Barden may go; Brough eyes council

By VALERIE DROGUS

In the wake of reports that King County Councilmember Paul Barden may be headed for a federal appointment, at least one person has expressed interest in replacing him.

State Rep. Jean Marie Brough (R 30th) of Federal Way said she has always been interested in local politics and would consider seeking an appointment to Barden's position if it becomes vacant.

Brough said she is confident she could do a good job on the county council since she's familiar with local issues, including Metro. She has been actively working in the Legislature on a bill to reorganize the Metro Council that would shrink the size of the unwieldy body.

News of Barden's possible appointment to a post in the Bush administration was leaked and published this week in a local paper. It stated he is under consideration for a top post in the Navy that would take him to Washington, D.C., an administrative post in the Federal Emergency Management Agency or a post in the General Services Administration in the Northwest region.

BARDEN WOULD not deny the report, but would not confirm it. He did say he has not yet received an offer and would

If he does step up to a federal job, his seat on the King County Council will be filled by appointment. The Republican precinct captains will choose from among candidates that present themselves and recommend several to the party county chairman.

The chairman will then select three to recommend to the King County Council chairman for appointment. A final decision will be made by a vote of the county council.

Brough said she has not yet talked with local supporters to begin that process, but plans to approach precinct captains to see if they're interested.

Robin Smith was a normal 21-year-old Des Moines woman looking forward to setting a date to marry her fiance, Larron Crowston.

"She was looking forward to a happy life, to being a wife and someday a mother," said Robin's mother, Edna Smith.

"She had a long life in front of her had this not happened," Smith said.

Instead, both Smith and Crowston are dead and Darren Dee O'Neall stands guilty of Smith's murder.

Health clinic moving into new temporary quarters

By LYNN KEEBAUGH

King County Health Department officials are hoping to have the doors open at a new temporary health clinic in Federal Way within the next two weeks.

County health services in Federal Way currently are housed in just three rooms at the South King County Multi-Service Center. The health department plans to sign a new lease this week on 6,000 square feet of clinic space in a pediatric clinic at 1814 S. 324th Street, behind SeaTac Mall, said the department's Judy Pierce.

Meanwhile, by this time next year, officials expect work to have begun on a new permanent home for the clinic. SLR, a private consultant and a community group, the volunteer Health Care Campus Corp., have narrowed the site selection for a new health center down to two sites, said the volunteer group's chairman, Dick Schoon.

Schoon wouldn't pinpoint the exact sites because no offers have been made for either piece of land. Recommendations from the consultant and community group first must be reviewed by the county before a purchase can be made, Schoon said.

The new clinic will be paid for in part by a $99.8 million healthcare bond approved by county voters in 1987.

ONE SITE is near SeaTac Mall and the other near St. Francis Community Hospital. Schoon said the West Campus site near the hospital would be preferable because it would be large enough to construct a building that could house an envisioned one-stop shopping center of sorts for social services.

The health department, the community group and the South King County Multi-Service Center have been looking at the possibility of locating the multiservice center and the health clinic on the same site. Schoon said the state Department of Social and Health Services, the Red Cross and the Salvation Army also have expressed interest in moving into such a center.

The mall site would likely prove too expensive for such grand plans and probably would not be large enough to house all of those organizations, Schoon said.

"Ideally, we would create literally a campus of health care and emergency services. You could go to one place for emergency housing, food stamps...and health care," he said.

Schoon said the actual site selection is four to six months

Police seize suspected 'mule' car

King County police, respon-ding to a report of shots fired, arrested two Yakima men early Saturday morning for posses-sion of  $\frac{1}{2}$  to 1 ounce of cocaine and impounded what they believed to be a drugtransporting car.

The incident began when two passersby, one from Kent and the other from Mount Vernon, were shot at after they apparently had driven into the middle of a drug buy or drop in- . volving the white Camaro, police speculate.

After shots were fired, two cars, the white Camaro and a red Camaro, went separate ways. The two men told police they were shot at while driving down South 348th Street by someone in the red car and said it was accompanied by the white car.

The two called police and gave descriptions of the vehicles. The white car was spotted moments later driving westbound on Southwest Campus Drive by a King County patrol officer. He pulled the car over a few miles later at Southwest 330th Street and 21st Avenue Southwest at about 12:30 a.m.

THE TWO MEN in the car had no valid identification or driver's licenses and at first claimed to speak only Spanish. They later admitted to being American citizens living in Yakima and the 22-year-old driver gave police permission to search the car, which is registered to a third party living in Yakima.

Police found a baggie of cocaine and two handguns - one verified as stolen - in the gearshift console of the car. A Seattle Police Department drugsniffing dog was brought in and discovered a set of drug scales and a small amount of suspected heroin in the car.

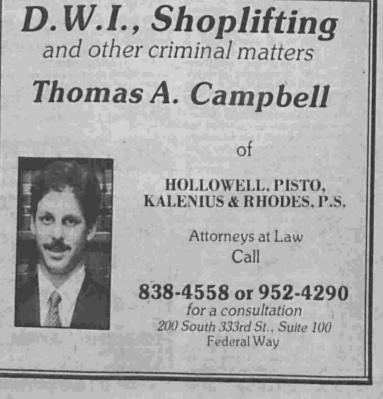

Police believe the car to be what they call a "mule" car, used for transporting narcotics. Most of the panels inside the car showed signs of being loose or often-removed, although no other drugs were found. Drug Enforcement Unit officers believe the car had been used for carrying drugs in the past, because the police dog showed signs of detecting drugs in the panels of the car. The dogs can detect the smallest traces of narcotics, even after the cargo has long been removed, its handler said.

Yakima is a hotbed of drug trafficking, police say, and a good deal of the drugs sold in this area come from there.

The 22-year-old driver of the car also bore tattoos that may link him to Los Angeles street gangs. Neither he nor his companion, a 30-year-old male, were carrying identification. Police found their wallets hidden in boxes in the back of the car, along with a large box of suspected stolen merchandise.

The car was impounded for a more thorough search, which turned up nothing more. Both men were booked into King County Jail.

Federal Way's menu fattens

By ANN SEIDNER

One of the benefits of a booming Federal Way is the seemingly endless openings of new restaurants. Since summer, several have opened their doors and others are scheduled to make future appearances in the Federal Way dining scene.

The following menu is a sample of what's here now and what's yet to come.

The old Dynasties Restaurant is scheduled to open in a new location sometime in January at South 304th Street and Pacific Highway South.

Formerly the Spectrum Disco, the space is currently being remodeled to feature a new and improved Dynasties, which may not even be called Dynasties. Owner Warren Chinn has not yet decided on a name.

He does know, however, that his new spot will look more modern than the old Century Square site, and will feature a piano bar in the lounge and some new, spicy Mongolian dishes on the menu.

In the Federal Way Shopping Center, the Rom Thai restaurant replaced Thanh's Vietnamese Cafe in July.

Sid Permpool is at the helm of the family owned and operated restaurant that features authentic Thai food and decor.

Fifteen lunch and dinner entrees are prepared carefully and presented with style. Pan fried chicken with curry and coconut milk, beef and broccoli with oyster sauce and shrimp with garlic and white wine are a few of the offerings, each served with a selection of sauces.

"We not only have good food, but reasonable prices, atmosphere and good service. That's my strategy," said Permpool.

Entree prices range from $3.75 to $5.05.

Rom Thai's hours are 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday. Call 839-6848 for more information.

Also in the Federal Way Shopping Center, the doors to the old Fog Cutter Restaurant remain closed.

Frank Mudrovich, regional manager for the shopping center, reports that no new tenant has signed a lease yet. In August, Caffe Latte opened in the Twin Lakes Shopping Center on Southwest 336th Street.

restaurant's namesake is one of 10 types of expresso made at Caffe Latte. Almond and vanilla flavored expresso are some others.

The quaint little shop, decorated with a modern flair in red, black, white, mirrors and neon, also features pastries from Kringle's Bakery in Federal Way, soups and homemade sandwiches.

Six small tables invite guests to sit and relax to supplement the expresso-to-go traffic.

Owners Barbara and Kerry Callison and Ron Prohaska plan to begin selling in January several varieties of whole coffee beans from Stewart Brothers. Their expresso drinks are made with Stewart Brothers coffee, too.

Coffee lovers also can find all the coffee paraphernalia they could want at Caffe Latte. Mugs, expresso machines and cups, grinders and aprons are sold, across from the frozen yogurt machine and yummy yogurt toppings.

Caffe Latte hours are 6 a.m. to 9 p.m. weekdays and 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. weekends. Call 874-5264 to find out more.

Fine Japanese restaurants are hard to come by, and the Sakura Ya Restaurant may be quite a find.

Located in Woodmont Place at 26218 Pacific Highway S. in Kent, Sakura Ya offers an extensive menu of authentic Japanese specialties and a beautiful sushi bar boasting 26 preparations of raw fish, octopus, fish eggs, eel and even sea urchin, when it's in season. All sushi is ordered fresh every day Although he opened Sakura Ya as recently as August, owner Thomas Lam is proud that he already has regular customers who return for the sushi as well as main menu items.

Yakisoba (pan-fried noodles, $5.25), yakiniku don (barbequed beef on rice, $4.95) and the beef teriyaki/tempura combination ($9.25) are some of the favorites, he said, and come in large portions.

With dinner prices ranging from $4.95 to $10, his restaurant is one of the most reasonable Japanese eateries around, Lam said.

Guests can watch his expert chef at work cooking their food. And the atmosphere is comfortable for waiting, with wooden floors, a wood-slat ceiling and real plants. The lighting is subdued over tables to seat about 50.

Sakura Ya is open Monday through Saturday 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. and on Sunday from 5 to 9:30 p.m. Call 946-5051 for more information.

You may not think that Federal Way needs another fast food restaurant, but it's about to get one more maybe even two.

Griffith works in 'Working Girl' on the rise.

By KURT HERZOG

"Working Girl" is a working success.

The actors, the dialogue, the direction - everything clicks together so well in this movie. In fact, it's one of the most enjoyable movies of the year.

Central to the movie is one actress who's finally making it big and is responsible for making "Working Girl" a success: Melanie Griffith.

Griffith plays a 30ish New Yorker from the wrong side of the Manhattan-insider tracks trying to make it in the take-noprisoners world of finance.

She's not having much luck, either in her love life or her

At the Movies

"MY STEPMOTHER IS AN ALIEN"

It's love at first sight when Dr. Steve Mills (Dan Aykroyd), an eccentric, widowed scientist, meets the gorgeous Celeste Martin (Kim Basinger) at a cocktail party. He's so taken with her, he refuses to believe his 13-year-old daughter's warnings that Celeste eats batteries and displays other unearthly qualities common to aliens. Be prepared to overlook a shaky plot, but this is a comedy that has its moments. It has the spark of Aykroyd's zaniness that saves the film. it's also got adequate special effects and Basinger, who changes in and out of many skimpy outfits. But the real saving grace is watching Celeste's touching initiation into the human race. Rated PG-13, "My Stepmother is an Alien" is playing at SeaTac South and at Lewis and Clark.

"THE NAKED GUN"

Leslie Neilson plays Lt. Frank Derbin in this zany film from the comedic tradition of the "Police Squad!" series. You're bound to laugh at least at some of the nonstop antics, no matter how stupid and how tasteless some of the jokes and slapstick humor are. It doesn't matter what the plot is. Neilson and co-star Priscella Presley (making her film debut) obviously have fun in a world where Laurel and Hardy would fit. An impressive list of celebrities agreed to make fun of themselves by appearing in the film, including George Kennedy, O.J. Simpson, Jennifer James, Ricardo Montalban and several TV sportscasters. career, until she connects with a kind of good-looking version of T. Boone Pickens, played by Harrison Ford. They team up on an acquisition and merger that turns out to be more than just financial.

The only problem is that to pull the deal off, Griffith must somehow outsmart her bossfrom-hell, played by Sigourney Weaver.

All three actors do an excellent job. Ford has perfected the kind of understated humor that he's shown in other movies and he even manages to come off with a likable eccentricity.

Weaver is excellent as an overbearingly confident yuppie

But it's Griffith's show. Somehow, without looking like a fashion model and without seeming brainy, she manages to be both extremely attractive and smart.

Also, "Working Girl" has some of the funniest scenes in the movies this year.

There is no deep message to "Working Girl" and you're not going to have to do any deep thinking to figure it out. But, that's all right.

It's still one of the most funny, enjoyable movies to come around in a while.

away, and he hopes construction will be underway on the permanent health and services building by early 1990.

WHILE PLANS for a permanent health clinic are being laid, the current make-shift clinic is bulging at the seams of its small quarters at the multi-service center. Low-income families receive health care, food vouchers and nutritional counseling through the Women, Infants and Children (WIC) program there. The clinic also offers pediatric care.

At the new temporary site, the clinic will be able to offer expanded services, Pierce said. A social worker has been added to the staff and nearly all pro-grams offered by full-service clinics, such as the nearest one in Auburn, will be available. The only service not offered at the new temporary site will be the issuance of food handler permits, she said.

Pierce also said the clinic plans eventually to base its local public health nurse program in Federal Way as well. Currently, nurses who serve this area work out of the Auburn clinic.

It didn't take long for the clinic here to outgrow its cramped three-room quarters at the multi-service center, Pierce said, and the need for county health services is growing at a steady clip.

THE CURRENT caseload for WIC services in Federal Way is 300 people per month, clinic records state.

"There is substantial community growth in Federal Way and a lot of it is low-income and those without proper health insurance, those who need our services," Pierce said.

It was earlier hoped that the Federal Way Food Bank, part of the multi-service center, might join the health and social services campus. The food bank has been looking for a new home, too, but its space needs are likely to force it into a home of its own, said Schoon.

The food bank is looking for at least 8,000 square feet of warehouse space, with room to comfortably accommodate freezer and refrigeration units. It recently received a $74,469 federal grant to go toward the purchase of a new building or property on which to build a new food bank.

Two businesses hit by similar robbers

King County police are investigating the possibility that two Federal Way businesses robbed over the weekend may have been hit by the same man.

Reports say a suspect described as a white male, 20-30 years old, standing 5 feet 7 inches to 5 feet 11 inches tall and weighing 150-160 pounds, robbed the Flower Market Jan. 1 and the Frame It shop Dec. 30. In both incidents, the robber was said to have brown hair, dark eyes and a mustache.

King County robbery detectives have noted the similarities and are investigating the possibility the crimes may be related, a detective said.

The Flower Market was robbed at 8:30 p.m. New Year's Day when a man entered the tiny shop at the corner of South 347th Street and Pacific Highway South and or

The Frame It shop, at South 320th Street and 20th Avenue South, was robbed at about 5 p.m. last Friday. The robber entered the store and stuck what the clerk later identified as a stun gun in her back and ordered her to hand over the store's Several Federal Way music students will display their talents at All-Northwest and All-State band and choir performances, both held in the next few months.

All-Northwest performances, to be held in Idaho from Feb. 17 to 20, will include students from seven states. The All-State performance will be held in Everett from March 16 to 19. Students auditioned for both events with tapes of their music, which was judged by a panel of professional musicians.

Chosen for the All-Northwest concert from the Federal Way High School choir are Todd DeMille, Shaun Epp, Ninzel Horsley and Jon Ulrigg. Chosen from the Federal Way High School band are Seyong Lee, Trent Erickson, Ryoko Akeda and Stan Bolinger. Jeff Perry will represent the Federal Way orchestra.

Decatur High School band members in the concert are Rebekha Abbuhl and Andrew Kertesz. Aaron Brooks will represent the orchestra.

Guy Cole, Heather Haynes, Chris Vaugh, Mike Evans, Brian Tervo and Chris Halon will represent the Thomas Jefferson High School band. Jesse Morin of the orchestra was tapped as an alternate.

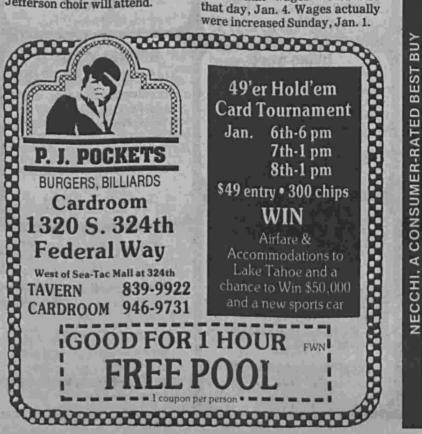

Going to All-State this year are Shaun Epp, Jeff Matthews, Syong Lee, Trent Erickson, Ryoko Akeda and Stan Bolinger of the Federal Way High School band. That school's choir will send Paul Barwell, Todd DeMille, Shaun Epp, Ninzel Horsley, Laura Mitchell and Jon Ulrigg

Katherine Nelson, Suk Sung, Rebekha Abbuhl and Mary Beth Allman will represent the Decatur High School band, and

He is still the leading suspect in two other murders. Police in Bellingham want to question him about the disappearance of 29-year-old Wendy Aughe, who was last seen drinking beer in a Bellingham bar with O'Neall about a month after Smith's murder.

Oregon State Police would like to question him about the death of Lia Elizabeth Szubert, a Boise woman whose body was found in La Grande, Oregon in June, 1987.

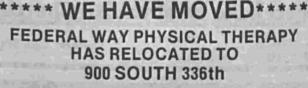

Edna Smith said she was pleased the trial was over, even though she was prepared to go through the painful process of reliving her daughter's death.

New Agers look for God inside themselves

By WENDY CULVERWELL

Pinning down New Age beliefs is a bit like chasing leaves in the wind - just when you've got a grasp on them, they move further ahead.

It's impossible to stereotype New Age beliefs because no one person or group is the New Age movement. Rather, New Age is an umbrella term referring to a way of thinking and perceiving reality.

A small sample of New Age activities includes psychic healing, spirit channeling, yoga, self-improvement, holistic medicine and the use of crystals to synchronize body energies. In some form or another, all of these are practiced by the 300 active members of Federal Way's Unity Church of Christianity.

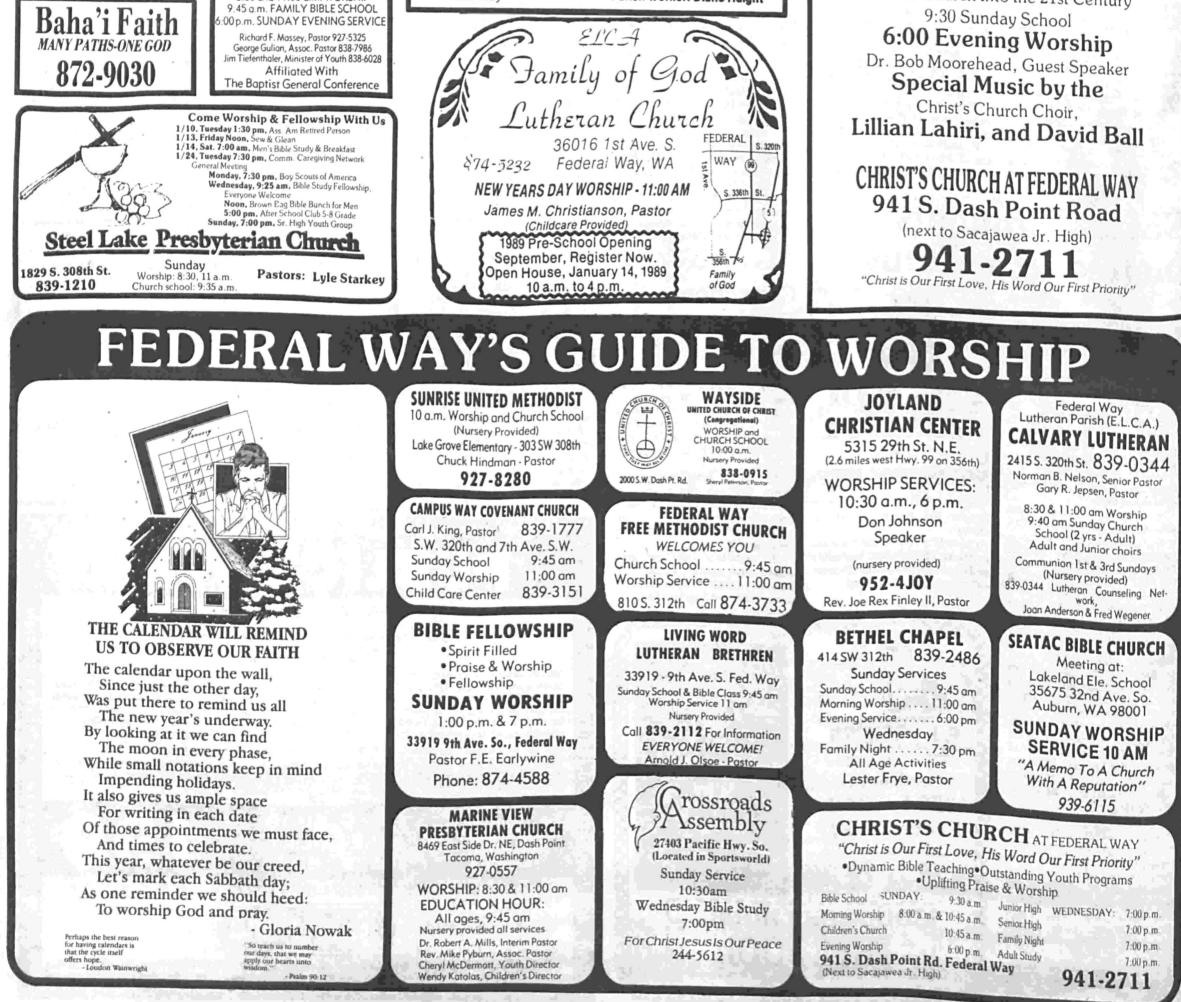

It's leader, the Rev. Thomas Coates, said that such activities help individuals to realize the God spirit inside them.

New Age, according to Russell Chandler, author of the new book, "Understanding the New Age," is the country's rising star of alternative belief systems. Its effects touch everyone, regardless of whether or not they believe its philosophy, which basically says that man can achieve godhood because the Christ spirit is in everyone.

If you saw any of the Star Wars movies, you know that the Force is supposedly an energy field generated by all living things, which Chandler says, "easily passes muster as the New Age definition of God."

YOU MAY like the music of pianist George Winston - that's New Age. And if you're into selfimprovement, that's New Age, too.

heeled, attract much commerlike JZ Knight (channeler of Ramtha, the spirit warrior) and dian mystic and leader of a nowdefunct Oregon commune).

MacLaine and Linda Evans went public with their belief in Ramtha's power.

Knight, however, doesn't have a monopoly on the spirit market, or even on the local spirit market. The Pacific Northwest is popular with Ramtha and his brothers, Mafu (channeled by Penny Torres-Ruben in Oregon) and Zanzoona (channeled by MariJo Donais in Vancouver, Wash.).

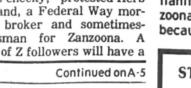

The three selected the Northwest, Zanzoona says, because when the "New Age" comes and the earth purges itself of its pollution, the area will be the least hard hit.

ZANZOONA, "Z" to his followers, is a particular favorite at Federal Way Unity Church. The "ascended master" is said to make his presence known to Federal Way followers even when Donais stays in Vancouver. His strong presence, said Coates, requires no physical form.

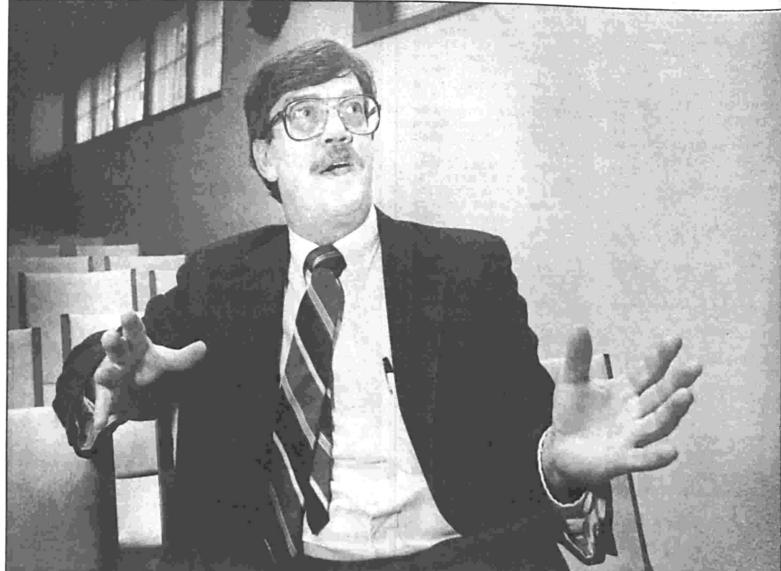

Followers heard Chandler interviewed on KIRO radio last month when the author visited Seattle on a book promotion tour. The Z people didn't care much for what Chandler, a Los Angeles Times religion writer/New Age skeptic, had to say about the less tangible aspects of New Age- the powers of crystals, the merits of psychic healing and the validity of channelers.

KIRO wouldn't have dared let Chandler be so critical had the subject been Judaism, said Coates.

"It's cheeky," protested Herb Huseland, a Federal Way mortgage broker and sometimesspokesman for Zanzoona. A group of Z followers will have a chance to rebut Chandler on KIRO at 11 a.m., Jan. 13.

SPIRIT GUIDES are only a part of New Age and of Unity the major New Age center here, though Huseland explained that his church has as many belief systems as it does members.

"We try to stay away from channeling people toward a specific area of belief," Huseland said. "Unity isn't all of New Age and New Age isn't all of Unity."

Still, some beliefs are shared by most New Agers.

Chandler and Coates agree that reincarnation is a central New Age tenet.

Reincarnation is, Coates said, a forgotton staple of mainline Christianity, and it fits well with the New Age belief that humans are souls passing through this particular plane.

Zanzoona, for instance, says he's an incarnation of Agamemnon, who you may remember from your ancient Greek history as being a Greek hero of the Trojan War. He was murdered soon after his homecoming by his wife, Clytemnestra.

As Zanzoona explains the story, Clytemnestra didn't finish him off. He escaped to a monastery and finished his days in meditation. It was there that he achieved enlightenment and ascended to his current form.

Ascension is another belief central to New Age - humans can achieve Godhood through the Christ spirit inside them. This is one of many areas where followers get in trouble with mainline Christians, who assert God is separate from man and earth, not a collective energy force.

"THAT'S QUITE different from the Judeo-Christian view that God is a person (and) stands apart from his creation," said Chandler during a local interview.

Perhaps the best way to understand the difference is to examine the New Age, Unitystyle, religious structure. As the church's name implies, Unity is a Christian church, steeped in the Bible, though not exclusively. The denomination is nearly 100 years old, but the Federal Way congregation is unusually progressive, said both Huseland and Coates.

But, Coates said, where traditional denomination-bound Christians get "hung up" on the name "Jesus," Coates proceeds to "Christ," which, he explained, is not a name but the God spirit, a title. The real way to look at "Jesus Christ," Coates said, is "Jesus, Christ."

In New (Age) Thought, the Christ spirit is in all of us.

"Jesus knew who he was. We have forgotton who we are,' Coates said.

Achieving that state is the focus of a variety of New Age practices — the list includes the above-mentioned spirit channeling, crystals, yoga, meditation, self-improvement, holistic health care and numerous Eastern-based religions and exercises, such as acupuncture.

New Age has redeeming qualities, said Chandler. Its advocacy of world peace, the environment, and social causes has merit. And holistic health care is gaining the respect of western medicine.

"There is a real tie-in between emotional and physical wellbeing," Chandler said, adding, that "You don't have to be a New Ager to adhere to that."

BUT THE frauds who attach themselves to New Age riches (remember the New Age profile - young, educated, professional) also attach a "snakeoily" shine to the business, said Chandler.

Hangers-on are attracted by the riches accumulated by Knight through Ramthainspired books, seminars and classes. And don't forget the Bhagwan's penchant for Rolls Royces, although Zanzoona hasn't hit it that big, said Huseland and Coates.

Chandler's criticisms are aimed at phonies like the "psychic surgeon'' exposed when chemical analysis showed blood supposedly coming from a woman's body actually came from a chicken. Channeling also has been the subject of many explanations - everything from the emerging subconscious of the channeler to actual entities have been named as the cause.

Still, if they are actually entities, Chandler rings a warning bell.

"I'm not convinced that the entities that come out are what they say they are or that they have the wisdom to guide people's lives," he said.

On a more positive note, Unity will hold a fundraiser for its Baby Amber fund, at Z's behest. Amber was a Florida infant in need of a liver transplant, but she died this week, unable to pay for the operation. The church will still hold its fundraiser, but the money will go to another child in Amber's situation.

The program, featuring an appearance by Zanzoona/Donais, will start at 7 p.m., Jan. 7, at Unity, 35905 16th Ave. S. Call 838-4202 for more information.

King County has determined that the platting of land to be used for office buildings in West Campus does not require preparation of an environmental impact statement (EIS).

The Quadrant Corp. is proposing to subdivide 3.42 acres into four lots north of Southwest 336th Street and 250 feet east of 21st Avenue Southwest. Office buildings will eventually be built on the lots.

Eagles bury Rogers, move into tie for first

By CHUCK MINGORI

The Federal Way girls' basketball team rebounded from its only loss of the season so far by routing the Rogers Rams on Tuesday, 58-39.

Coupled with Puyallup's 47-37 loss to Decatur, Federal Way moved into a three-way tie for first place in the South Puget Sound League's North Division with the Vikings and Gators at 3-1. Rogers fell to 2-2.

Puyallup had stopped Federal Way's unbeaten streak at seven on Dec. 19, 48-39, but the Eagles came back from the holidays with a vengeance after their only loss of the year.

"You forget Puyallup real fast when you play as well as the kids played tonight," said Federal Way coach Chuck Czubin.

Czubin, noting that after Puyallup beat Federal Way last year, the Eagles went on a seven-game winning streak, said, "I hope we can do it again."

The Eagles exploited the Ram defense for 41 first-half points while holding the Rams to only 17. Rogers was playing without its leading scorer, Sara Billings, who was sidelined with the flu.

"It was a little easier than we thought it was going to be," said Czubin, "but the kids played very well. We got 'em inside, we got 'em outside and we got 'em on the fast break.

SHANNON SEHLIN scorched the nets for 20 points to lead the way for the Eagles and she also had eight rebounds, while Jenny Mahlstedt finished with 16 points, four rebounds and five assists.

Federal Way drew outstanding board play from Kelly Czubin, who pulled down a teamhigh 11 rebounds to go along with her four points. Cyndi Shahan scored eight points and also had eight rebounds and Brooke Edwards came off the bench to snare six boards and score two points. Guard Janelle Oakeley dished out a team-high seven assists while also hitting five of six free throws.

Rogers shot poorly from the field, as the Rams were just 14 of 62 for 22.5 percent against a tough Eagle zone defense. The Rams were 11 for 20 at the free throw line.

Meanwhile, Federal Way made 23 of 46 for an even 50 per-cent from the floor and the Eagles were 12 of 21 at the line.

Two baskets from out top by Rogers' Jenny Stewart brought the Rams to within two at 9-7 in the first quarter, but Federal Way went on a 9-2 tear to close the period on top, 18-9, after Sehlin sank a basket right before the buzzer off an assist from Mahstedt.

Sehlin and Mahlstedt were a deadly combination for Federal Way, as the two combined for 25 of Federal Way's 41 first-half points.

The two had little problem cracking the Rams' defense. Sehlin drove along the baseline for a nice move inside to give Federal Way a 24-11 lead. She also hit from the outside later in the period to keep the Eagles up by 13 and then worked her way back inside to put Federal Way ahead by a 30-15 margin.

OAKELEY SCORED all five of her points from the free throw line in the second quarter to add to the Eagle assault, while Mahlstedt scored an easy two off the break and also nailed a basket from the outside to give her team a 38-15 lead. Edwards hit a running bank shot off the glass for a 40-17 Eagle advantage before Oakeley added a free throw prior to the end of the first half to make it 41-17.

Jennifer Evans gave Federal Way its biggest lead of the game at 48-18 with 1:46 left in the third quarter when she drove to the basket for two and then added a free throw after the foul.

"We need a game like that every once in a while to get their spirits back," said Czubin of his squad's easy win.

IT WON'T be easy for the next three games, however, as the Eagles travel to Jefferson tomorrow for a 7:30 p.m. tip-off against the red-hot Raiders, who have won three in a row. Federal Way will then host Curtis Monday and travel to Lakes Wednesday before its next game - Jan. 19 at Spanaway Lake.

Gator girls post big win over Viks

By TIM CLINTON

It isn't lonely at the top at this point, but the Decatur girls' basketball team is happy to be there.

The Gators convincingly knocked off Puyallup, 47-37, Tuesday to join the Vikings and the Federal Way Eagles at the top of the South Puget Sound League North Division standings at 3-1.

"It's a good spot to be in right now," said Decatur head coach Gary Baker after the win at. home. "But we have a long way to go. This wasn't a championship game. I'm happy to get my #### a 13-5 lead. Decatur started another run right before the end of the half. With her team up, 17-13, Medges sank a free throw, and Barrett put back a miss by Laky with 32 seconds to go.

Barrett then brought in a shot attempt by Puyallup's Lisa Hammond on the other end of the court, and that set the stage for an unusual finish to the first half.

Kim Houston was sent to the free throw line at the sevensecond mark and missed, with the ball going out of bounds to the Gators.

kids off a big win after the start we had."

The Gators had gotten out of the gate slowly at 0-5, including four preseason games and an SPSL-opening 36-30 loss to Federal Way.

But all that is forgotten now with Decatur's first-ever victory over the five-time defending SPSL champions.

"The history doesn't matter," said Baker. "What it does show is that we have pretty good athletes, and when we start playing as a team the others will have to contend with us."

THE GATORS were missing one of their key starters up front in 5-10 senior forward Tanya Fischer, who was sidelined with an illness. Her spot was filled by 5-11 junior Shannon Barrett.

"She had a great first half." said Baker of Barrett. "But she got tired the second half. She's come a long ways since being sick herself (during the preseason)."

She also got into foul trouble along with 6-0 senior center Shelley Richter during a Decatur dry spell, and the game seemed touch-and-go for awhile.

Puyallup scored seven straight as the Gators went scoreless between 6:12 in the third quarter and 7:03 in the fourth, cutting the lead to 31-20.

Fortunately for Decatur, the Vikings only made one of eight tries at the free throw line during that time, and then 5-9 junior forward Kathy Laky rose to the occasion for the Gators.

Laky broke the string with a pair of free throws, and then iced back-to-back shots from the field to break the game open again.

"That got us back into it," said Baker. "It helped us remember we could score."

THE VIKINGS scored first in the game on a shot from underneath by Rhonda McCaw, and were still on top at 4-1 and 5-

Laky tied it at 5-5 with 1:21 to play in the first quarter, though, and put the Gators ahead to stay at the end of the period at 7-5 by putting one up from underneath.

She also scored the opening basket of the second quarter on a fast break, and Richter followed with a basket before backup forward Nicole Adkins fielded an inbounds pass and put it in for missed both shots, but Decatur got the rebound and Medges swished in a three-point shot at the buzzer.

Barrett buried a two-pointer as the second half opened to continue to scoring string, and Medges, Houston and Richter all followed with scores in order for a 31-13 lead.

Decatur then stalled, before Laky got her team on track again in the fourth quarter.

WE PLAYED good defense, and did not let them get good shots or second shots," said Baker. "What we did do was hustle and fight for the rebound."

Laky led the Gators in scoring with 16 points and Medges, who controlled the offense at the point guard position, had eight. Richter was next with seven and Adkins had six off the bench.

Houston, who Baker credited with a strong defensive performance at guard, had four along with Barrett and Heidi Bertch scored two.

Decatur closed out the first round of North Division play against Sumner last night (after press time), and starts crossover action with the South with a 7:30 p.m. visit from Clover Park Monday.

then fouled and By GERARDO BOLONG The Thomas Jefferson boys' basketball team played well in spots, but fell victim to tough defense and scoring spurts en route to a 63-47 South Puget Sound League loss to Sumner Tuesday night.

"These road games are always tough," said Sumner coach Tim Thomsen. "We tried to apply defensive pressure and deny (Steve) Johnson the ball. This was one time when we had a size advantage at guard.

"TJ played their hearts out after Johnson fouled out and we have a lot of respect for (Bruce) Case's program."

"Pete Adams was tough to stop when Sumner had the ball," said Raider coach Bruce Case. "We had some good moments, but the Spartan defense took us out of our game."

Good moments for Jefferson occurred in the first quarter. Daryn Ditmore opened the game with a bucket to give the Raiders a 2-0 lead. Center Steve Johnson converted a free throw at the 5:07 mark to give Jefferson a 5-4 lead. It would be their last lead of the game.

Pivotman Dennis Austin sent Sumner ahead for good with a basket from the right side. Forward Pete Adams followed with a rebound hoop and the Spartans raced to a 16-9 lead.

AARON MARTIN'S tip-in at the buzzer closed Sumner's lead to four at 16-12.

Jefferson's 6-7 Johnson earned three points from the charity line to get the Raiders to within one at 16-15. Terry Hornbuckle had a chance to put Jefferson ahead, but missed the front end of a one-and-one situation.

Adams worked his way in for a goal which keyed a Sumner spurt of 11 unanswered points. Ditmore got Sumner back on the board with two free throws to end the Sumner run at 3:24 in the second quarter.

The half ended with Sumner in command, 37-22.

Eight of the 10 Thomas Jefferson points in the second quarter were from the foul stripe.

Sumner's Spartans stretched their lead to 18 points, 46-28, with 2:04 remaining in the third quarter. Minutes earlier, Jefferson's Johnson had fouled out. Things looked grim for the Raider five.

Suddenly, Jefferson came to life. Consecutive baskets by Brad Kolbo, Cale Tolmich and Martin gave the Raiders a deficit of only 46-34 after three quarters.

After two Sumner free throws. Tolmich tallied a goal and Jamie Sonnenfeld hit a short baseline jumper to draw Jefferson within 10, 48-38,

ONCE AGAIN, Adams countered for the Spartans. His driving layin followed by a free throw stretched Sumner's lead to 13 and that was the ballgame.

Unable to score consistently from the inside or outside, the Jefferson boys were reduced to chasing and fouling for the rest of the way.

Sumner's Adams led all scorers with 26 points and was credited for good defense and rebounding.

Martin led Jefferson with 12 points, while Johnson hauled down 10 rebounds.

"Although we lost, we saw some good things," added Case. "Kolbo, Tolmich and Hornbuckle played well off the bench."

Jefferson managed to win the JV game, 51-36.

The Raiders will take their 0-4 league mark and their 1-8 record on the year to Federal Way tonight for a 7:30 tip-off.

Decatur loses big, but remains in the hunt

The Decatur basketball team took a 74-48 loss at Puyallup Tuesday, but still finds itself in the South Puget Sound League playoff picture.

The Gators are tied with twice-defending SPSL champion Federal Way for third place behind three teams in the SPSL's North Division at 1-3.

Puyallup and Rogers lead the way at 4-0, but Sumner is only one game up on Decatur at 2-2 in a league where the top three teams in each division go on to the SPSL tournament.

The Spartans will provide the Gators' opposition in a 7:30 p.m. game on the Decatur court today.

The Gators led the Vikings, 15-12, at the end of the first quarter Tuesday, but got buried by an 18-8 Puyallup rally in the se-cond. The Vikings then outscored Decatur, 24-8, in the third.

Brian Herting was deadly for Puyallup, scoring a game-high range. Joe Worley was right behind with 17.

Decatur was led by the 12 points of Joey Roni, and Kenny Lester and Clevestine Wesson scored eight apiece.

Chris Brauer added six and Marcus Hentschell had five along with Pete Klobutcher. while Josh Austin and Dann

The Thomas Jefferson girls' basketball team broke into the South Puget Sound League win column Tuesday with a 50-41 victory at Sumner.

Sophomore Barb Beesley scored 29 points to lead the Raiders to their first SPSL win. Jefferson is now 1-3 in league play and 5-4 overall and riding high on a three-game win streak.

Sumner held a 10-8 lead after one period, a 21-18 advantage at halftime and the Spartans also were on top after three quarters, 31-29. But the Raiders rallied to outscore Sumner 21-10 in the final quarter and win going away.

Jolene Hering added nine points for Jefferson, while Karen Mingus finished with five, Julie Kikuchi had three and Nancy Oswald and Joni Weiss scored two each.

Jefferson resumes league play at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at home against crosstown rival Federal Way.

champion Eagles, they are now tied with Decatur for third behind three other teams at 1-3. Sumner stands between Federal Way and the top two teams in the division at 2-2.

The Eagles will host Thomas Jefferson (0-4) at 7:30 p.m. today, while Sumner visits Decatur and Puyallup goes to Rogers. Crossover action for Federal Way begins Tuesday with a trip to the home of 4-0 Curtis.

Ed Miller was the leading scorer for the Eagles with 18 points, and Darren Albright add-center Jason Schmidt scored eight, as Donnie Marshall scored seven and Lake Dawson five.

The Rams were paced by the 18 points of Brian Isakson and Spencer hit 14 with Eric Hilden
