Candidate haunted by conviction

By LYNN KEEBAUGH

A candidate for Federal Way City Council hopes his past criminal record won't hurt his efforts to run for public office.

Stephen C. Massey has filed to run for Position 5 against four other candidates, but it appears his right to do so could be legally challenged because of a law regarding the loss of civil rights for convicted felons.

Massey, 24, pleaded guilty to May 2, 1983, charges that he and an accomplice burglarized Woodmont Christian Church. He was given a suspended sentence, but in 1985 it was revoked and he was sent to jail for less than one year.

Massey said his past is behind him and he has taken strides to make the most of his mistakes. He said he believes his criminal history will be a tool he can use to help others and provide insight to the problems they face.

BUT THAT past could still haunt him. Although Massey was paroled in 1986, he has yet to be completely discharged from the corrections system, said Dennis Marsh, executive secretary of the state Indeterminate Sentence Review Board.

Once convicted, a felon loses his or her civil rights. To regain those rights, the felon must first receive a final discharge from the system, which includes the restoration of those civil rights. Marsh said Massey has not yet done that.

And a candidate for public office must be a legally registered voter, said John Pearson of the Secretary of State's election division. The right to vote can be restored only after civil rights have been restored.

But, Pearson said, the process is not clear-cut. Until civil rights have been restored, a felon cannot legally register to vote. However, if that person was a registered voter before the commission of the crime, no provisions exist to remove him or her

Council candidates to be at school, store

Federal Way residents soon will have two opportunities to meet city council candidates.

The Federal Way Community Council is sponsoring a "Meet Your Candidates Night," 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., Thursday, April 20, at Thomas Jefferson High School, 4248 S. 288th St.

The first hour of the forum will be candidate introductions. The next hour will allow socializing with candidates.

All 40 candidates will be sent an invitation to the forum by the community council.

Residents also will be able to meet candidates in the seven-position city council race at Food Marche grocery store, 1211 S. 320th St., over the next few weeks.

Store owner Don Jackman will allow candidates to set up displays at up to 10 areas in the store. Time and space will be allotted on a first-come, first-served basis. To arrange for a reservation, call Ken or Brian at Food Marche at 941-9650.

The store tentatively plans to start the displays this Wednesday.

As of last Wednesday, there were 40 candidates in the council race as one candidate, Jack Loudon, has dropped out.

The deadline for formally withdrawing from the race by administrative procedure was yesterday. To formally withdraw from the race now requires a judicial action.

Candidates are campaigning in the May 16 primary election. The top two vote-getters in each position will then go on the Sept. 19 final election.

JOANNE THOMPSON AND HER dog, Zeke, take a stroll near the derelict barge that floated ashore at Redondo a week ago. The old vessel will eventually be hauled away by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, although the corps does not yet know when that will happen.

Beached barge is raising a stink

By MELODIE STEIGER

It's nothing new for high tides to push Puget Sound's treasures onto the Redondo shore. Usually those treasures are odd rocks, sea life and driftwood from distant shores.

A particularly high tide outdid itself a week ago, however, when it coughed up a rotting barge onto what would be JoAnne Thompson's front lawn, if she had a front lawn.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers figures the aged vessel now firmly lodged onto Thompson's private beach at the south end of Redondo Beach Drive is 30 feet wide, 110 feet long and 8 feet high. The corps estimates its waterlogged weight at 200 tons, said Bob Parry, chief of the corps' waterways maintenance.

"It's the biggest piece of driftwood I've ever seen," Thompson said.

The vessel also is one of the smelliest artifacts to pop out of the sound. Bugs and various sea animals have chewed its wooden flanks and made homes in its cracks and crevasses.

Those hangers-on have become crispy critters in the area's recent burst of good weather.

"At first I thought it was kind of neat, but now I realize that it's full of old, dead stuff, and it's getting pretty smelly," Thompson said.

And now the old barge is stuck, at least for a while. Sand has floated in with the tide and nestled under the barge.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers anchored it to the spot late last week, hoping to keep it there until one of its ships can come haul the vessel away.

AN ARMY Corps of Engineers ship, the Puget, is most often called upon to track down sea debris and take it away for disposal. But a spokeswoman for the corps said several options for its removal are still being considered.

In the meantime, the corps is looking for the owner of the barge. It's no easy task — any identifying marks have apparently rotted away.

"There's all sorts of speculation, but we have no idea yet where it came from," said Parry.

Thompson pointed out that similar structures have been used for breakwater in Tacoma.

"Maybe it belongs there," she said hopefully.

Redondo residents knew for some time that something large was coming in with the April 6 high tide. Although the barge was submerged, it floated just high enough to break the surface of the water.

"You could tell (the water) was lapping against something. But when the tide went out, I could hardly believe what it was," said Thompson.

It's about the strangest treasure ever washed onto Redondo shores, said Thompson, who has lived in her beachfront home off and on since she was a young girl.

Well, OK, maybe it's the second strangest treasure.

"A dead whale washed up here when I was a little girl. That was worse," she said.

Peers praise local man as state's top teacher

By MELODIE STEIGER

Two years ago, Richard Feutz was paralyzed from the neck down after a pesticide in pre-treated wood leached into his bloodstream while he built a raft for his children.

Now, after hours of speech and physical therapy, Feutz is back at the head of his Kent classroom. Only a hint of paralysis remains.

"They thought I would be out of teaching forever, but all that's left is some partial paralysis in my face. It reminds me of that time, and keeps me going sometimes," Feutz said.

And go he does. Feutz normally teaches science, math and computers at Meridian Junior High in Kent, although this year he heads reading classes there, which he combines with computer skills. He trains school staff, both at the junior high and elsewhere, to use computers. He also actively battles to ensure the quality of local lakes and streams, particularly his neighboring Steel Lake.

And for his efforts, particularly those at school, the Steel Lake resident has been named Teacher of the Year for Washington state by the Washington State Education Association.

The honor was bestowed upon Feutz last night at the state teachers' union representative assembly.

Terry Bergeson, president of the state teachers' union, cited Feutz' enthusiasm for learning and love of children as top reasons for choosing him from among three finalists for the award.

FEUTZ SAYS HE isn't sure yet just what is required of the Teacher of the Year, although speaking engagements are probably in the offing. If so, he has some things he'd like to say to teachers in this state.

"I'd stress that lots of teachers today do a very good job and really care about kids. You read a lot about what's wrong, but a lot more is right. And I'd talk about staff training — we've got to get training out to teachers so they can get it out to the kids," he said.

Feutz began teaching in 1972, the first year he came to Meridian Junior High. As well as classroom instruction, he conducted innovative training courses for fellow teachers, including "Backyard Biology" and "Teaching Science with Junk."

"And sometimes, junk is all the equipment a teacher has to work with," he quipped.

He is now combining basic reading courses with computers, something he says "shows the students how good

Greeves named principal at Sunnycrest

By MELODIE STEIGER

Mary Pachek, former principal of Sunnycrest Elementary School, heartily approves of her replacement, Gaye Greeves.

After all, they've been friends and co-workers in the Federal Way School District for some 19 years.

"She's an excellent choice," said Pachek.

Greeves took over at Sunnycrest first thing Tuesday morning, only a dozen hours after her appointment was unanimously approved by the Federal Way School Board. Pachek, meanwhile, has been showing her the ropes at Sunnycrest while preparing to become principal of the district's newest elementary school, to be built in West Campus.

Greeves said her first day took her from a faculty meeting at Sunnycrest to a principal's meeting at district headquarters, to a district orchestra festival and then a Sunnycrest skating party.

"And that's what happens on your first day of work," Greeves said.

Pachek has also introduced Greeves to Sunnycrest's 494 students and 47 staff members, and the pair have taken a drive

Catering to convenience

Business delivers home videos

By ANN SEIDNER

In a country that never tires of new ways to convenience itself, video cassette recorders have been welcomed as convenient entertainment.

Price, comfort and control of the pause button for snack breaks and the like are a few reasons people choose a home video over a trip to the big screen.

And these days, almost everybody can find a video rental shop just around the corner. So how could the home video business possibly become more convenient?

Easy, say six enterprising business partners and relatives from the South King County area — video catering. Deliver a movie to someone's doorstep, pick it up at the same. All the viewer has to do is view.

Video Catering is the name of a 6-month old business started by three couples united by one brother in each. All are between the ages of 37 and 44 and live in South King County, two in Auburn, two in Kent and two in West Seattle.

A COUPLE of brainstorming sessions and a love of movies led the six into this unique business venture, and in six months they have acquired about 650 movies and about 160 customers, averaging one new customer every day, said Ladele Walker, one of the six partners.

Operating out of a warehouse in the Midway area, Ladele and her sister-in-law Linda Walker field calls from customers who, for one reason or another, don't want to make that trip to the video store themselves.

"We have one customer who says he uses our service because he's just plain lazy," Ladele said. And some people prefer home delivery to standing in line and waiting to rent a movie, she added.

But other customers have more practical reasons for calling Video Catering. Day-care workers, for example, who want a movie for the kids but can't get out to rent one find the service handy, Ladele said. Other customers work strange shifts and like to have a movie waiting at home for them. People who are disabled and can't easily get out could benefit, too, she said.

SISTERS-IN-LAW and business partners Ladele (left) and Linda Walker spend their days delivering and picking up video movies to and from homes in the South King County area. Their business, Video Catering, represents the first in the area of a developing market for home-delivered video rentals.

Here's how it works. You can call Video Catering anytime between noon and 8 p.m. seven days-a-week and ask for a specific movie or for a suggestion. You want a drama but one not too heart-wrenching? Ladele and Linda will be glad to suggest a few titles.

AFTER YOU make your selection, or two selections, or however many you want, just wait for your doorbell to ring.

Or don't wait. Leave for work or wherever, attach a special Video Catering security lock box or bag to your doorknob and unlock it to find your movie and a catalog of all the movies the service has to offer. Every time you order, you will receive a catalog update that lists the new movies acquired.

You also can reserve that long-awaited film for a party next month or for tomorrow, a service not always offered by video stores.

Video Catering rents all types of movies, from children's films to X-rated. All the titles are on a computer file, as well as all customers' names. That organization can be useful in keeping the X-rated material out of the wrong hands.

For instance, Ladele explained, one customer called to say that her son, under age 18, could order any movie he chose, except an X-rated one. Ladele put that information in the computer and prevented at least one potential mother-son fight.

Although Ladele said most of their customers are from Federal Way and Midway, their service area extends farther. Video Catering will deliver and pick up all the way south to the Pierce County line, north to Sea-Tac Airport, east to downtown Kent and west to the water.

To make pickups more convenient for themselves and to offer to customers more options to return movies, Video Catering put drop boxes that look like mailboxes in several locations around town.

There's one at South 340th Street and Pacific Highway South, one at South 246th Street and Military Road, one at South 272nd Street and Pacific Highway South, one in downtown Kent and one at South 198th Street and First Avenue South in Des Moines.

Prices at Video Catering are a little higher than many video rental shops. With tax, prices are $3.50 per movie. Monday through Thursday, the second movie comes half-price. Most of the children's movies are always half-price, and first-time customers get one movie free along with one paid.

MOST CUSTOMERS pay when the movie is delivered, Ladele said. But some pay when it's picked up, putting the money in the locked security box or even in the drop box.

The system may seem foreign, but Ladele says that the idea is catching on quickly. California already has a similar service and so does Kirkland, she said. She has even heard that one businessman may open a competing video delivery service in Federal Way.

Although she and her five partners currently have a monopoly, they are already looking at ways to compete. Food, she said, may be the way to go.

Video Catering customers currently can get regular or microwave popcorn delivered along with their movies, but Ladele is thinking of homemade pizza. The service in California already caters to that classic movie-pizza combination, she said.

"I love to cook," Ladele said. "I even sent (to a friend) a piece of pumpkin pie with whipped cream once with a movie," she said.

The possibilities are endless. Envision an entire city with room service.

To reach Video Catering, call 839-9400 or 839-9401.

A perfect fit Pipe organ suits St. Luke's well

By WENDY CULVERWELL

A financial windfall for the University of Puget Sound was music to a local church's ears.

The story of how the 20-year-old pipe organ from UPS's Kilworth Chapel came to rest at St. Luke's Lutheran Church is one of a series of incredible coincidences.

To begin with, in organ years, 20 is still a baby. Bob Bylsma, a St. Luke's member and organ enthusiast, pointed out that the instruments used by the 18th century composer J.S. Bach were usually more than 300 years of age.

So why would the Tacoma school want to part with an organ that is, essentially, brand spanking new?

That's the first coincidence.

Just as St. Luke's was coming to the realization its old electronic organ was ready to part from the living, UPS got a "major donation" specifically to replace the Kilworth organ. That meant the instrument with a good 200 years of life left was up for sale.

Dr. James Sorensen, chair of the UPS music department, declined to name how much money it got to purchase a new organ, but Bylsma estimated the figure at $200,000.

AND Bylsma should know — a longtime associate of the Kilworth organ's designer, Dr. R. Byard Fritts, he helped to install it in the school chapel 20 years ago. That St. Luke's has such a knowledgeable member in its congregation is the second coincidence.

The third was finding out the instrument was for sale at the time the church was in the market for one — a discovery also credited to Bylsma — and having the church's bid come out on top.

It took the Federal Way congregation only a month to raise the $30,000 promised to UPS.

"It's the steal of the century," Bylsma chuckled. He valued the fully-installed organ at about $200,000.

The transfer, conducted entirely by volunteers under Bylsma's direction, started last fall. His all-volunteer crew put in 10 and 12 hour days for months before it was fully installed on Jan. 12. The church joins a select few in Federal Way to have such an instrument, including Calvary Lutheran, Steel Lake Presbyterian and St. Theresa's Catholic churches.

VOLUNTEER electricians, carpenters and movers did all the work — from sliding the superstructure that holds the many pipes in place to wiring each one to the electric console. Electricity is used to pump the air through the pipes.

In the days of Bach, that was done manually.

"I worked at Boeing for 20 years (as an engineer) and nothing there went as well," Bylsma said.

Had the organ required professional movers or major structural changes to the church, the total cost could easily have topped $200,000 — the same amount UPS is paying for its new instrument, which was designed by Dr. Fritts' son, Paul.

The coincidences don't end there, though. The organ not only fit comfortably into St.

BOB BYLSMA, a retired engineer who likes to spend his time working on organs, got to test his talents when his church, St. Luke's Lutheran, bought an organ with more than 2,000 pipes from the University of Puget Sound. He supervised volunteers in tearing it down and fitting it into the Federal Way sanctuary. The thermometer will help keep pipe chamber temperatures from degrading the "voices" of the pipes.

Sunrise Methodist to start construction

The congregation of Sunrise United Methodist Church will hold a groundbreaking ceremony for its new building following the 10 a.m. services on Sunday, April 16.

The new building will be at 150 S. 356th St. The projected is expected to cost about $305,000, $50,000 of which has been raised by the young congregation.

Volunteers will perform most of the labor. For more information, contact the Rev. Chuck Hindman, 927-8280.

News of all Faiths

Sunrise United Methodist is currently meeting in the gym of Lake Grove Elementary School.

Rabbi will be guest at Jewish service

The South King County Jewish Community will hold a Havdalah service and organizational meeting at 7 p.m., April 15, at the Kent Resource Center, 315 E. Meeker.

The service will be led by Rabbi Viki Hollander. For more information, call 722-7875.

The group will also hold a traditional Passover seder at 7 p.m., April 20, at Totem Junior High School in Kent. The fee is $7 per person, $3.50 for children. Call for reservations.

Luke's, it fit perfectly.

"The day I heard it was available I came in here and could see it here," Bylsma said.

The console fit to within a half inch between the bottom steps of the choir loft and the railing in front of it. Where a pipe platform had to be attached to a wall, the struts were spaced just right. Pipes that were too tall for UPS and bent over were bent just where they needed to be to fit into St. Luke's.

Installing a pipe organ is no small affair. The console the organist sits at is as large as an entire electronic organ.

The more than 2,000 pipes range from the size of a nail to the size of an air ventilation shaft.

About one-third of them are arranged on a platform in front of the choir. The rest are housed in a nearby pipe chamber, specially enlarged to accommodate them — the only structural change the church needed.

ONE OF the first Sundays the Kilworth organ was in commission was an appreciation Sunday for organist Deanna Murray's 10th anniversary with the church.

Muriel Biermann, St. Luke's music director, joked that they got the elaborate pipe organ as a special gift.

Murray, she said, was a little apprehensive about the pipe organ, having performed mostly on electronic ones, but as soon as she sat at the console, she was "hooked".

Jeff Orr, who as an organ performance major at UPS became well-acquainted with the instrument, will play this Sunday during a special dedication concert.

It begins at 3 p.m. Orr will perform works by Mulet, Dupre, Widor, and of course, J.S. Bach. There will also be a hymn sing. The concert is free and the public is welcome to attend. There will be a free-will offering collected.

To ice the cake, Orr thinks the Kilworth organ sounds better in the tall, narrow sanctuary of St. Luke's than it ever did in the boxy chapel at UPS.

"It's much better here," he said Tuesday, taking a break from rehearsing for Sunday's concert.

FAITH REMINDS US THAT WEALTH ONLY RAISES OUR TAXES

When we have provided against cold, hunger and thirst, all the rest is but vanity and excess.

— Seneca

Since money was invented by those folks of long ago, we've often seemed to magnify the need for earning "dough." It's handy to a great extent to cure financial ills, as well as for the food and rent, and paying doctor bills. Yet some of us will break our backs to seek excessive wealth, which only brings a higher tax and undermines our health. It's time we let our faith explain the best of life's reward: That we receive our greatest gain by trusting in the Lord.

Raiders blank visiting Rams

By GERARDO BOLONG

Under clear skies, the Thomas Jefferson Raiders' defense shone as bright as the sun while blanking Rogers, 2-0, in South Puget Sound League boys' soccer action Tuesday.

"The defense was outstanding," asserted Raider head coach Jim Judson. "We couldn't cash in on all our offensive opportunities. The strategy was to always be around the ball on defense."

"On offense we were able to penetrate the spaces in their defense. Once the ball got deep we couldn't finish the job."

TJ's league-leading record improved to 4-0-0 and its overall mark to 5-0-2, while Rogers dropped to 2-1-0 and 3-3-1, respectively.

Jefferson flooded Rams' territory immediately. The Raiders owned the flanks and kept the ball moving at Rogers.

After 23 minutes of the first half had elapsed, John Pauley hammered a shot off Rams' goalkeeper Matt Laase. The deflection fell just out of reach of a perched Aaron Van Dusen.

Daryn Ditmore continued to create scoring opportunities for Van Dusen, a halfback, and the other Raider attackers.

WITH 14 minutes remaining in the half, Ditmore punched a header past a stunned Rogers goalkeeper for a 1-0 Jefferson lead.

Jefferson's fullbacks controlled the Rams' midfield men on run-throughs and also cut off opposing fullbacks on the flanks.

Two Van Dusen header attempts failed just before intermission.

Backed by a supportive home crowd, cheerleaders and pep band, TJ's defense maintained its dominance in the second half.

After an even exchange early in the half, the Raiders gradually gained the upper hand. David Davis and Van Dusen put on the pressure at the Rogers end.

Only some superb defense by Rogers was keeping TJ off the scoreboard.

With 58 seconds to play, Van Dusen beat the Rogers goalkeeper from the left side to cement the victory. Pauley was credited with the assist.

For Jefferson, fullbacks Matt Dillon, Tim Tilbury and Brad Kolbo were standouts. Ditmore was strong up front with Van Dusen also doing yeoman work.

The Raiders have a bye today, before visiting Clover Park for a 5:30 p.m. match Tuesday.

Raiders open with a win

By TIM CLINTON

It was a big day for little brothers as the Thomas Jefferson baseball team opened its South Puget Sound League season with an 11-9 win over Clover Park Tuesday.

Chris Martin, the younger brother of TJ standout Aaron Martin, went 2-for-2 at the plate with a triple and four RBI and was also the winning pitcher in relief. Chris is a junior and Aaron a senior who started the game on the mound.

Junior Joey Sonnenfeld, whose brother is senior shortstop Jamie Sonnenfeld, went 2-for-4 with three RBI.

The Raiders had only six hits in all, with Jon Steele getting the other two hits in a 2-for-3 outing that included the team's other RBI.

TJ benefited from six Clover Park errors and seven walks, while committing only one error.

Jamie Sonnenfeld had a good defensive game along with Joey at second, and Pete Persons, who threw the four middle innings on the mound, stood out defensively the innings he was at third. Persons happens to be the younger brother of former Raider shortstop Tom Persons.

FORT TJ head coach Jim Gard,

Little brothers lead the way in high-scoring tilt

he was happy to get the SPSL season started after five rainouts, and with the win.

"It's a great way to start the season after waiting six weeks," said Gard, whose team started practice Feb. 27 but had played just two non-league games before Tuesday's game. "It's been a long time since we've been undefeated (in league)."

TJ, now 2-1 overall, has had its problems in recent years — going only 3-15 last spring — but it got off to a good start Tuesday.

After giving up a run to the visiting Warriors in the top of the first, the Raiders scored four in the bottom of the inning.

It all started when Persons hit into an error at third with two outs, and Aaron Martin and Steele both walked.

That set the stage for Chris Martin, the team's regular catcher, and he went to a full count before connecting for a three-run triple into the gap in left center.

Mark Nielson followed with a grounder between the third baseman's legs that scored Chris to make it a 4-1 game.

Clover Park picked up one run in the second and Persons replaced Aaron Martin on the mound, and TJ scored its next two runs in the bottom of the third.

Steele lashed a two-out single and Chris Martin and Nielson walked to load the bases for Joey Sonnenfeld, who ripped a two-run single to left.

The Raiders added two more runs in the fourth for an 8-2 lead.

PERSONS lofted a fly ball to center field that was dropped with two out to put him on second, and he stole third as Aaron Martin drew a walk.

Steele followed with a slow roller up the middle that went for an RBI single, and a base hit to left by Chris Martin brought in brother Aaron.

The lead was short-lived, as Clover Park struck three times in the fifth and four times in the sixth to go up, 9-8.

But Warrior mistakes coupled with a timely hit helped TJ score three times in the bottom of the sixth.

Persons drew a one-out walk and stole second before scoring when Aaron Martin hit into an error at shortstop.

Martin also stole second, and one out later Chris Martin walked and Nielson hit into an error to load the bases.

Joey Sonnenfeld then looped a soft line drive into right field to bring in Aaron Martin.

Chris Martin got into a run-down between third and home on the play, but as he charged home the catcher missed a throw to let in the run.

While the Warriors were having trouble fielding anything, TJ's fielding preserved the win in the seventh.

Persons snagged the first out at third and Chris Martin, who relieved Persons on the mound in the sixth, struck out the next. After a walk and a single, Jamie Sonnenfeld made a nice catch and throw at shortstop to end it.

TJ's next action is today, when it travels to Spanaway Lake at 3:30 p.m.

Eagle nine drops Decatur, Curtis

By CHUCK MINGORI

Federal Way rallied for five runs in the second inning and then added four more in the sixth before holding off Curtis in South Puget Sound League baseball action Tuesday afternoon.

The Eagles raised their SPSL record to 2-1 with the 9-5 victory. Federal Way bombed crosstown rival Decatur on Monday, 18-3.

The Eagles used four pitchers in Tuesday's win over Curtis, which rallied for four runs in the top of the seventh before Floyd French came in to shut down the Viking uprising.

had started the seventh inning on the mound.

"Those four runs we got in the sixth inning sure helped out," said Federal Way coach Gary Mogensen. "I thought we'd give our little sophomore lefty (Graham) a chance to come in and do something. But they kind of stung him a little bit."

Jeff Wagner pitched the first four innings for Federal Way and held Curtis to only one hit and two walks while striking out two batters. Robert Domzalski relieved Wagner in the top of the fifth and gave up one run on four hits and no walks with one strikeout over the next two innings.

Meanwhile, the Eages rallied for five runs in the second inning off Curtis starting pitcher Bill Clowney, who was relieved by Michael Naughton in the fourth inning.

SECOND BASEMAN Marty Mogensen, who went 4-for-5 against Decatur and Curtis, continued his hot hitting streak by connecting for a single to right field on a hit-and-run.

Graham drove home French, who had walked, with a smash to the Curtis shortstop that went for an error. Catcher Jeff Hutchens drew a walk to bring home Mogensen for another run and sophomore center fielder Milt DeAsis picked up an RBI with a fielder's choice to score Mogensen.

Left fielder Allen Hensley delivered the big blow of the inning, however, as he stroked a two-RBI single to right that scored Graham and Hutchens.

Curtis came back with one run in the top of the fifth on a double by Chris Foss and a single by Tyler Gillis, but Federal Way added four more runs in the sixth.

Hensley knocked in Hutchens, who had singled to right field, with a soft liner also to right. Wagner also singled to put runners on first and second. Then French belted a high fly over the center field fence for a 3-run homer.

THE VIKINGS made it interesting with a four-run rally in the top of the seventh, but French came in to slam the door on Curtis after relieving Graham.

"It was nice to get that win," said Mogensen. "They (Curtis) are going to be good. They're pretty good fundamentally. They started to hit the ball there at the last, so they're not going to be easy to beat."

Federal Way was led in hitting against Curtis by Hensley, who was 2-for-3 with three RBI. French went 1-for-3 with his homer, Mogensen was 2-for-3, Wagner went 2-for-3 with a double and Hutchens was 2-for-2.

The Eagles capitalized on eight Decatur errors and 13 walks in Monday's rout.

"We manufactured a lot of runs through walks and also errors," Mogensen said. "We got a lot of guys on base, which is nice."

French, Wagner and Domzalski combined to strike out 14 Decatur batters.

Mogensen's son, Marty, led the hit parade against the Gators with a 2-for-2 day at the plate including a double and three RBI. French was 2-for-3 with an RBI, Hensley 3-for-6 with one RBI and Wagner 2-for-6.

"Our kids are playing with pretty good intensity, which is good, but I still think we've got a lot of work to do," said Mogensen. "If the kids keep working hard, it's going to pay off for them in the end."

Federal Way resumes league play today at 3:30 at Clover Park.

By GERARDO BOLONG

Go-getter attitudes and team continuity came together Tuesday night in the Federal Way boys' soccer team's 3-1 comeback victory over Puyallup at Federal Way Memorial.

Fresh on the heels of an epic win over Decatur, the Eagles improved their South Puget Sound League record to 2-2. Puyallup dropped its league record to 0-3.

Goalkeepers Kelly Noland and Chris Hamlett paced the defense, while Beau Olson finished strongly on offense to keep the Vikings under control.

"In the first half, there was a general lack of intensity," explained Federal Way head coach Mike Minahan. "In the second half, we went after the ball harder. I'm happy to see us come back like this."

"It's the first time we've been able to win after falling behind this season. (I) hope it gets us going on a win streak. That's two good wins in a row. Our self-control has improved and we're playing better as a team. It's important to win these games against tough teams. Our schedule is stacked, with our toughest games coming early."

PUYALLUP scored first when forward Kenny Klein drilled a header into the right corner of the net off a corner pass from midfielder Kevin Earle after 19:45 had elapsed.

Federal Way seemed listless in the face of the Vikings' aggressiveness. Puyallup controlled the pace and went to the ball well.

At the 11:38 mark, the Eagles' Noland made two great back-to-back saves from close-in range.

Junior Scott Zengel's goal attempt for Federal Way from the left side was turned away with just over six minutes left in the first half.

For the rest of the half, the Eagles set up opportunities that bore no scoring results.

After the break, the Eagles showed increased intensity and hustle. Tim Senigal and Ricci Greenwood began to force forward action.

Federal Way finally got on the scoreboard with 19:01 remaining in the game, as Greenwood dribbled from the left side and fed Ricky Phillips for the tying goal.

Puyallup's best chance to score in the second half failed when Klein hit the outside left front of the net with just over 15 minutes remaining.

Olson slipped a kick just under the onrushing Viking goalkeeper Kerry Fabling to send the Eagles ahead, 2-1, with 6:40 remaining in regulation time. His goal was set up by a nice pass from Paul Carpenter.

Federal Way continued to attack until Greenwood's rebound goal from a Senigal shot that hit the right post ended the game with 49 seconds remaining.

Puyallup coach Gil Medoza praised the play of junior defender Ken Glihsman, midfielder Brian Shepherd, midfielder Earle and forward Klein.

"After a good first half, we stopped going to the ball," he noted. "The players seemed to be intimidated by Federal Way's aggressiveness. It was a well-officiated game and Federal Way played a better second half. They took the field away, while we didn't contest the man with the ball. They have players with some good dribbling skills."

The Eagles are on the road at Bethel for a 5:30 p.m. match today.

Decatur shuts out Curtis

The Decatur boys' soccer team posted a 4-0 victory at Curtis Tuesday.

The Gators improved to 3-1 in South Puget Sound League play and to 7-2 overall. They are one game behind Thomas Jefferson's league-leading 4-0 mark.

Decatur was paced by senior midfielder Miguel Pardo, as the Spanish exchange student made two of the Gators' goals.

Scoring one goal apiece for Decatur were senior forward Sean Young and junior midfielder Sisto Pina.

Gator goalie Ryan Berg, a junior, recorded the shutout.

Decatur will be playing at home this Friday, as it entertains defending SPSL champion Lakes for a 7 p.m. match at Federal Way Memorial Field.

Gators fall to SPSL foes

The Decatur baseball team fell to 0-3 in South Puget Sound League play following an 18-3 loss to Federal Way Monday and a 4-2 defeat to Bethel Tuesday.

Pitcher Brady Nelson suffered the losses in both games for the Gators, who slipped to 2-3 overall.

Decatur allowed 13 walks and committed eight errors in the loss to Federal Way. Nelson, Tony Lockhart, Sur Johnson and Gregg Landskov pitched for Decatur against Federal Way.

The Gators took a 1-0 lead against Bethel in the top of the first inning on Tuesday, but the Braves answered with three runs in the bottom of the fifth and one in the sixth to pick up the win. Decatur added another run in the top of the seventh, but fell short.

Bethel outit Decatur, 6-5. Decatur only committed two errors against the Braves and Nelson threw a complete game.

Decatur will resume SPSL play this afternoon at 3:30 with a home game against Lakes and also is slated to host Tahoma on Monday in non-league action.

Carr captures first

A trio of local swimmers recently participated in a cultural exchange trip to China, where they swam in a USA-sanctioned race.

Mary Carr, a junior at Kennedy High School who lives in Federal Way, joined Decatur swimmers Vince Riggio (who attends Bellarmine) and David Kahler in the trip overseas. The three were part of a group of some 28 to 29 statewide swimmers who participated for Team Washington.

Carr is a year-round swimmer for the Highline Swim Club who attended Totem Junior High School and Star Lake Elementary prior to attending Kennedy. She has finished third in the Class AAA state swimming meet the past two years in the breaststroke.

Carr also did exceptionally well in the Hong Kong meet during the trip overseas. She captured first place in the 200 meter (short course) breaststroke with a time that is the best among the Pacific Northwest Swimming Association. She also finished second in the 100 meter breaststroke.

Carr, Riggio and Kahler were scheduled to return to Sea-Tac Airport Thursday. During their trip overseas, they were in Tokyo twice and also swam an exhibition race in Canton, China. The three also had the opportunity to tour the Olympic pool in Seoul, Korea.

Fighting the flames

TAR AND HEAT COMBINED to create a firestorm that blew flaming roofing materials into the air (upper left) as firefighters fought to douse a stubborn blaze in Auburn on Tuesday afternoon. Billows of black smoke could be seen from Federal Way for hours as it poured from Leatherback Industries Inc., a roofing materials company in central Auburn. Fire District 39 (Federal Way) was one of numerous fire departments that sent personnel and equipment to help put out the fire, which smoldered until late Tuesday evening. Half a dozen Federal Way firefighting vehicles, including four fire engines, and 22 firefighters helped back up Auburn firefighting forces at the scene. Although damage estimates were not definite yesterday, fire officials have estimated the loss at up to $2 million. The cause of the blaze had not yet been determined by deadline Thursday.

State statute could derail candidacy

from the election rolls. That would happen only if someone challenged that person's right to vote based on the fact that his or her civil rights had not been restored.

Neither the restoration of civil rights nor the removal of a felon from the voter registration rolls is automatic, Pearson said.

MASSEY, WHO grew up in Federal Way and still lives here with his wife and two daughters, has been a registered voter since 1982.

To receive a final discharge from the corrections system, a parolee must first receive a conditional release, which follows the successful completion of standard parole, Marsh said. A conditional release puts the parolee on inactive status, replacing monthly visits to a parole officer with yearly written reports.

Generally, after one year (longer for more serious crimes), the parolee is then eligible to petition the board in writing for his or her final discharge. If that is not done, the person remains on conditional release until the expiration of the maximum terms of his or her sentence, Marsh explained. In Massey's case, that could be 1995, he said.

Massey became eligible to apply for his final discharge last month, Marsh said, but sentence review board records show he has not requested or received that discharge. Once a request is received, an investigation to verify the parolee has met all the conditions of parole begins. That process can take several months, he added.

THE PRIMARY election for city council candidates is May 16.

Massey said he believed his civil rights had been restored after his 1986 release from custody. His initial suspended sentence and probation had been revoked, he said, because he left the state without permission in 1985 to visit his dying grandmother in Oregon. He was arrested there after a police officer stopped him for a traffic violation and ran his name through a computer, he said.

But court records state Massey was sent to prison for other reasons as well. They say that on Sept. 21, 1984, he was arrested in Seattle for impersonating a police officer when he stopped a car, displayed an authentic Washington State Patrol badge and frisked the occupants for weapons and commandeered their beer.

Massey denied he did that and said he was just along for a ride with co-workers when another man in the car in which he was riding pulled that stunt.

Court records state the King County Prosecutor's office accused Massey of then trying to flee the state after learning of his parole revocation hearing. That was based on his trying to buy an airline ticket the day before the hearing, Feb. 14, 1985, at Sea-Tac Airport with a bad check and using a Yakima firefighter's badge for identification. Massey said that incident never occurred.

ON MARCH 6, 1985, his suspended sentence officially was revoked in King County Superior Court, and on July 23 of that year his jail sentence was set at nine months. He served his time at the Washington State Corrections Center in Shelton, the Clallam County Jail and on work release in Tacoma.

Marsh said Massey initially was given his conditional release in April 1987, but that it was revoked in July 1987 for reasons he would not disclose. It was reinstated in March 1988.

Massey said he does not believe his criminal record should have any bearing on his race for the city council. He said he had a troubled childhood and that earlier arrests as a juvenile and young adult are behind him.

"There have been a lot of bad people in this world who have gone on to do great things and I think I can be one of them," Massey said.

He said he has not hidden his criminal record but that he is tired of the recent attention it has brought him. He would rather, he said, focus on campaign issues. In that vein, he said his past will help him as a candidate.

"I have more insight to the real world than most people," he said. He also has insight into the criminal justice system, he added, and crime is one of his campaign issues.

Other elected officials have had criminal histories, he pointed out, and Massey said he does not expect the electorate to show prejudice toward him because he was convicted of a crime.

"I want people to look at what I have done after that," he said, referring to lobbying efforts for families of people in prison and speaking engagements at local churches.

around the school's service area. Pachek said Greeves' varied experiences in the school district will make her a quick study as the new principal.

"She has a great deal of different experiences here, and that made her the strongest candidate for the job," Pachek said.

GREEVES' EXPERIENCE includes several years as a classroom teacher in local schools, including Adelaide and Wildwood elementary schools. The Federal Way resident became a basic skills specialist at Lake Grove Elementary in 1979, nine years after first coming to Federal Way, and eventually became coordinating teacher for the district's Gifted and Talented Education (GATE) classes.

For a time, both Greeves and Pachek were central administrators for the district, Pachek as curriculum director. Pachek eventually chose to take the principal's job at Sunnycrest.

Greeves was coordinator for the GATE program, and for health services in the mid-1980s, until last fall, when she temporarily took over the principalship of Woodmont Elementary School while George Kaess was ill.

More recently, she has served half-time as GATE coordinator and half-time as assistant to Sharon Stenerson, principal of

Gaye Greeves

Panther Lake Elementary.

GREEVES WAS the final choice from about 40 applicants for the Sunnycrest job, left open when Pachek was assigned to head the new school, which will meet next year at the old Mark Twain Elementary School, a year before the new school opens in West Campus.

The Sunnycrest job was open to candidates both inside and outside the Federal Way School District, said Superintendent Richard Harris.

"We simply selected the person we felt was best for the job," Harris added.

Greeves said she was attracted to the job because of the school's high degree of staff and parent support.

"That will help make this school a neat place to work," she said.

He is president of the Steel Lake Residents' Association and has served on Federal Way School District bond committees. Feutz has also been involved in planning for modernization at Wildwood.

"My feeling is that our community schools cannot do it alone. We need to establish services and links with the parents, the students and the communities. We need to provide something for these kids to do," he said.

"I like to say that if you're part of the steamroller of technology, you're part of the road," Feutz said.
