.

The action in the final two innings put Decatur's earlier frustrations to rest. Gator hitters, in the first three stanzas, tagged Mike Campbell's first delivery of each inning for a single. In the fourth, Hagen led off with a walk. But nary a Gator treaded home plate during that time.

In the first two innings, Franklin Pierce got off the hook by snagging Gator line drives and turning them into double plays.

Pat Buckholz greeted Campbell with a single to left in the first inning. Gary Dunn followed with a walk. Doug Springer moved both runners up with a bunt sacrifice, but the threat ended when Dave Reed gloved Hagen's liner at second and stepped on the bag before Dunn could return. In the second, Camden, who opened the inning with a single to center, got caught off the bag when shortstop Doug Anderson snatched Karlson's rope and proceeded to throw to first for a double play.

Werth zipped a single to third inning, and, two outs later, Dunn smacked a base hit to right. Again, Decatur couldn't take advantage of the situation.

Holmboe was worried about the game's outcome after those threats died.

"We were in control all the way," he said. "We had our chances but just couldn't bring anybody in. When you don't get any runs, baby, it's anybody's ballgame."

Hagen put his coaches worries to rest. After doubling to right-center, he moved to third on Ed Camden's grounder to second. Then Karlson chopped a medium-speed grounder to first. A slight hesitation by Pierce first sacker Wolcott gave Hagen the extra time he needed to beat the throw.

Jefferson boot barrage smoothers Rogers, 3-0

The Thomas Jefferson Raiders used fire superiority to come through with a 3-0 victory over Rogers Thursday in South Puget Sound League soccer action.

In the military, fire superiority denotes laying down such a heavy blanket of shots that the opponent has little time to mount a return volley. Shooting accuracy isn't of the utmost importance in gaining fire superiority, and it wasn't a major factor in TJ's victory.

The Raiders ripped 34 shots at the Rogers net, nine in the first five minutes of the game. Rogers managed just 12.

However, Raider shots continually strayed from the mark, which was a frustrating element to TJ coach John Cameron.

"We were in control of the game, but we couldn't score like we should," he said, shaking his head with a slightly miffed smile.

John Knox and Tim Sedlacek keyed an eight-shot assault on the Rogers goal in the opening minutes. All whizzed to the right or to the left or over the net.

F-i-n-a-l-l-y, Knox hammered a 20-yard straighton boot into the right corner of the Rogers net 30 minutes into the contest.

Jefferson's attack slowed in the second half, but its goal production doubled.

Sedlacek hit the Raiders' second goal nine minutes into the second half. He drove toward the net from the left side and cracked a 10-yarder past the fallen goalie into the rear of the net.

With two minutes left to play, Kevin Benz capped Jefferson's goal scoring by ending a four-on-one fastbreak with a 5-yard tally. John Kramer started the charge toward the goal from the right side. He fed Benz a lead pass in the goal box.

Benz's feet and the ball became tangled, but the Raider forward recovered to zip the ball to the left side of the net.

Jefferson, 9-1-0, trails league-leading Federal Way, 9-0-2, by two points in the SPSL standings. The Raiders travel to Lakes Tuesday for a 3:30 p.m. contest and host Decatur Thursday in a 7 p.m. match at Federal Way Stadium.

Cameron was a bit perplexed at TJ's loss of momentum in the second half of last Thursday's game. Possibly, the halftime music had something to do with the Raiders' semi-lethargic play.

The Jefferson horn ensemble' complete with TJ principal Dr. Jim Linker on tuba, conducted a rendition of slow-moving, um-pa um-pa Bavarian music.

Maybe that had an effect Jefferson's later play.

Peterbilt quicker, younger

Truckers geared up for new season

by Terry M. Sell
A healthy combination of youth, speed, power and veteran smarts will be the trademarks of the Peterbilt Western fastpitch softball team this year, says new manager Tom Wagner.
The Truckers get their first Northwest League action this weekend, meeting Vancouver Thirk Saturday, 7 p.m. at Ft. Dent field number one (in Tukwila). Peterbilt takes on Four Star Construction of Clearbrook, B.C., at 1 p.m. Sunday at Ft. Dent number three.
Wagner, stepping up to manager after 15 years at third base, will guide his crew through a new and tougher league. Thirk, Four Star, Yakima Pepsi and Boondox Tavern of Longview have joined the circuit to make it "the strongest league in the United States right now," says Wagner.
Peterbilt, it appears, may be ready to meet that challenge. The team has what it takes, Wagner opined.

"We went to New Zealand last year," he said, a long trip that took its toll before the start of the season. "We didn't have the young players to push the older fellows. We lost to a lot of ballclubs that shouldn't have beaten us."
Even in an off year, Peterbilt was dominating. They took a second-straight regional title before finishing sixth in the country, after finishing third the year before.
And Wagner says this is a better club.
"We've got more speed than we've ever had before," he said, "and we've got several long-ball hitters."
"I think we've got one of the strongest teams we've ever had, man for man," he added.
Peterbilt starts its strength right from the mound, with New Zealand imports Graham Arnold and Robin Cutting numbering among the league's better hurlers.

Behind the plate is Butch Batt, 15-year veteran and two-time all-American. Jeff Borrer, an all-league selection in the outfield last year, also plays catcher, as does newcomer (from Westside Federal) Greg VanGaver.
The Truckers boast a fine crop of infielders, including the redoubtable George Nokes, Greg Flynn, Joe Nokes, Reoger Bledsoe, Larry Seabaugh, Borrer and VanGaver.
In the outfield are heavy-hitting George Bettineski, Mike Bishop, Roger Miller, the leading hitter last year for B and I Sports, Rich 'Boog' Fredrickson and Bill Stewart.
Steve Pedegana returns as coach, Virgil Crowe as statistician, and Jim Spaulding as trainer.

Wagner looks to Bledsoe, Joe and Jim Nokes, Miller, Stewart and Bishop to provide the club with plenty of speed. Batt, Borrer, Fredrickson, Bettineski, Jim Nokes, Stewart and Seabaugh all can put a few out of the park as well.
"It opens up the game for us," Wagner said of the club's new versatility, particular the quickness factor.
"We can bunt, we can hit and run, we can steal, we can make more things happen," he said.
"If our shorthand is anything it's got to be pitching," he admitted, however. "We'll try to pick up another pitcher, preferably another young pitcher."
But the biggest change for Peterbilt, says Wagner, is in attitude. The club is more competitive, with so many young faces pushing the established players for starting jobs.

"I think the biggest thing is the attitude of the players," said Wagner. "The young players that have come to the ballclub have put a lot of pressure on the older players, and the team has got an excellent attitude right now."
Peterbilt, nonetheless, has its work cut out for it. "This will be the roughest schedule in the 15 years that I've played that we've ever had," Wagner said.
In addition to the league contests, the Truckers will play host to several top teams from around the country at the new White Center Stadium.
Visiting this summer will be the Phoenix Turquoise Kings, the Battersmen from Worcester, Mass., and Saskatoon, Saskatchewan.
Peterbilt will also travel east this summer, visiting McCauley of Midland, Wis., Bloomington, Minn., and Home Savings of Aurora, Ill., national runnerup the last four years.

More recently, the Truckers dispatched a team from Bellingham in an exhibition double-header, last Thursday night in White Center.
PW took a 6-5 victory in the first game, on George Nokes' bases-loaded single in the last of the seventh inning, before Arnold dished out a 5-0 shutout in the night cap.
Wagner likes being back in White Center, too.
"It just felt like we were back home," he said. "It's going to definitely make a difference attendance-wise. It really felt good."
"I'm very optimistic, very excited about the team," Wagner concluded. "We've got a lot of first-class people on the ballclub."
Which is what it's going to take in a first-class league.

Early burst keys Royal win over Mt. Rainier

by Bart Potter
The Mt. Rainier Rams fell far behind early and never recovered in a 12-1 North Puget Sound League softball loss at Kent-Meridian Friday.
The Royals had all 12 of their runs before three innings were over, picking up three in the first, one in the second and a big eight in the third.
"We didn't play as well as we could," Mt. Rainier coach Gregg Flynn said. "And they played well. They're a strong team."
The loss dropped the Rams NPSL mark to 9-3. Kent-Meridian is just a game back at 8-4.
The Rams picked up their only run, and two of their total of three hits, in the fifth inning. Cindy Breed tripled and scored on a single by Karyn Kearney.

The only other hit, a single, was credited to Kristi Rasmussen.
"We have been hitting pretty well," Flynn said, "so I guess we were due for a bad game."
"Baseball is a funny game. You have your ups and downs. today was one of our downs."
Thursday, the Rams had an up day, topping Renton 10-5.
The Rams got five runs in the third inning against the Indians. Cathy Colburn reached on an error, Denise Hendricks singled and Breed doubled to score Colburn. Kathy Unser singled in Hendricks, Luann Bargmeyer singled in Breed, Karyn Kearney singled in Unser and Bonnie McGrath singled in Bargmeyer.

rainier got three more in the fourth on a Breed home run after singles by Sherri Sanford and Linda Pierce.
In the fifth the Rams scored a pair as Bargmeyer singled, Kearney doubled and Cindy Bargmeyer singled.
Kristi Rasmussen earned the pitching win.

Flynn said the first place team only will advance into the playoffs leading to the state tournament in Tacoma June 1.
The Rams face a crucial slate of games this week. Mt. Rainier hosts Kennedy Tuesday, and visits Kentridge Thursday and Highline Friday.
Those are three important games," Flynn said. "They're all very good teams."
The Rams will host the league-leading Trojans a week from Tuesday.

Eagles stay atop SPSL boot heap

The Federal Way Eagles remained atop the South Puget Sound League soccer standings with a 1-0 win over Clover Park Thursday.
Mark Hildebrandt supplied the game's only goal by hooking a banana-shot off a right-corner kick to the left post of the Clover Park goal.
Federal Way, 9-0-2, leads Jefferson, 9-1-0, by two points in the race for the SPSL crown. The Eagles host Decatur Tuesday and invade Curtis Thursday. Both games begin at 7 p.m.

"All games, from here on out, are really important," FW mentor Jack McCulloch noted. "Especially the one against Decatur. With them being inner-district rivals, it's really important for us to be ready for them. They, no doubt, will be ready for us."
"We can't afford any foolin' around. TJ and us have to play everybody seriously. Nobody is going to catch us, but they sure can hurt us."

Thursday's game was an even struggle most of the way, although Federal Way tallied a 26-8 shot margin. Continual foul calls stymied play on the field.

One of those calls gave Clover Park a 12-yard penalty shot five minutes into the contest. Fortunately for the Eagles, the attempt lined wide of the net.

Burien possibly added

South-end Boys' Clubs work for consolidation

The Boys' Clubs of Seattle and King County are considering a move that would re-organize the two clubs in South King County and possibly add an additional branch in the Burien area.
According to Federal Way director Lynn Templeton, a small scale extension program is now in operation in the Burien area, and a great deal of community support has been demonstrated from several community organizations in support of a fulltime recreation facility under Boys' Club philosophy, guidelines and management.

In addition, a possible consolidation of the south-end clubs is also under advisement. A similar consolidation has been in operation with three clubs in Seattle's north-end combining the clubs in Greenwood, Ballard and Wallingford under one local board of directors and one area staff director. Cooperative efforts among the three facilities in budgeting, fundraising, shared staff and programming has resulted in a more efficient operation serving a greater number of children.

A proposed Federal Way-Des Moines-Burien consolidation is hoped to reap the same benefits, though several major issues need to be dealt with by local and county boards prior to a formal proposal being made.
"It is a step that some in the organization are beginning to feel necessary as a way of staying administratively on top of our growing program and costs," said Templeton. "But a number of issues such as community identity, agreement between boards and input from staff and parents must be considered prior to any change being made."

"The fact that the plan has worked in the north-end is no guarantee that it will work here. Careful planning and lots of groundwork have to be done first. It will be some time before we're ready to come forward with a proposal. At this time, our local Boards have only been advised on the matter and no discussion or action has taken place."
In the past five years membership in the 10 clubs in Seattle and King County has increased dramatically along with the cost of providing programing services. Now serving 14,000 children in the area, total budget for the organization has reached $1.2 million of which about 30 percent comes from the United Way. The Federal Way Boys' and Girls' Club has a year-end (Sept. 1) membership projection of 1,800 to 2,000 children enrolled and an operating budget of $95,000. The SeaTac-Des Moines Boys' Club is now serving approximately 700 children on a $60,000 budget.

Capital campaigns have taken place in the south-end as well, with the Federal Way Club now in its $320,000 facility since last June. Des Moines, having sold its parcel of land in Midway, is embarking on a fund raising drive in the hopes of establishing a new facility in the community.
Des Moines director Doug Branham said "With Federal Way and Des Moines having come so far so soon, a planned Burien expansion may be the most logical step. People throughout the area are recognizing our accomplishments and are contacting us in an effort to expand our services."

The proposed expansion consolidation plan and the hiring of a Burien director and area director will be high on the agenda of Boys' Club business in the 1979-80 program year.

Four-homer barrage lets Lakes by Eagles

by Kevin Stauffer
The Federal Way Eagles baseball team had an 11-game South Puget Sound League win streak fall by the wayside Thursday.

Perpetrators of the act were the Lakes Lancers, whose 9-5 victory is only the second loss of the season for the Eagles. The first FW loss came in the season opener against the same Lancer squad.

"They're a good team. I'm suprised they've lost four games; they've got lots of talent," Eagle coach Bob Stewart said of Lakes.

The Lancers utilized their talent to the fullest against the Eagles, belting out four home runs over the short fences surrounding Federal Way's home field. Lakes built a 6-0 lead, and then squelched an Eagle rally by lifting back-to-back homers in the top of the seventh inning.

The loss keeps Federal Way in a deadlock with Puyallup, who lost a 6-3 contest to Curtis the same day, for the number one SPSL position; the next week will be crucial in deciding the Eagles playoff hopes.

Federal Way will battle at Summer on Tuesday, while Puyallup will travel to Lakes. Thursday could prove to be the most important game on the Eagle schedule, as Puyallup hosts FW in a fight for the top.

A lashing of the baseball by powerful Lancer bats kept the Eagles from jumping to a one-game SPSL lead.

Leadoff batter Charlie Lewis wasted little time in getting to FW pitcher Butch Cratsenberg, giving the lefthander's changeup pitch a ride over the centerfield fence. Mike Lewis singled and Ron Archie drew a walk to keep the pressure on.

After Lewis and Archie advanced on a wild pitch, cleanup hitter Eric Garrett lifted a sacrifice fly to score Lewis. Lakes picked up its third first-inning run as Mike Larson grounded to Eagle Randy Scholl at first base.

Scholl threw to Doug Tisdal at first for the out, but Tisdal's throw to the plate slipped from catcher Todd McGrady's glove, allowing Archie to cross home.

The Lancers tallied three more runs in the third stanza as opposing hurler Ted Walters rut wood to another Cratsenberg changeup and parked it over the leftfield area. The hit scored two runs, including shortstop Bill Welker, whose loose single had scored Garrett one batter earlier.

"Butch struggled through," Stewart said of Cratsenberg. "The first two hooe runs were from poor pitches; they wgre semi changeups. You can't give a pitch to those guys; they'll put them out in the toolies."

Trailing by six runs, the Eagles put voghter a rally in the fifth and sixth innings. Bill Shaw led off the bottom of the fifth with a single, advancing to sgcond on Mark Scholl's ground out to seconf. Shaw was joined on the basepaths by Dave Greening and Jim Bendorf via the walk, loading the bags for Cratsenberg.

ve Eagle pitcher rgspnded with a hard grounder which went to and through Walker at sjortstop, sending Sjaw and Greening in with FW's first two runs.

Eagle bats rounded hard in the sixth stanza, with Tisdal leading off and doubling to the fence in right center. McGrady followed and went Tisdal one better; his shot to left center took one bounce and landed over vhe fence for a grownd rule double which scored Tisdal. Lakes hurler Walters walked two over the next four batters, leaving Cratsenberg with another bases loaded situation, this one with two outs. Walters lost control and fired a pitch which struck the top of Cratsenberg's batting helmet, forcing the fourth FW run across.

Mark Hillis became the final batter of the inning when his ground ball to Mike Lewis at third was handled and fired to first; the ball didn't reach first in time and Mark Scholl scored, but first-sacker Garrett fired home to get Bendorf who was attempting to score the tying run.

Lakes lifted itself from danger when Ron Archie powered a two-run towering shot over the leftfield fence. Garrett followed with the fourth and final round-tripper of the game, and Lakes had victory.

"It's funny; we won 31 straight last year (in regular league competition) and then Lakes beat us at the beginning of this season. Now we win 11 more, and Lakgs beat us again," Stewart said. "That's 22 out of the last 24 league games, anyway."

Stewart can afford to pull for Lakes during the last league games now.

"If I was a betting man, I'd bet Lakes will beat Puyallup Tuesday. "If they beat Puyallup we will be back in it, and if we beat Puyallup on Thursday we'll be a game ahead," said Stewart, who was figuring Puyallup would come out ahead of Curtis.

"I'd feel good if we were a game ahead after this week," Stewart commented. "We have four games left. I'm glad we don't have to play Lakes again."

Decatur and Lakes kick to a standstill

The Decatur Gators took the field Thursday night in hopes of bettering their .500 record. They didn't accomplish that goal (or any goal for that matter), but they didn't drop below .500 either.

The Gators and the Lakes Lancers battled to a nil-nil score through two 40-minute regulation periods and two five-minute overtimes.

"It broke our win streak," Decatur coach Rick Dennison said through a grin as he referred to the Gators' previous two straight wins. "We were concentrating on working the ball farther down the field, instead of kicking it and trying to run under it. But they stripped us of the ball when we got in close."

Indeed, the Gators had problems maintaining ball control in Lakes territory, but the Lancer offense suffered the same difficulties near the Gator net. Each team tried to out-finesse the other, and neither succeeded. That situation resulted in only 24 shots being taken the entire game. Decatur posted a 13-11 advantage in the shooting department.

Defensive heroics marked the contest. The center fullbacks of both teams — Ken Jones of Lakes and Tony Maccherialla of Decatur consistently repulsed attacks in their territory.

Decatur goalie Ted Gotterbaum played a sterling game in the net.

In the first half, he leaped to his right to make a last-ditch save on a shot by Tom Krantz. Gotterbaum again dove to his right to make a fingertip grasp of Karl Schott's goalward liner midway through the second half.

Decatur had shots by Rolph Grosch and Steve Babcock stray just wide of the mark.

As the regulation time period drew to a close, Decatur took the game's momentum. The Gators continued to dominate in the overtime periods.

Jerry Leishman, Mike Gaurin and Chris Parly kept steady pressure on the Lancer net but mustered few shots.

"I think we were going for the win, and they looked satisfied with a tie," Dennison surmized.

The Gator skipper lauded his team's effort against the Lancers and noted the performance was a good springboard into this week's inner-district rivalries with Federal Way and Jefferson, the teams that are battling for the league championship.

The Gators meet Federal Way Tuesday and Jefferson Thursday. Both games will begin at 7 p.m. at Federal Way Stadium.

"If we played like we did tonight, Dennison said Thursday, "we're going to give them both all they can handle."

"We're going to have something to say about who takes this thing," he warned.

Baseball

Decatur capitalizes

The Sumnar Spartans bobbled the winning run to the Decatur Gators in a boys' baseball game played Friday at Decatur. The error in the fifth inning put Mike Hagen on base and scored Gary Dunn to give the Gators their winning 2-1 margin.

Decatur was helped by six-hit pitching from Ed Camden who also threw in a home run in the second inning to open the games scoring. Camden's record jumped to 4-2 for the SPSL season.

Sumner tied the game in the fourth inning necessitating the extra score for the Gators.

The fifth didn't start off very auspiciously as both Mike Dolezal and Pat Bucholz flied out to center field. But then Dunn was walked and advanced again into scoring position off an error that put Bob Karlson on base.

That brought Hagen

who also got on by Sumner's second straight error and third of the afternoon, and gave Dunn the opportunity he needed to score.

Sumner struck for six hits to Decatur's three, but the Gators made up the difference with the three errors. Decatur committed no mistakes themselves.

It was Camden's second straight win over Sumner after winning 3-0 earlier in the week with a five-hit game.

FW Pool slates summer lessons

New swimming lessons will be starting at the Federal Way Pool.

Lessons will start May 14 and run through June 14. Classes are available morning, afternoon, and evening neither Monday and Wednesdays or Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Raiders hang on to top Clover Park in eight

Power hitting and tough late-inning pitching were the keys for the Thomas Jefferson Raiders Thursday as they took an 8-6 win in eight innings in South Puget Sound League baseball action at Clover Park.

The Raiders struck for two runs in the top of the eighth and retired the Warriors 1-2-3 in the bottom of the extra frame to grab the win. The Raiders are 3-10 in SPSL play.

The clinching Raider runs were accomplished after the Warriors narrowly missed winning the game in the bottom of the seventh inning. John Stowe started the rally in the eighth with a single. Dan Buckenburger bunted for a single, and a throwing error advanced the runners to second and third. Marc Ogata's sacrifice fly scored Stowe, and John Batts singled in Buckenburger.

TJ coach Bob Hill was pleased with his team's toughness in the extra inning. "I was really happy after Clover Park tied it up that we didn't fold up," he said. "We sort of became complacent in the middle innings. But in the eighth we got back on it. We knew we had to hit the ball to win."

A good defensive play by third baseman Bob Bolam saved the day for the Raiders in the bottom of the seventh after the Warriors had placed runners at second and third. The Warriors could not get their third and winning run in the inning to cross the plate.

After the Raider rally in the eighth, Raider pitcher Mark Kerkof set the Warriors down in order, sending two of them back to the bench with strikeouts. It was power hitting early in the game that got the Raiders off to flying start.

Joe Bolam's three-run home run over the left centerfield fence keyed a two-out, five-run uprising in the first inning. The Raiders batted around in the stanza, with Ogata, Bob Bolam, Dennis Klieber, Stowe and Buckenburger picking up base hits.

Jay Gard slammed a solo homer to almost the same spot as Bolam's in the second inning.

Kerkof went the distance for the Raiders, allowing eight hits. Hill said the senior righthander was in trouble at times but pitched well in the clutch.

Buckenburger led the Raider hitters with three hits in four trips. Stowe, Batts, Bob Bolam and Gard all picked up two hits.

Hill said his team's improvement at the plate was likely due to extra batting practice many of the Raiders have been undertaking voluntarily. "They're becoming a bit more relaxed and confident up there," he said.

The Raiders will tangle with Federal Way rivals, the Decatur Gators, in a Tuesday game tentatively scheduled for 7:30 p.m. at either Sacajawea or Jefferson diamonds.

Chargers shackle Ram bats in 4-1 loss

by Bart Potter

The Mt. Rainier Rams had their bats shackled by a pair of Kentridge pitchers Thursday as the Rams dropped a 4-1 North Puget sound League baseball decision at Russell Road Park.

The Rams picked up just one hit — by Dale Fite, in the first inning that led to the Rams only run — off Charger hurlers Buddy Wilds and Mark Ochsner. That one-run lead held until the fourth inning despite serious threats by Kentridge in each of the first three frames.

In the fourth the gates finally opened for the Chargers. Birkild doubled and Chris Ference singled on a freak pop-up behind first base. Ram third baseman Keith Gettis made a fine effort to glove a lead shot on the next play, but his throw sailed over the first baseman's head to allow the Chargers their first run.

A bloop single by Mike Larabee scored Ference, and Ochsner's ground ball force knocked in the last run of the inning. Wilds ran into some control problems in the fifth inning, and the Rams threatened with a runner at third. He was left stranded, as Ochsner came in to strike out the last two Rams in the inning.

Ochsner helped himself out with an RBI triple in the sixth to up the Charger margin to 4-1.

Brian Yager went the distance for the Rams, and was generally effective despite allowing 10 hits. The Rams committed four errors behind him.

Wilds had five strikeouts and Ochsner three as the Ram ineffectiveness at bat contributed to their 14th loss in 19 games.

Mt. Rainier faced Highline, the leader in the NPSL, in a night game Friday (results unavailable). Tuesday the Rams travel to Auburn.

Old-timers return to Longacres track

Like the homing swallows in their flyaway north, the Longacres regulars, trainers, grooms and owners have vanned in and have been busy at training their charges. They are all well known, liked and respected. Some came early and others just made it under the wire.

After a successful winter in California, Joe Baze and others of the clan are back. Larry Pierce, successful jockey turned trainer, is home again with 20 horses.

Steve Goldsmith and Lino Burgos have given up their riding silks and "sticks" and are entering the training field. Both will debut with small but excellent stables.

Wayne Branch, the veteran trainer and "leg man" came early. Wayne can take a horse labeled a "has been" with leg trouble and turn him into a respectable racer. Bobby Dean and his daughter Malinda will value of over $300,000. In addition to the claims they recently purchased at an open sale another group valued at $200,000. It is estimated that he will have 30 thoroughbreds at his command for his many starts. A half a million in horseflesh!

Of the distaffers, some came early and others just made it before opening day. They are Pat Grieb, Lana Taylor, Donna Damron, Peggy Bevan and Gertrude Bakamus. All were here last year and gave a good account of themselves.

A trainer who worked at Longacres in the early 1930's and the 1940's has applied for a stall (s). He is Keith Stucki who will bring his crack Thoroughbred Ancient Title.

Longacres expects to have a total of 12 vets in attendance and will host some 10 - 12 farriers. That should make the picture complete.

Martin Kenney race but Malinda will take her stable to Playfair. All the Roberts will be here again. This includes Clint, Leonard, Craig and the "great one" Hump. Jim Penney from Naches is here. Joe Boyce is back and Junior Coffey has a small stable. Gene Woodcock will be here shortly with his stable from Yakima. The grapevine has it that 1977 leading trainer Martin Kenney will be here with a new client and a large stable. It is rumored that Martin and the owner have recently claimed horses in the South that have a

92,000 diggers hit the beaches

Biologists and patrolmen from the Washington Department of Fisheries estimate 1,250,000 razor clams were dug by 92,000 people last weekend on ocean beaches from Long Beach to Moclips.

Digging success estimates for the two days ranged from a high of 14.7 razor clams per digger in the Iron Springs-Moelips area on Sunday to a low of 10.0 clams per digger on Saturday at Grayland.

Overall success in digging clams on Saturday was estimated at more than 13 clams per digger for an estimated 53,000 people. Sunday averaged slightly higher with more than 14 clams per digger for an estimated 39,000 diggers.

Sandison said he is encouraged by the relatively low wastage rates found over the weekend despite earlier indications of a recurrence this season. Wastage of razor clams the past few years have plagued diggers resulting in early closures in the razor clam season.

"The Shellfish staff from the Montesano Laboratory found clam wastage rates over the past weekend of less than two percent of the holes checked on Long Beach and Grayland," Sandison said. "Weekend wastage rates on the northern beaches from Ocean Shores to Moelips averaged less than 4 percent excluding a high of 7.3 percent found at Moelips on Sunday."

The fisheries director also noted Fisheries Patrol officers have been active issuing 100 citations since the middle of last week for over limit and wastage violations.

Airport area residents push for another seat on advisory group

by Steve Botkin
A dozen members of a group calling itself the Zone 3 Steering Committee met Wednesday to coordinate an attempt to get more representation on the Policy Advisory Committee (PAC).
PAC is a committee which advises King County and the Port of Seattle on implementation of the Sea-Tac Communities Plan, a guide for land use and noise abatement in neighborhoods surrounding Sea-Tac International Airport.
Zone 3 currently has one of five citizen seats on PAC, but the group decided it wants one more to adequately represent residents of airport impacted areas. The group decided Wednesday to draft a letter to PAC requesting additional representation. Members of the Zone 3 Steering Committee will take the letter to their neighbors for them to sign before presenting it to RAC. The letter states:

"The Zone 3 Steering Committee met on April 24 to discuss the issues regarding the Policy Advisory Committee of the Sea-Tac Communities Plan and the appointment of at least one more citizen to PAC from the geographical area covered by Zone 3.
"There are four citizen representatives appointed by the Highline Community Council on PAC; however, none of these members live in the noise impacted area — Zone 3 — surrounding the airport. It is difficult, if not impossible, to understand the problems of homeowners who live in the path of the airplanes unless one lives under such conditions.
"Zone 3 has been given one seat on PAC (as yet no one has been appointed permanently). While we share many common problems, there are unique concerns that face the north and south areas that one representative cannot address.

"It's been stated time and time again that PAC is to monitor the implementation of the Sea-Tac Communities Plan, the areas defined on the 'noise remedy program areas' and the 'airport and vicinity use' maps for that plan. The steering committee for selected by the Zone 3 Committee."
ZONE 3 previously selected Virginia Dana, 2648 S. 142nd St., to serve as interim representative for the single PAC seat. On Wednesday, a committee was formed to develop criteria for selecting a permanent representative.
That committee consists of Loren Currie, Jack Butters, Pat Ashcraft, Virginia Dana and Ireng Jones. Mrs. Jones was also named interim chairperson of the Zone 3 Steering Committee.

Zone 3 is not a new group in the Highline area. The term "Zone 3" refers to the area, calculated by the Federal Aviation Administration, of the greatest noise impact from the airport. Since 1969, the Federal Housing Administration has not insured new home construction in Zone 3.
In 1971, several thousand residents of Zone 3 signed petitions which recommended to the Port of Seattle policies for relief of noise-impacted neighborhoods. Such citizen involvement initiated work on the Sea-Tac Communities Plan in 1972.
THE ZONE 3 Steering Committee will hold its next meeting May 22, 7:30 p.m., at ERAC, 15675 Ambaum Blvd. S.W.
Persons who are interested in joining the Zone 3 committee should call Betty Shafer at 878-8083.

Area girls receive Camp Fire award

Three local girls have been presented the Camp Fire Girls' highest youth-member award.
In recent ceremonies at Mount Rainier and Tyee high schools, Judy Piguet, Jannine Jennings, and Rosemary Krause received the Wo-He-Lo medallion, signifying ing their completion of a program of community service, self-evaluation, and career exploration.

Piguet, a member of the honor society at Mount Rainier, worked in activities with elementary school and junior high school girls and participated in science activities, including a symposium at the Hanford nuclear reactor site.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Piguet, 20422 Seventh Place, S.
Jennings, a member of the national honor society and active in sports at Highline High School, served as president of the the Southlake Sound Horizon Club cabinet, worked in other civic functions, and visited scientific organizations.

Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. James E. Jennings, 16417 Fourth Ave. S.

Krause is an honor student, musician, and member of Explorer Veterinary Post 929 at Tyee. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Krause, 18112 41st Ave. S., worked with younger Camp Fire Girls and was active in civic groups.

Krause and Jennings also co-authored a short children's book on the beginnings of Camp Fire

Real Estate

By Bob Del Bianco REALTOR
A GOOD TIME TO BUY
Now is the time to buy a home. Regardless of what the interest rate may be, the longer a perspective home buyer waits, the more he will have to pay for the house when he finally decides to act. Anyone who waits for mortgage rates or selling costs to drop is being unrealistic. Cost of housing increased considerably last year and will continue to increase. The main monster we have to worry about is inflation. Buying a home is the wisest first step you can make to keep up with inflation. Homes have increased faster than the inflation rate for the past ten years. There is no reason to believe why this should change in the foreseeable future. In times of inflation, most knowledgeable investors go out their way to purchase anything which is likely to become more valuable. For most people, that means real estate. Even at a conservative 6% inflation rate, the average home will double in value every twelve years. There is still an excellent variety of homes available at prices we aren't likely to see again. Today's outrageous price could be tomorrow's bargain.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate please phone or drop in at your local DEL BIANCO REALTY INC., offices. We're here to help!

Garage Sale Kits

Available at local offices of the Federal Way News, Highline Times and Des Moines News. Garage Sale Kits are free when you place a garage sale ad. If you want your kit before writing the ad, pay $1.50 for the kit at the local office and tell the advertiser your receipt number when you place the ad. The cost of the kit will be deducted from the total price of the ad. These kits sell for $1.50 without a classified ad in Robinson Newspapers. Garage Sale Kits contain colorful signs for directions to your sale, sales receipts, inventory sheet, price tags and stickers, and a classified ad for your garage sale.
