Residents coping with blast of arctic air

THE WEDNESDAY MORNING snowfall was unkind to Ruck Innes, a phone installer for U.S. WEST Communications, as he connected lines in the Ridgeway housing development. The blustery snowfall that hit that morning will likely not be repeated this weekend, but it will be bitterly cold here, say weather forecasters.

It's g-g-going to remain c-c-cold

You don't need to be told that it's uncommonly cold outside. And you probably don't want to hear that it's going to stay that way, at least for a couple more days, says the National Weather Service.

The chilling temperatures and numbing winds that have crippled Alaska for nearly three weeks began moving south earlier this week, making their presence known in the Federal Way area late Tuesday night and early Wednesday morning.

While storm clouds dumped 3 to 7 inches of snow on the area Wednesday, winds of up to 30 miles per hour dropped the wind chill factor to minus 17 degrees. The air temperature fell into the low teens Wednesday and is expected to hover near there today.

Yesterday set a record for a low high. The previous low high mark for Feb. 2 was 30 degrees, said Tom Swift of the weather service. Yesterday's high never broke the 20s.

Western Washingtonians accustomed to a more moderate climate are feeling besieged, but compared to other parts of the state and neighboring states, they've enjoyed a warm spell. Bellingham residents braved a wind-chill factor of minus 50 degrees brought on by winds that gusted to more than 100 mph. In Great Falls, Mont., the air temperature dropped to minus 27 degrees for a low, with a high of minus 25 degrees.

Weather forecasters are calling for continued cold today and tomorrow, with a slight thawing trend beginning Sunday. Skies should be partially cloudy with a slight chance of snow flurries. Highs are expected to be in the mid to high teens, with lows around 5 degrees. Wind chill factors are expected to remain even lower, with winds in the 10-20 mph range.

By MELODIE STEIGER

Blame it on Valhalla.

Karol Nevers' first-grade class at that elementary school had been writing about snow, singing about snow, chanting poetry about snow and looking to the sky, hoping for at least a few cold flakes.

Yesterday, home from school for the second day because of Wednesday's sudden, thick snowfall, Nevers said her first-graders should be satisfied.

"In fact, they'd probably love to be at school, playing on the playground with their friends," she said.

They may indeed be playing, but they won't be making snowmen or even snowballs with the stuff that dropped from the sky this week. This is powder snow, the fluffy kind good for snow angels and scooping neatly off car windshields, but difficult to pack.

If you're not driving, it's friendlier snow than the wet stuff that usually falls here, and it came with plenty of warning. King County residents learned early in the week that a cold front from Alaska would sideswipe Washington with snow and bone-chilling cold.

PREPARATION FOR the freeze began Tuesday and Wednesday as Federal Way residents lined up scores deep at grocery stores, auto supply shops and video stores. Dave Aune, owner of Movies and More video rental shop on South 312th Street, said business was brisk Tuesday night and by Wednesday afternoon served more than 200 customers.

It was a good day, if it had been a Saturday, he said. It was a great day for a Wednesday.

"And now they're all sitting at home in front of the fireplace and the TV, hoping there will be no power outage," Aune said.

Schuck's Auto Supply store couldn't move tire chains and antifreeze fast enough for its anxious mobs of customers. Sears' automotive department called in its entire crew to sell chains and mount studded tires.

It didn't seem to matter that both public and private schools here were closed, that community colleges were locked up tight and that large employers like Boeing and Weyerhaeuser were

LOCAL POLICE report few, if any, serious snow-related accidents in the Federal Way area, but don't tell the driver of this car, which skidded off the road on 55th Avenue South just north of South 288th Street.

Snow, ice, authorities discourage driving

By LYNN KEEBAUGH

If you're thinking about venturing out in your car, local authorities have some advice for you: Don't.

The snow may have abated, but the continued cold and ice may still make driving treacherous, especially if you don't have studded tires, snow tires or chains. By noon on Wednesday, the Washington State Patrol already had responded to more than 200 accidents countywide and received reports of countless more fender-benders they had to ignore.

The accidents are piling up, said Lt. Hans Kwast, because drivers are trying to drive without traction devices and many are fooled by the powdery snow.

Tips to keep cold cars running

If you have to leave your car parked outside overnight, there are a few things you can do to make sure it gets going again in the morning.

First of all, make sure you have a half water and half antifreeze mixture in your radiator. That should keep your car's cooling system working to 35 degrees below zero, according to Milt Harnden of the state office of the American Automobile Association.

Also, make sure the car is parked out of the way of traffic, preferably in a driveway.

Frozen locks are a big problem in cold weather. Aerosol cans of an alcohol mixture that will sometimes help free locks are available at auto supply stores.

A blanket over the windshield will help keep off frost. Harnden recommends drivers make sure their windshield wipers aren't frozen to the windshield to avoid burning out wiper motors.

Car batteries lose about 40 percent of their cranking power in weather this cold. If the battery isn't providing enough cranking power, try taking the battery indoors until it warms to room temperature and then try again.

Harnden also cautions that it's a big mistake to leave your parking brake on for very long in such weather. The cables or the brakes themselves will freeze if left on very long. If you're parked on a hill, leave a block of wood in front of the tires.

Remember to use chains on streets that are still snow covered, but don't exceed 35 mph with chains on.

GLENN CLOSE as the scheming Madame de Merteuil and John Malkovich as the aristocratic rogue Vicomte de Valmont plot the seduction of a virtuous married woman

(Michelle Pfeiffer) in "Dangerous Liaisons." The movie is based on the classic French novel, "Les Liaisons Dangereuses."

Morality wins out in 'Liaisons'

By KURT HERZOG

Sexual and emotional games are the subject of "Dangerous Liaisons."

The movie plays those games out with a lot of humor, but eventually they lead to a tragic ending.

There's also a lot of fun and remarkably witty dialogue, if you're a fan of double entendres.

John Malkovich and Glenn Close play 18th Century French aristocrats who are associates and self-professed masters of betrayal and sexual gamesmanship.

The games they so casually play to ruin lives, or at least reputations, are the decadent diversions of the odious, spoiled upper classes.

Betrayal, decadence, fun are included in story of tragedy

Together, Malkovich, as the Vicomte de Valmont, and Close, as the Marquise de Merteuil, contrive to take revenge on the Marquise's former lover who jilted her. The plan is for the Vicomte to deflower the convent-raised virgin the Marquise's former lover plans to marry.

In exchange, the Marquise will consent to a night of passion with the Vicomte.

However, Malkovich has other targets in mind as well, namely the pious and beautiful Madame de Tourvel, played by Michelle Pfeiffer.

To seduce such a moral woman, causing her to betray everything she holds sacred, would truly be an accomplishment, he believes.

The plot becomes more twisted than the two debauchers' minds. The dialogue is shockingly enjoyable and much of the movie is decadent fun.

However, above all,

"Dangerous Liaisons" is a morality play with an effective ending. I won't give the ending away. Suffice it to say the Vicomte and the Marquise get what's coming to them.

The lesson is timeless: human emotions are not to be trifled with so callously.

All the cast does an excellent job, even though Malkovich is just too goofy looking to be taken seriously as a champion Casanova.

Nonetheless, the movie is very enjoyable and has a valuable message.

"Dangerous Liaisons" is rated R. It's playing at the Varsity Theater in Seattle and is scheduled to open in Federal Way during the coming weeks.

Gala opening planned for new theater

After several setbacks, opening day of the new General Cinemas eight-plex movie theater has been stepped up to Feb. 10.

Although construction problems delayed the theater's opening, first from the fall to the end of January, and then to Feb. 17, opening day has now been moved up a week to Feb. 10, and there it will stay.

"We're ready," said Linda Russell, a division manager for General Cinemas.

Grand opening festivities will include free movies for two weekends. At 10:30 a.m. on Feb. 11, 12, 18, 19 and 20, movie-goers can tour the new theater complex and choose one of eight free features. "Big," "Die Hard," "Crocodile Dundee II," "Short Circuit II," "Willow," "Cocktail," "Three Men and a Baby" and "The Chipmunk Adventure" are the starting line-up.

Beginning at 10 a.m. each of those days, jugglers, magicians, clowns, mimes, balloon artists and face painters will entertain the theater's first patrons. In addition, prizes and give-aways, including a trip for four to Disneyland, bicycles, kayaks and season movie passes, will continue through opening week.

Besides the free movies, the complex will offer a completely different movie line-up for its usual admission times and prices.

"The Fly II" will play on two of the screens, and "Cousins," "Crossing Delancy," "Tequila Sunrise," "Madame Sousaska," "Kinjite" and "Who Framed Roger Rabbit?" will fill in the other six screens.

Prices are $5.50 for adults, $3 for senior citizens and $2.50 for children for evening movies. A bargain matinee will be offered every weekday until 6 p.m. and for the first shows on Saturday and Sunday. Matinee prices are $3 for adults and $2.50 for children.

The new theater is located in Gateway Center shopping center at South 320th Street and Interstate 5. Call the theater's recorded message at 946-2292 for more information.

At the Movies

"DIRTY ROTTEN SCOUNDRELS"

This movie qualifies as one of the best comedies of the year. Michael Caine plays Lawrence Jamison, a charming rogue who makes his money by soaking rich, corrupt women for all they're worth. Steve Martin plays Freddy Benson, a small-time scam artist living hand-to-mouth in the south of France. When these two get together, the result is predictable — competition. Who's the best con man? Their struggle is the focus of the film. The chemistry between the two stars keeps the story clicking fast enough to overcome minor deficiencies in the script. The movie is also refreshingly clean. You can count the number of curses on one hand, minus your thumb, and they are of the tamest variety. "Dirty Rotten Scoundrels" is rated PG and is playing at SeaTac South and at Lewis and Clark.

"THE NAKED GUN"

Leslie Nielsen plays Lt. Frank Dabner in this zany film from the comedic tradition of the "Police Squad!" series. You're bound to laugh at least at some of the non-stop antics, no matter how stupid and how tasteless some of the jokes and slapstick humor are. It doesn't matter what the plot is. Nielsen and co-star Priscilla Presley (making her film debut) obviously have fun in a world where Laurel and Hardy would fit. An impressive list of celebrities agreed to make fun of themselves by appearing in the film, including George Kennedy, O.J. Simpson, Jennifer James, Ricardo Montalban and several TV sportscasters. "The Naked Gun" is rated PG-13 and is playing at SeaTac South and Lewis and Clark.

"RAIN MAN"

"Rain Man" is a classical contrast between character playing and character stereotype. Tom Cruise plays his usual slick self, this time a high-strung Los Angeles businessman. Dustin Hoffman is his autistic math genius brother and his performance is impeccable. The two meet, essentially for the first time, when their father dies, leaving his considerable estate to the institution where the autistic lives. Cruise kidnaps him from the institution. He needs the money to finance his latest business failure. Since the autistic brother won't fly (he knows the date and casualties of every plane crash ever), the two drive across the country, giving them a chance to get to know one another. The businessman puts two and two together — he needs money, his brother is a math genius and Las Vegas is down the road — after what seems like forever. The rest is history as Cruise's character gains respect for the abilities of his brother. Hoffman fans will love "Rain Man," which is rated R and is playing at SeaTac North.

"TWINS"

"Twins" is as funny as it's cracked up to be. Danny DeVito and Arnold Schwarzenegger star as twin brothers who are the result of a laboratory experiment to develop the perfect human being. Schwarzenegger comes out the way scientists had hoped, but DeVito's a mutant who wasn't supposed to be born. Schwarzenegger, making his comical debut, discovers that he has a brother, after being raised on a tropical island. He sets out to find him and his family roots. The two meet up in sunny California, where DeVito lives a slimy life stealing cars to pay off his debts. He bites off more than he can chew, though, and needs the assistance of his big brother, who naively comes to the rescue. If you're looking for a laugh, go see "Twins." It's rated PG and playing at SeaTac South.

"WORKING GIRL"

"Working Girl" is a working success. Melanie Griffith, Sigourney Weaver and Harrison Ford team up to make it one of the most enjoyable movies to come around in a while. Griffith plays a New Yorker trying to make it in the take-no-prisoners world of finance. She connects with Ford, a good-looking version of T. Boone Pickens. They team up on an acquisition that turns out to be more than just financial. But to pull the deal off, Griffith must somehow outsmart her boss-from-hell — Weaver. There are no deep messages in "Working Girl," but it has some of the funniest scenes in movies. "Working Girl" is rated R and is playing at Lewis and Clark.

'E.T.' becomes new boycott target

Religious groups outraged by MCA/Universal's "The Last Temptation of Christ" are staging a boycott of the video release of MCA's "E.T. The Extra-Terrestrial."

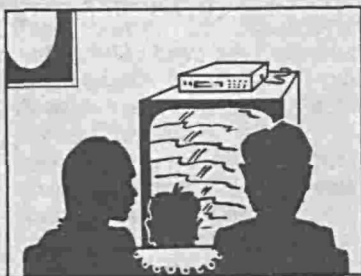

The National Assoc. of Evangelicals (which represents 50,000 local churches with a membership of ten million) and the Southern Baptist Convention are urging members not to buy or rent "E.T." as a way of showing displeasure with MCA.

"We are not protesting 'E.T.' as a production," says Donald R. Brown of NAE. "We asked our members not to purchase 'E.T.' to show MCA we did not like its insensitivity with the handling of 'The Last Temptation of Christ.'"

Some video retailers have already received letters from consumers asking them not to stock "Temptation," including New Jersey's Palmer Video chain. Palmer President Peter Balner shrugs off the protests.

"Just because there are a couple of vocal groups out there I am not going to change my buying patterns," he says. As for the "E.T." boycott, Balner doesn't think that will have much of an effect. So far, the Palmer chain alone has purchased 33,000 copies.

"Three Men and a Baby" (Touchstone cassette, HI-FI stereo, $89.95)

Video Review

"Three Men and a Baby" leaves a taste as predictable and warm as a baby's formula.

In this version of Coline Serreau's French farce "Three Men and a Cradle" (a 1985 foreign-language Oscar nominee), three swinging New York bachelors live a glamorous life, sharing a somewhat overly showy apartment.

While Ted Danson's out of town, a bundle of joy unexpectedly turns up on their doorstep and the remaining two bachelors (Tom Selleck and Steve Guttenberg) are forced to care for the baby. In the process, they learn a bit more than they expected about life and themselves.

The key to this movie is director Leonard Nimoy. He knows full well that we can easily surmise what will happen once the initial shock of the blessed arrival wears off. The little darling will get hungry, she'll need a diaper change and she'll quickly bring chaos to the apartment.

But Nimoy tackles that premise perfectly. The guys start out as amiable, frantic klutzes — putting on the wrong size diaper, finding themselves bewildered in the baby-formula section of the supermarket and trying to readjust their ordered, self-centered lives according to the baby's schedule.

Screenwriters James Orr and Jim Cruickshank, who wrote Touchstone's "Tough Guys," have been able to create believably separate identities for the bachelors so that they really are three different sorts of men, though all faced with the same dilemma.

The movie is not without minor flaws. There's a rather dumb and superfluous subplot involving a drug delivery, which might make many parents hesitate showing the movie to younger children. But it doesn't quite ruin it, thank goodness.

There's a nice cameo by Celeste Holm as Danson's strong-minded mother, who refuses to bail her son and his friends out of their predicament. As for the baby, she's played by twins Lisa and Michelle Blair.

When released theatrically, "Three Men and a Baby" became a hit, delighting audiences of all ages and dispositions.

Jeffrey Lyons

"Willow" (RCA/Columbia cassette, HI-FI stereo, $89.95)

If you ask us, this movie got a bum rap from most of the critics. The people we know who saw it liked it. But a great many reviewers berated it as just a rehash of George Lucas, "Star Wars" formula.

But not all formulas are created equal. Many genre pictures use the same exact formula over and over to everyone's delight and satisfaction. Lucas developed an adventure saga formula that worked a decade ago, so why not try it again?

Lucas knew that if he were going to reuse a basic structure, he'd better flesh it out with new ideas. So, in collaboration with director Ron Howard, he threw in everything but the kitchen sink to make this a rousing entertainment experience.

"Willow" is the story of a little person who reluctantly sets out on a journey to return an infant to its rightful place and see that it fulfills its destiny. But nothing goes as planned.

Our diminutive hero finds himself caught up in an epic-scale, anything-can-happen adventure. Along the way he acquires an unlikely ally named Macmardian (the Han Solo-type anti-hero, well played by Val

Auburn opens children's theater

The Hot Dog Children's Theatre Workshop, a newly formed children's company sponsored by the Avenue Act I Theatre, will open its first production tomorrow afternoon.

Local children and adults starting at age 5 will perform "Alice in Wonderland" every Saturday afternoon in February.

Curtain time is 1 p.m. for the two-act play, but the door's open at 12:30. One free hot dog will be served to all children 12 years and younger, and hot dogs and other concessions will be on sale for all other guests.

Tickets are $3.50 for adults and $2.50 for children 12 years and younger.

The theater is located at 10 Auburn Ave. Call the box office at 833-0620 for more information.

Local philharmonic plays pop tomorrow

The Federal Way Philharmonic orchestra and the Cornucopia Concert Band will perform a "Winter Picnic with the Pops" tomorrow night at 8 p.m. in St. Theresa's Church in Federal Way, if weather permits.

The Cornucopia Concert Band, a 21-member Pacific Northwest revival band, will perform fox trots, rags and novelty tunes in costumes dating back to the early 20th Century.

Then the Philharmonic, a local community band comprised of professional and semi-professional musicians, will perform a selection of Broadway tunes and Dixieland jazz arrangements. Donald Barrows, music director of local performing groups Harmony Unlimited and the Puget Sound Musical Theatre, will be the guest conductor.

Playing Near You

Tickets are $25 each for this fundraiser. It's table seating so reservations are required. Tickets are available at The Place for Gifts and Things and at Washington Mutual Savings Bank, both in Federal Way.

Call 244-8755 or 839-9132 for tickets and for more information about possible cancellation because of weather conditions.

Renton troupe opens classic ghost story

The Valley Community Players in Renton opens its third production of its all-mystery season with "The Uninvited" by Dorothy Macardle and adapted by Tim Kelly.

The classic ghost story takes place in a remote coastal area in Maine in the village of Biddecombe. The show is directed by Bart Simcox and features a cast from all over the Seattle area. Curtain time is 8 p.m. Fridays and Saturdays through Feb. 25. The play will show at the CARCO Theatre at 1717 Maple Valley Highway in Renton.

Tickets are $8 for adults and $6 for students and senior citizens.

Call the box office at 226-5190 between noon and 6 p.m. for more information.

'Cabaret' staged at the Paramount

Seafirst's Best of Broadway series opens its 1989 season Feb. 7 with "Cabaret," starring Joel Grey, at Seattle's Paramount Theatre.

First appearing on Broadway in 1966, the famous musical launched Grey into stardom for his role as the emcee. Now, 22 years later, Grey is recreating the role.

"Cabaret" features classic songs such as "Willkommen," "The Money Song" and the title song, "Cabaret."

Depicting a German cabaret

in Berlin in the final days before the Third Reich, the play has earned eight Tony Awards and most recently finished a successful season on Broadway in 1987.

The show will run in Seattle through Feb. 12. Curtain times are 8 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday, 7 p.m. Sunday and 2 p.m. for matinees.

Ticket prices range from $26.50 to $33.50 and are available at all Ticketmaster outlets and by calling Ticketmaster at 628-0888.

Call to confirm any weathered-out events

All events listed in today's entertainment section were scheduled to take place as of the newspaper's press time Wednesday.

However, because of snow, ice and other nasty weather conditions, some or all of these events may be cancelled or postponed.

If you're interested in attending any events listed here, call the number included with each notice to confirm the times and places.

Youth symphony gives free concert

The Tacoma Youth Symphony's winter concert will feature numerous guest artists and local student musicians tomorrow in Tacoma's Pantages Centre for the Performing Arts.

The free concert will be presented at 7:30 p.m. and will celebrate the music of Hector Berlioz and Gustav Mahler.

Local students performing will be Trent Erickson, Lance Johnson, Tim Kutscha and Becky Sundstrom from Federal Way High School and Rebekha Abbuhl, Aneka DePoorter and Andrew Kertesz from Decatur High School.

Also performing in the concert will be Anne Marie Hicker from Highline Community College, Katrina Cordi, Karl Olson and Michael Withers from Kentwood High School in Kent and Rosemary Morrison from Kentridge High School.

Violist Eugene Koh will perform with the symphony, as will soloists Heidi Kankaanpaa, soprano, and Vivian Clayborn Grayson, mezzo-soprano.

The Pantages Centre is located at Ninth Avenue and Broadway Plaza in Tacoma. Call 627-2792 for more information.

Snow doesn't slow cash registers in Federal Way

working with skeleton crews. Even SeaTac Mall was completely closed by 5 p.m. Nevertheless, motorists apparently were bent on going somewhere.

WHERE THEY went was the grocery store, said Charlie Maxwell, manager of Johnny's Grand Central in the Westfair Shopping Center. Business doubled at his store Wednesday.

"All you have to do is say 'snow' and business doubles. It's the world's greatest form of advertising," Maxwell said.

"And what are they buying? It's the craziest stuff. Oven cleaner. Dog shampoo. Who's going to go home and wash the dog? But they get cabin fever and they come to the store."

Sturdy boots were hot sellers at the REI outdoor goods store in Federal Way Tuesday, and many of those pairs were put to use Wednesday as residents hiked through the blowing snow to points unknown. Families trekked together through about 4 inches of the stuff Wednesday morning. They were waded at by slow-going motorists, who often left the hikers in their rooster tails of snow.

"Lovely weather we're having here!" a cheery jeep driver called to a frosty family of hikers.

Decatur student Sean Van Meter and his pals maneuvered bicycles through the snow. Although their goal was the purchase of an inner tube for snow-sliding, Van Meter said they were "just pedalling."

Haruko Niwa, only nine months in Washington since his move from Japan, was trudging to a video store to return a tape when he copped a ride from passers-by. "Very cold, but good view," he said of the weather.

When assured that deep, lingering snow is unusual for Federal Way, he was silent a moment.

"It's good. I prefer rain," he said.

AT LEAST the children like snow, said one harried mother.

Actually, the trouble is keeping them indoors once in a while to thaw out, said Cathy Atkins, a Valhalla mother and Adelaide Elementary School music teacher.

"It looks so wonderful out there that it's hard to tell the kids it could be bad news," Atkins said. "So we're working on close family togetherness. You just have to maintain your sense of humor and pray school opens and you all live through the weekend."

By then, Atkins hopes, life will be back to normal. Her children will be back in school, shops will be open and she can prepare her Adelaide students for a concert Tuesday night.

By Monday, weather gurus predict, life could nearly be back to normal. Employees could return to work. Roads could be pounded into good driving shape. The cold front from Alaska may have moved on.

Don't be too sure, though. Valhalla's first-graders are still out there, somewhere.

"And I've got another snow poem all ready for them," Karol Nevers said enthusiastically.

WHEN REDONDO resident Suzanne Hardesty braves the elements, she really braves the elements. Walking along Redondo Beach Road, Hardesty endures sea spray and snowflakes Wednesday.

Icy roads keep tow trucks busy

them," Kwast said. FEDERAL WAY is getting its share of cars off the road and in ditches, but drivers appear to be avoiding serious accidents, reported Sgt. Mike Meeks of Precinct 5 (Federal Way).

However, he cautioned that if you don't have to drive, stay off the roads, which are still mostly covered with compact snow and ice. Traditional treacherous spots such as South 272nd Street and First Avenue South leading into Redondo should be avoided if possible, he added.

"It's still hazardous wherever you go, so if you do go out, prepare for the worst," Meeks said.

As of Thursday morning, St. Francis Community Hospital reported only a dozen snow-related injuries, most of them "fender-benders," said a spokeswoman. Fire District 39 (Federal Way) was likewise calm. "Status quo," said Boyd Johnson, public education officer.

The icy roads and sub-freezing weather have kept Redondo Towing drivers busy. On Wednesday, calls for tows were coming practically nonstop, said Loreta Sears. And the calls weren't just for wrecks or cars in the ditch, she said.

"A lot of people are having trouble with dead batteries and freezing up in this cold," Sears said.

County road crews have been working 24 hours a day to keep major arterials clear and will continue to do so until the weather lets up, said Rochelle Ogershok of the King County Department of Public Works.

THE STORM dumped snow and left icy conditions uniformly throughout the county, she said, and road crews have been working 12-hour shifts to plow and sand. Once it appears major arterials and emergency routes can stay clear, the crews will move into less-traveled areas, she added.

If you can't afford to stay home but are still wary of driving, most Metro bus routes are in normal operation, although ice on some hilly areas is forcing buses to use alternate routes, said Metro's Jim Lindler.

Many of the buses are behind schedule because of the slick conditions, but chains are keeping the buses on the road, he said. Lindler advises bus riders to bundle up against the cold in case their wait is longer than usual. He also suggests avoiding bus stops on steep hills, and moving to stops at the top or bottom of a potentially bad hill.

Metro also has had crews out sanding roads along with the county, he said. Anyone with questions about bus delays or reroutings can call 447-4800.

If you insist on driving yourself, the state patrol and state American Automobile Association (AAA) office suggest extreme caution.

KEEP YOUR gas tank filled in case you experience long traffic delays, and if you have traction devices, use them, advises Milt Harnden of the AAA. He also cautions to keep windows clear and snow buildup away from tires for unimpeded steering. It wouldn't hurt to dress warmly in case you end up walking, he added.

Harnden and Kwast stress keeping a safe distance between you and the next driver.

"Go slow enough to be able to steer out of trouble instead of hitting your brakes," Kwast said. "You might be doing fine, but you can't control what happens to the guy in front of you."

Some events snowed out

Local schools and community colleges were closed Wednesday and Thursday due to sudden snowfall.

Notice of any further school closures will continue to be announced by area radio stations this morning.

The snow took a toll on several meetings scheduled late this week:

• The meeting of the Federal Way Community Council, originally scheduled for last night, has been rescheduled for 7:30 p.m. next Thursday at school district headquarters.

• A ceremony commemorating the changing of Federal Way's police substation into a full precinct was cancelled early Tuesday morning. It has not yet been rescheduled.

• The Federal Way Chamber of Commerce's monthly luncheon meeting Wednesday was cancelled and probably won't be rescheduled. However, the chamber's annual banquet, set for tomorrow, was expected to proceed as planned as of yesterday afternoon.

Wrap pipes and keep water running

By BRAD BROBERG

Utility officials hope to keep the juice flowing, the heat on, the phones ringing and the water running, but they are asking their customers to help.

The service most vulnerable to the bitter weather is water.

Jim Miller, general manager of the Federal Way Water and Sewer District, advised customers to wrap exposed pipes in rags to keep them warm and then plastic to keep them dry.

Miller said that even short lengths of exposed pipe in crawl spaces should be wrapped.

He said people also should leave at least one indoor faucet running at all times to keep water moving through the system and prevent pipes from freezing.

Miller reminded customers they are responsible for any problems that occur in the lines between their homes and the meter and will have to handle any repairs to that portion of the system themselves or call a plumber.

Customers whose pipes are frozen are advised to wrap the pipes in rags and then pour hot water over them. Miller said they should not attempt to use torches or any other kind of flame.

Miller said people should make sure they know where their shut-off valve is in case a pipe bursts and they need to turn off the water. In an emergency, water and sewer personnel will come out to shut off a customer's water.

The utility's daytime phone number is 941-1516. At nights and on weekends the number is 941-2121.

PUGET POWER and Washington Natural Gas expect to supply record amounts of energy to their customers during this cold spell, although neither utility expects any difficulty meeting demands.

In the case of Puget Power, however, high winds and heavy snow could cause downed lines, although no major outages were reported in the Federal Way area as of yesterday morning.

Utility budget delayed

Federal Way Water and Sewer District commissioners did not approve the district's 1989 budget as scheduled at their Jan. 24 meeting.

District staff had not yet completed a study of the rate hikes that will be needed to cover that budget.

At last estimate, the district would have to raise sewer rates for the average residential customer from $9.50 a month to approximately $12.07 a month in 1989 and $14.26 in 1990.

Those increases are needed to help pay for the district's $34.1 million Lakota secondary sewage treatment plant now under construction.

There are no projected water rate increases.

The board earlier directed staff to cut the projected $35.3 million 1989 budget by 5 percent. Commissioners discussed those reductions at Tuesday's meeting.

The budget is set to be approved at the district's Feb. 7 meeting.

Correction

Wrong number listed for license agency

The phone number for Federal Way Auto License Agency was incorrect in an article about the agency's new location printed Jan. 15.

The correct phone number is 874-8375.

Despite assurances that they will have plenty of energy, Puget Power and Washington Natural Gas have been forced to take extra measures. Puget Power has contacted other power suppliers about the possibility of purchasing more electricity and Washington Natural Gas has tapped into its underground storage facility near Centralia.

Also, Puget Power officials suggest customers refrain from using dishwashers and clothes dryers between the peak hours of 6-9 a.m. and 4-7 p.m.

WITH MOST of its pipes underground, gas company officials are not worried about the cold weather's effect on their delivery system, but the frigid nights do put a strain on furnaces.

To reach the gas company for service or repairs call 838-0411 (south of South 272nd) or 464-1999 (north of South 272nd).

To reach Puget Power for service or repairs call 927-1100.

Like the gas company, many of the phone company's lines are underground and as of yesterday morning there had been no major loss of service in the Federal Way area.

That doesn't mean calls have been getting through without delay. During the height of Wednesday's snowstorm here, circuits were frequently jammed with people calling work, school and each other to exchange storm-related information.

New pastor puts Trinity's troubles in the past

By WENDY CULVERWELL
Trinity Reformed Church on Kent's West Hill has everything a church needs to reach out to its surrounding community.

The church campus includes a full-size gym, a commercial kitchen, extensive education facilities, a large sanctuary, even a window where people used to view services from their cars.

But the construction of the gym, kitchen and classrooms nearly sent the once-growing church over the financial brink. The church began the ambitious project before working out a solid financing plan.

Soon enough, the money crunch came, and the young pastor who pushed the expansion left Trinity. With him went most of the church's staff. The pastor who replaced him didn't fit well with the congregation either, and he soon left Trinity and the ministry. That was over two years ago.

In the interim, Trinity was served by a part-time minister. The congregation started to shrink in the absence of clear leadership and the new facilities were put to use by non-church groups.

THE REV. PERRY Raak hopes to see that change soon. Raak, 41, was recently installed as Trinity's first full-time minister in two years.

He and his wife, Cherie, brought their four children, Trevin, 13, Tineke, 10, Tenae, 7, and Terika, 5, here from Arizona. There, Raak saw another small Reformed church grow from 35 families to 100. When Trinity's call committee asked him to consider a Northwest ministry, he took stock of the situation.

In Arizona, Raak said, he had accomplished most of his goals, including a building project and membership expansion. He welcomed the challenge posed by the Kent church.

"It seemed like time for a new challenge," he said, adding that the kids are getting a real kick out of the recent snowstorms.

His number one goal at Trinity is to retrieve the members who drifted away in the past two years. Its membership at the moment is about 100 families, a low number for a church with such extensive facilities.

"Part of my challenge is to be a pastor to the people here, to love them — to bring back some who have gone away, and to work out a plan for the future," he said.

DESPITE THE lull in the church's history, Trinity has never ceased its community outreach, which includes letting non-church groups use its facilities. With fewer youth members to use the gym, it is often filled with Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, a Jazzercise group, numerous support groups, and the Seattle Christian School basketball team.

Because the kitchen is so well equipped, Trinity hosts many weddings and receptions for non-members as well.

To get the congregation looking forward, Raak wants to complete some of the undone work in the gym building — a stage and a fireside meeting room. By doing that, he believes the members will gain a sense of accomplishment and be ready to tackle new ideas.

"The church needs that boost," he said.

Trinity currently conducts a preschool, which has about 95 children enrolled. There are also numerous rooms set up for youth meetings, including one for senior high students. The room, "decorated" by students, has plenty of armchairs and couches for lounging on, a stereo, rock star posters and a piano.

THE REFORMED Church in America is a small Protestant denomination with about 1,000 churches nationwide. It is, Raak said, the church with the longest continuing history in America.

The name "Reformed" stems, of course, from the Reformation, an historic 16th century religious movement. Today, many churches have dropped "Reformed" from their names, favoring the less-harsh sounding "Community."

In the past, Reformed churches ministered primarily to Dutch-Americans in the Dutch language. Church leaders switched to English when they decided to go after a broader constituency.

Raak explained that many churches, including his old one, shied away from the "Reformed" label because it gives non-members the impression that the church is more fundamental than it really is.

"I wouldn't say we're very fundamental — (religion) is not all that black and white and narrowly defined," he explained.

That famous groundhog on the hill That's known as Punxsutawny Phil Emerges from his hole to say If winter will depart or stay;
And if his shadow does appear, It's six more weeks of coldness here.

We have our forecast right on tap By looking at the weather map,
To tell if it's a sunny day On which we plan to work or play;

Forgiveness is spiritual key to happy life

By THE REV. THOMAS COATES

Unity Church of Christianity
 "All that I give is given to myself." — A Course in Miracles
 Forgiveness is the key to happiness. Inner peace can be reached only when we practice forgiveness, a process of GIVING a new perspective FOR an old one.

Pastor's Corner

Forgiveness is the vehicle for changing our perceptions and letting go of our fears, condemning judgments and grievances. We need to remind ourselves constantly that love is the only reality there is. Anything we perceive that does not mirror love is a misperception. Forgiveness, then, becomes a means for correcting our misperceptions; it allows us to see only the love in others and ourselves, and nothing else. A memory specialist once asked the ancient Greek Themistocles if he would like to be taught how to remember. "Ah," replied the troubled statesman, "rather teach me the art of forgetting." Through selective forgetting — taking off the tinted glasses that superimpose the fearful past upon the present — we can begin to know that the truth of love is forever present and that by perceiving only love we can experience happiness. Forgiveness then becomes a process of letting go and overlooking whatever we think other people may have done to us, or whatever we may think we have done to them. Forgiveness does not mean assuming a position of superiority and putting up with or tolerating behavior in another person that we don't like. It means correcting our perception that the other person has harmed us. Mentally forgive every morning and at night before going to sleep. Some people may say, "Why do I need to forgive others after what they have done to me?" My response is, "You cannot afford not to forgive!"

toward getting them well than any pills." Any resentment that you hold is given to yourself. Jesus made a statement in Matthew 5: "...love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you...Be ye therefore perfect, even as your father which is in heaven is perfect." Part of your perfection is in seeing beyond another's limitations to his wholeness. This includes seeing yourself as a part of God, filled with love and forgiveness. In giving love to yourself, you are in a position to give love to all those around you. The first step is to see the activity of God coming forth in all persons. It is sometimes difficult to separate a person's action from the person himself. It is the act that we may not like, not the person. Learn to separate the act from the actor. This step helps us to look to the Christ spirit within each person and to fulfill Jesus' commandment to love.

The most wanted killer in the Northwest.

Using NuLife's Rid-Moss can stop moss from growing and inhibit it from choking existing grass underneath.

Rid-Moss releases an iron based ammonium sulfate prohibiting moss growth and nourishing soil.

There's a killer lurking in the lawns and gardens of the Northwest. It's called moss. Which is why at NuLife we developed Rid-Moss. A high iron content product which prohibits moss from growing, allowing lush plants and grass. The same moss control found in Rid-Moss can also be found in two of our very best organically based fertilizers: Spring Feed and Moss Cure and Fall Winterizer. Use any of them on your lawn and get the most wanted killer in the Northwest out of your neighborhood.

TJ dunks Decatur for second SPSL win

Thomas Jefferson posted its second straight South Puget Sound League boys' swimming victory by a 91-81 score over crosstown rival Decatur Tuesday.

The win put the Raiders' record at 2-5 in SPSL action and at an even 5-5 overall. The Gators dropped to 2-5 in league.

"Our depth was really much stronger than theirs," said TJ head coach Warren Kleist, whose team took only four first places but still won the meet.

The Raiders started off with a win in the 200 medley relay, as Dimitri Platanias, Guillermo Garcia, Gary Hughes and Erik Rominger finished with a 1:58.99 time.

The Decatur team of Vince Riggio, Morgan O'Donnell, Jason Russo and Ryan Vivatons was second at 1:59.82 and Gators John Roper, Stan Edwards, Joey Takada and Marc Moore third at 2:17.68.

Decatur's Dave Kahler won the 200 freestyle with a 1:55.23 time, and TJ's Jody Wallingford second at 2:05.81. Marcus Hayett of the Raiders was third in 2:18.34 and teammate Erik Johnsen fourth (2:23.95) with Chris Nelson of the Gators fifth (2:31.23).

Riggio took the 200 freestyle race in 2:18.36 and Hughes was second for TJ (2:19.59). Rick Osborn of the Raiders was third (2:30.57), teammate Bryan Dryer fourth (2:32.81) and Roper fifth (2:44.73).

RYAN FARMER racked up a Raider win in the 50 freestyle at 23.91, topping Decatur's Deke Egger (24.65). Ryan Berg was third (25.34) for the Gators and TJ's Jim Aubrey fourth (25.46) in front of teammate Rominger (26.0).

Winning the diving competition with 106.1 points was Decatur's Todd Butler ahead of teammate Jason Savini (105.16) and the Raiders' Geoff Nelson (103.7) and Ryan Clark (103.45). Chris Homer was fifth (91.7).

Riggio won the 100 butterfly in 1:00.99 and TJ's Wallingford was second (1:05.26). Dryer was third (1:02.91), Osborn fourth (1:09.94) and Moore fifth (1:30.58).

Kahler had a 52.51 time in the 100 freestyle to top Farmer (53.78), Rominger (59.95) and Aubrey (1:01.18).

Russo won the 500 freestyle in 6:04.30, followed by Hayett (6:12.84), Berg (6:13.83), TJ's Jan Rischmuller (6:37.88) and Johnsen (6:57.65).

Taking the 100 backstroke in 1:06.78 was Decatur's Egger, ahead of Platanias (1:10.97) and Roper (1:14.47). Mike Youngman of the Gators was fourth (1:27.09).

Hughes won the 100 breaststroke with a 1:09.96 effort and Garcia was second (1:14.06), ahead of Russo (1:14.39), O'Donnell (1:21.33) and TJ's John Hildebrandt (1:23.10).

Wallingford, Dryer, Aubrey and Farmer combined for a Raider win in the 400 freestyle relay at 3:48.73, in front of Decatur's Vivatons, Berg, Egger and Kahler (3:51.98). Osborn, Johnsen, Platanias and Hayett were third for TJ (4:05.49).

The Raiders were only ahead by an 81-77 margin going into that final event.

DIMITRI PLATANIAS of the Thomas Jefferson boys' swim team clocks a time of 1 minute, 10.97 seconds to place second in the 100 backstroke Tuesday afternoon at the Highline Community College pool, as the Raiders dunk crosstown rival Decatur, 91-81.

Eagles jump up into third

The Federal Way boys' basketball team jumped back into playoff contention with a decisive, 54-36 win on the road at Sumner on Tuesday.

The win boosted Federal Way into a third-place tie in the South Puget Sound League North Division standings with the Spartans. Both teams are 5-7 in league play and 6-11 overall.

Only the top three teams in each division will advance to the SPSL Tournament. Federal Way has three league games remaining, starting off with a 7:30 p.m. road contest at Puyallup tonight (weather permitting).

Puyallup currently is leading the SPSL North Division standings with a 12-0 record and is 15-2 overall. The Eagles also are slated to play host to Rogers (10-2, 13-4) Tuesday before wrapping up regular season league play next Friday at Jefferson (1-11, 2-15).

"I think it was the best defensive effort I've seen all season," said Federal Way coach Jerome Collins, adding that the Eagles played outstanding offense as well. "We ran everything to perfection on the offensive end of the floor."

Federal Way held high scoring

Pete Adams to just 10 points in the game. Adams has been averaging right around 20 points per game for most of the season. Steve Evans led the Spartans in scoring with 12 points.

Meanwhile, Federal Way had a balanced scoring attack led by the 15 points of Jason Schmidt, followed by Donny Marshall with 13, Ed Miller 10, Dan Afework nine, Darrin Albright four, Lake Dawson two and Bronzell Miller one.

"I thought the key for us was Dan Afework, he really controlled the floor," said Collins, who also praised such players as Schmidt and Marshall in the middle and reserves Dawson, Bronzell Miller and Andy Jerald. "I just thought it was a total team effort, the best effort I've seen all year. We needed the game to stay in contention for the playoffs."

Although the win tied Federal Way with Sumner for the third and final playoff spot, the Spartans have the edge on the schedule. While Federal Way has Puyallup, Rogers and Jefferson remaining to play, Sumner has Rogers, Jefferson and Decatur (2-10, 3-14) in that order.

But the win over the Spartans was a big win for Federal Way, which won back-to-back games for the first time this year in what has been a disappointing season.

"People counted us out, but we're not dead yet. We're still hanging in there," explained Collins. "What's a key for us is we need to try to play our best basketball this time of year. You want to peak at the right time. That's what I think is occurring."

FEDERAL WAY opened up a 10-5 lead over the Spartans after the first quarter Tuesday and was ahead 22-16 at halftime. The Eagles came out strong in the third quarter, outscoring the Spartans, 19-13, to take a 41-29 lead into the final period. Federal Way scored 13 to the seven of Sumner in the fourth period to win going away.

Snow forces events to be rescheduled

All scheduled games and events involving local high school teams were cancelled yesterday due to the snow, and tonight's schedule also will be postponed to a later date if school is not in session.

The Thomas Jefferson at Decatur girls' basketball game cancelled last night has been tentatively rescheduled for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 8, while the Puyallup at Federal Way girls' game cancelled last night will have to be rescheduled as well.

Also postponed yesterday were the Lakes at Decatur and Jefferson at Puyallup boys' swimming meets. The Lakes-Decatur meet has been rescheduled for 3:30 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 7, at the Federal Way pool. A make-up date on the TJ-Puyallup meet had not been made at press time.

The sub-regional wrestling tournament will take place Tuesday and Wednesday, Feb. 7-8, at Rogers High School instead of today and tomorrow with weigh-in set for 12 p.m. Feb. 7 and between 7 and 9 a.m. Feb. 8.

Boys' basketball games tonight involving Decatur at Jefferson and Federal Way at Puyallup will have to be made up next week if school is closed.

And the sub-district gymnastics meet scheduled tonight at Federal Way also will need to be rescheduled if school is closed.

"Things are kind of in a tither right now," said Decatur High School Athletic Director Doug Wenk. "A few things are nailed down, but not everything."

For more information, consult the local high schools for rescheduling dates.

Rams make quick work of Gators

By TIM CLINTON
Rogers made short work of the Decatur boys' basketball team in the Gators' home gym Tuesday, 72-47.

"We simply did not perform," said Decatur head coach Lee Anderson. "The point is with this group if we don't come ready to play we get beat by anyone, and a good team can beat us pretty bad. Rogers has a good team. They're a playoff team. Regardless, we just didn't play well and respond like we should have."

The Gators fell to 2-10 in South Puget Sound League play, and are all but dead as far as their chances of taking one of three North Division playoff berths are concerned. Decatur is three games behind third-place

Boys' Basketball

Federal Way and Sumner (5-7) with three to play.

As for Rogers, it stands in second place with a 10-2 league record, two games behind Puyallup (12-0).

The Gators are 3-14 overall, and are scheduled to return to action tonight when they visit Thomas Jefferson (1-11, 2-15) at 7:30. Decatur entertains Puyallup Tuesday, before finishing off the season at Sumner Thursday.

TUESDAY'S game with Rogers was close for only the first few minutes.

Travis Warner scored first for the Rams, and Kenny Lester answered with a driving layup. Brian Isakson of Rogers then came through with a steal and near-dunk, before the Gators' Chris Brauer tied it again with a pair of free throws.

After a steal by Marcus Hentschell, Pete Klobutcher gave Decatur a 5-4 lead with 5:50 to play in the first quarter, but the Rams were gone from there on 12 unanswered points.

Making matters worse in the middle of the stretch was an injury to the Gators' Hentschell.

Rogers was up by a 20-10 margin by the end of the quarter.

Dann Black wound up as the Gators' leading scorer with 15 points off the bench, and Gregg Landskov stepped in to score nine.

TJ absorbs Puyallup pasting

By GERARDO BOLONG
The Thomas Jefferson boys' basketball team served as accommodating hosts and absorbed a 75-50 pasting from the visiting Puyallup Vikings Tuesday night.

Nip-and-tuck action dominated the first quarter. Lance Stretch, a 6-4 senior, opened the scoring for Puyallup at the 6:57 mark with two free throws to send the Vikings ahead 2-0. Terry Hornbuckle tied it for Jefferson with a short-range field goal. Eric Grieve swished in a three-point goal that moved the score to 5-2 Puyallup.

After an exchange of field goals, Jefferson's Bryan Salmond beat the wing for a layin and seconds later knocked in a baseline jumper. Steve Johnson's left side jumper gave the Raiders a 10-7 lead. The lead stayed at three points until 1:09 remained in the quarter. Senior forward Nick Hedman scored on a putback shot and converted a free throw to tie the score at 14 for Puyallup. Grieve's left side jumper at the buzzer gave Puyallup the first quarter lead at 16-14.

Jefferson controlled the tempo with good movement around and inside the Vikings' defense.

THE SECOND QUARTER finished off Jefferson. Puyallup ran off eight consecutive points before Salmond's three-point goal closed the Vikings' lead to 24-17. Puyallup showed excellent shooting, while its defense panicked the Raiders into ball handling errors and bad shot selection.

A 16-6 Puyallup scoring spree ended the half with Puyallup ahead 40-23.

Third quarter action was evenly fought as the teams each scored 15 points. Against the Puyallup reserves, Jefferson's Jamie Sonnenfeld scored four consecutive points and 6-7 Johnson added a layin to get the Raiders to within 11 points at 55-44 with 6:40 still remaining in the game.

Back into the game went Puyallup's starters. The Vikings rebuilt the lead back up to 61-44. The game drew to a dreary conclusion for Jefferson as the Puyallup reserves built up a 75-47 advantage. Johnson's three-pointer made the final score 75-50.

Guard Brian Herting scored 14 points with 10 assists to lead Puyallup. Stretch added nine rebounds for the Vikings, who were playing without a flustered Rico Ancheta.

For TJ, Johnson had 17 points, while Salmond handed out seven assists. Puyallup stormed the boards for a 32-16 rebounding edge. Jefferson won a thrilling junior varsity game 51-49 on a last second shot.

Jefferson, 1-11 in league play and 2-15 overall, is scheduled to host Decatur (2-10, 3-14) tonight (weather permitting). Puyallup (12-0, 15-2) is slated to host Federal Way.

Athlete of the Week

Eagle gymnast receives honor

Federal Way gymnast Kelly Baker has been named the Federal Way News' Athlete of the Week.

Baker, the defending state champion in the floor exercise and on the balance beam, was at her best once again last week during a meet between Federal Way, Decatur and Thomas Jefferson.

Although Jefferson clinched the league title by coming in first as a team in the local three-way meet, Baker placed first in all the individual events to lead the way.

She was first in vaulting (9.2), the uneven parallel bars (8.4), the balance beam (8.9) and the floor exercise (9.4) en route to also taking top honors in the all-around with an 8.77 average for the day.

Eagle girls grind out 53-37 win over Spartans

By GERARDO BOLONG

Increased defensive pressure and a fourth quarter scoring run enabled the Federal Way girls' basketball team to grind out a 53-37 South Puget Sound League victory over Sumner at home Monday night.

The win set the Eagles up for their Thursday night (after press time) rematch with Northern Division leader Puyallup. The Vikings handed Federal Way its first loss of the season several weeks ago.

"We couldn't take care of the ball when we had to," explained Sumner coach Chuck Mains. "They brought the defensive level up and our girls got a little desperate. They started casting off their shots right away."

"We wanted to go man-to-man tonight, but the two quick fouls on Kelly (Czubin) took us out of that plan," Eagles coach Chuck Czubin noted. "(Jenny) Mahlstedt is so dominant out in front and (Janelle) Oakeley complements her well.

"The flu bug got us, and we only suited nine players including a regular junior varsity player." Federal Way still has Brooke Edwards and Molly McGraw on the shelf.

THE EAGLES began the game by missing some well-positioned inside shots. Janelle Oakeley broke the scoring ice by dropping in two free throws at the 5:58 mark of the first quarter. Mahlstedt knocked a bucket down from the left corner to make the score 4-0.

After a Sumner free throw, it was Cyndi Shahan laying one in off a Sehlin feed. Mahlstedt drilled a hoop in from the right corner and the score was 8-1. Sumner's Stacy Cervenka sank a free throw later in the quarter to complete a 7-4 Spartan run and make the score Federal Way 12, Sumner 8.

Federal Way countered with a scoring spurt of its own after Mahlstedt's driving layin to lead 18-9. Forward Kristin Werkau scored a basket for Sumner to chip the Eagles' lead to seven at the quarter.

In the second quarter, Federal Way looked to pull away.

At the 5:08 mark, wing Shannon Sehlin popped in a short jumper to give Federal Way a 25-13 lead. Less than a minute later, Shannon McLean gunned down a three-point goal for Sumner.

Connie Peterson sank two charity tosses after the Eagles' Czubin drew her third foul. Sumner's Werkau added a field goal and the Spartans were right in the game at 25-20. Wing guard Mahlstedt beat the defense down court twice in a row to send Federal Way to halftime with a 29-20 lead.

MAHLSTEDT OPENED the second half by once again beating the Sumner defense for a 31-20 Eagles' lead.

Werkau really started cooking for Sumner. First, she beat the press for a layin. Then she got past the wing for another easy basket. Federal Way's Sehlin scored on the break to make the score Federal Way 33, Sumner 24.

Laura Major dropped in a running one-handed basket and followed that up with a three-point basket from the top of the key to bring Sumner to within four points at 33-29.

Wing guard Oakeley stopped the flow by stealing the ball near center court and driving for a layup.

"The guard always packed the ball to the right side," said Oakeley. "I just anticipated and took it in."

The quarter ended with Federal Way on top 37-21.

With the game in serious jeopardy, the Eagles proceeded to soar away.

Cyndi Shahan began the fourth quarter with a rebound basket to begin the decisive stretch of the game. Mahlstedt followed with a driving bucket.

Sumner's persistent forward Werkau soon drew her fourth personal foul to really slow down the Spartans' offense.

WITH 4:38 in the game, Mahlstedt scored from the baseline after a nice setup by Oakeley to culminate a 12-point Federal Way scoring run and make the score 49-31.

The teams traded baskets back-and-forth until Federal Way's 5-2 Heidi Saheli stole the ball and nestled in a layin to end the game with the Eagles in command 53-37.

Mahlstedt led Federal Way with 20 points, six assists and five steals. Shahan muscled in 15 points and wrestled for 11 rebounds. Oakeley dished out six assists.

Sumner was led by Werkau's 14 points.

Federal Way is scheduled to resume SPSL play tomorrow beginning at 7:30 p.m. at Rogers (weather permitting).

Decatur clinches playoff berth

The Decatur girls' basketball team made official Monday what has been expected for weeks — the Gators are going to the South Puget Sound League Tournament along with North Division rivals Federal Way and Puyallup.

Decatur posted a 54-38 win at Rogers, putting it five games ahead of fourth-place Rogers (5-7) with only three to go.

The Gators are tied with Federal Way for second at 10-2, one game behind Puyallup (11-1). Decatur is scheduled to visit the first-place Vikings at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

The Gators also stand at 10-6 overall, after getting off to an 0-5 start.

Decatur started off slowly Monday, with the game tied at 20-20 at halftime. But Decatur outscored the Rams, 16-8, in the third quarter on its way to a rout.

Doing most of the scoring for the Gators were forward Kathy Laky and Shelley Richter. They scored 20 and 17 points, respectively, equaling their totals for last Thursday's 49-35 win over Federal Way. Richter also had 15 of Decatur's 47 rebounds, and forward Tanya Fischer scored eight points with 12 rebounds.

BUT DECATUR head coach

Gary Baker gave most of the credit for those efforts up front to the guard play of Jana Medges and Kim Houston.

"They're the reason we pulled away the second half," said Baker. "They got the ball to the players who were in the right position that had the hot hand. This one has to go in the column of Medges and Houston."

Medges led in assists with eight, and also scored four points.

Heidi Bertch was next with two points, and Houston scored one along with Shannon Barrett and Nicole Adkins.

Decatur shot 16-for-30 at the free throw line and 19-for-57 from the field, compared to Rogers' 3-for-10 and 18-for-53 totals.

Cindy Breiland led the Rams with 19 points.

Division leaders pull away from TJ, 53-33

The Thomas Jefferson girls' basketball team absorbed a 53-33 defeat at the hands of the Puyallup Vikings in South Puget Sound League play Monday night.

The Raiders had taken Puyallup into double overtime on Dec. 15 in the second league game of the season at Jefferson before losing a 54-52 heart-breaker at the buzzer.

Monday, Rhonda McCaw scored 18 points and Cyndi Lyons added 15 to lead the Vikings to a 20-point win. Sophomore Barb Beesley led Jefferson in scoring with 16 points.

Jefferson slipped to 3-9 in SPSL play and to 7-10 overall, while Puyallup upped its mark in league to 11-1 and to 13-4 on the year.

The Vikings opened up a 13-5 lead at the end of one quarter and were ahead by a 27-16 margin at intermission. Puyallup broke the contest open by outscoring Jefferson 18-9 in the third quarter to take a 45-25 lead into the final quarter.

Jefferson was 10 of 30 from the field for 33 percent and 13 of 17 at the free-throw line, while the Vikings were 22 for 43 from the field for 51 percent and 9 of 17 at the line.

Nancy Oswald scored seven points for Jefferson, Jolene Hering and Darcy Neil finished with three apiece and Raelynn Hering and Karen Mingus each scored two.

Lisa Hammond tossed in eight for the Vikings, Diana Dovey four, Stephanie Wolfe three and Kim Nelson and Dannielle Sterling had two each.

Jefferson was scheduled to

SeaTac Mall site of health fair

SeaTac Mall will be the site of a public health fair tomorrow, featuring world champion weight lifter Jeff Magruder and world champion arm wrestler Steve Phipps.

Magruder and Phipps will be on hand from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. to sign autographs in addition to all the other activities taking place.

There will be 1-year health club memberships to Complete Physique Center given away along with other gifts and prizes awarded throughout the day, including free tanning, discount coupons to Grand Central Station Hot Tub and Sauna and free chiropractic examinations and free cholesterol level, blood pressure and body fat check ups.

There also will be two bench press weight set ups for the public to try their hand at lifting with assistance on technique being provided.

The event is sponsored by General Nutrition Center along with Complete Physique Center, Grand Central Station Hot Tub and Sauna, Pettibon Chiropractic and Sound Chiropractic, all of Federal Way.

Club to host 3-point contest

The Federal Way Boys' and Girls' Club will be having its annual Top Gun Three Point Spot Shot Contest beginning at 9 a.m. tomorrow at the club.

Those girls and boys in grades 1-12 can shoot in the competition between 9 and 4 on Saturday. To qualify for further competition at the regional and national level, each participant needs to bring a minimum of $20 in sponsors. Those collecting $20 will receive a Top Gun T-shirt, and those raising $50 a T-shirt and Top Gun Mini Ball.

The King County finals will take place at the halftime of the Seattle Supersonics-Indiana Pacers game on Feb. 28.

For more information call the Federal Way Boys' and Girls' Club at 941-2722.

Olympic Sports offering rentals

Cross-country skiing equipment can be rented for half price all day Saturday at Olympic Sports in Federal Way as part of a statewide program.

"Cross-Country Washington," a program for cross-country skiers and those who want to try the sport, will feature a day of special ski events tomorrow.

For more information call Olympic Sports at 941-5600.

A musical director

A MUSICIAN BY training, new Federal Way Senior Center Director Yvonne Sullivan hopes to sneak a few minutes of practice in at the piano in the center. Sullivan, a former Spokane resident and Yakima native, was hired to replace retiring director Jean Young. Sullivan was director of the Mid-city Senior Center, a private center run by a coalition of nine Spokane churches, for five years before taking over the Federal Way center the first of the year. Although she hopes to organize a choir at the senior center, Sullivan said she expects she'll be spending most of her time with administrative chores, fund-raising and grant-writing. The center is in the Lakeland Community Club, 4016 S. 352nd St.

Last year's school levy shows up in property tax

By VALERIE DROGUS

Voters who felt generous at the polls last year will soon have to shell out for property taxes they approved in 1988.

When Federal Way residents receive their 1989 tax assessments about Feb. 15, a typical homeowner will see an increase of more than 17 percent in the bill.

That's due largely to two school-district measures Federal Way voters approved last year. On Feb. 2, 1988, voters passed a maintenance and operations levy that will add nearly $4 million to the 1989 tax roll. Then a $14.7 million capital improvements bond passed Sept. 20, 1988. It will add $1.5 million to tax rolls next year.

The two school levies together will add $1.29 per $1,000 of assessed valuation on a home. That brings the total assessment to $14.73 per $1,000 of assessed valuation, or $1,165.54 on the average Federal Way home.

The average assessed value in Federal Way this year is $79,100, according to the King County Assessor's office. That's up 6.75 percent from last year's average value of $74,100.

Federal Way property owners will pay slightly more than their neighbors in the Highline School District, who will be billed at $13.95 per $1,000 of their home's value.

PRIZE FOR the county's highest tax rate this year goes to Snoqualmie Valley residents, who will pay $16.31 per $1,000 on their home's value, because they approved a whopping 37.6 percent increase over last year. Voters in Snoqualmie Valley approved large school construction bonds last year.

All in all, County Assessor Ruthie Ridder will collect and distribute $960,626,143.11 in 1989 county property taxes, just $40 million short of the billion mark.

Assessments next year may top that mark, said Chief Deputy Assessor Bernard Ryan.

Property taxes are made up of both voted and non-voted taxes, Ryan explained.

Voted taxes include school district levies, the Harborview bond, a bond for the county's automated fingerprint system, and a bond to run the 911 system, among others, Ryan said.

But the county also levies taxes without voter approval for its current expense fund, and library and hospital districts may tax without an election. The state levies a school tax. Those make up the non-voted taxes.

THE ACTUAL assessment rate on a given home may vary slightly within a school district, depending on which fire district, library district, hospital district or other special taxing district the home lies within. Figures given here are average for Federal Way.

Until this year, voted taxes in all county districts have been less than non-voted taxes, Ryan said. But for the first time, Issaquah School District residents will pay more in voted taxes than non-voted taxes.

The trend since 1981 has been for voters to increase their taxes every year, Ryan said. Federal Way homeowners paid $5 less per $1,000 of assessed value in 1981 than they will pay this year, for example. On a $100,000 home, that adds $500 to a tax bill.

Ryan said he can't offer an explanation for why voters are willing to increase their property taxes for services.

When asked in a Washington State University poll if they would prefer to raise property, sales, excise or other taxes when an increase is inevitable, only 1 percent of the people polled favored raising property taxes, Ryan said.

Property taxes may be made in two semi-annual installments, with the first due April 30 and the second October 31.

Fill near creek doesn't need EIS

King County officials have determined that filling in 2.6 acres of a 4.4-acre site near the West Hylebos Creek does not require preparation of an environmental impact statement (EIS).

The site is at 34009 Pacific Highway S. A stream flows through the site and into the West Hylebos Creek.

The proponent, Wayne Knight, is proposing filling in the site with 37,000 cubic yards of dirt.

The county has identified no mitigating measures Knight must include in the project.

The county's decision on the EIS may be appealed until Feb.

Land Use Notices

8. For information on appealing, call the county at 296-6662. Refer to the project by its file number, 3064-60.

EIS not needed for church building

King County officials have determined that the construction of a church at 150 S. 356th Street does not require preparation of an environmental impact statement (EIS).

The United Methodist Church is proposing building a 6,500-square-foot church with 75 parking spaces on 4 acres. A tributary of the Hylebos Wetlands is 100 yards from the church.

The county hasn't identified any mitigating measures the church must complete as part of the building construction.

The county's decision on the EIS may be appealed until Feb. 8. For information on appealing call the county at 296-6662. Refer to the project by its file number, C88-1649.

Writers volunteer cityhood views

Two incorporation opponents have added their names to a committee to compose a voter's pamphlet statement against incorporation.

George Collins and George Cullington will join John Ringler to write the opposing statement for the pamphlet, which will be mailed to Federal Way voters along with ballots Feb. 27.

Federal Way First! activists Jim Handmacher and Maryann Mitchell have volunteered to write the statement in favor of incorporation, along with State Representative Jean Marie Brough.

Both committees were approved by the King County Council Monday.

As of last Thursday, the deadline for applying for the committees, only Ringler and Ray Tomlinson had indicated interest in writing an anti-incorporation statement. Tomlinson withdrew his name after he changed his mind and decided to support incorporation.

Collins and Cullington subsequently volunteered.

Each side will write a 500-word statement and a 75-word rebuttal to the opposing view.

The pamphlet will also contain a 250-word statement from the Prosecuting Attorney explaining the ballot issue and its effects on Federal Way residents.
